AERIAL ATTACK ON MARIN MOSQUITOES

Here is mosquito-eye view of airplane which sprayed DDT over Corte Madera marshlands this noon in the county's fight against the pests. The plane, owned by Medlock Dusters of Davis, swept over marshlands in Black Point this morning, then swung over the east Corte Madera tidelands. The aerial spray had been scheduled to start yesterday but was postponed because of strong winds. Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax braved a dose of DDT spray to snap this picture from under the buzzing plane.

Ike, Security Council In Berlin Huddle

President Calls Special Meeting; Talks Last 2 Hours

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower summoned the National Security Council to a special meeting today and discussed the Berlin crisis for nearly two hours.

The White House disclosed that the President had called security council members into his office for the conference after his regular meeeting with the group.

SPECIAL MEETING

White House Press secretary James C. Hagerty said "The President called a special meeting of the council to consider the evolving situation in Berlin and the broader question of Germany, which the President and the council have been following closely."

Asked whether the special meeting indicated an emergency, Hagerty said he was not going to elaborate on his statement.

Besides the President, the council included Vice President Richard Nixon, Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and Director Leo Hoegh of the Office of Civilian and Defense Mobilization. They are regular members of the council.

OTHERS PRESENT

Gen. Nathan P. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Director Allen Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency also attended today's special meeting.

Hagerty was asked why he was making the announcement in view of the fact that the White House normally makes no reports on National Security meetings.

"I do this because the President told me to put it out," Hagerty replied.

Asked if the announcement was made to indicate the President was gravely concerned about the Berlin situation, he declined to reply.

Nikita Hints Delay In Berlin Deadline

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he is prepared to postpone the May 27 deadline on Berlin—provided fruitful East-West negotiations are under way then.

Khrushchev said the May 27 date for turning control of access routes to West Berlin over to Communist East Germany might be postponed until June 27 "or maybe July 27. We are in no hurry."

He cited an old Russian saying: "Never count your chickens until autumn."

The Soviet Premier made his remarks in an impromptu speech at a luncheon given by the mayor of Leipzig.

The question was brought up by Ian Mikardo, member of the British House of Commons and a deputy chairman of the British Labor Party.

Mikardo asked Khrushchev what he meant to do about the May 27 deadline.

Khrushchev noted that the West has been calling the May 27 deadline an ultimatum.

"That is not true," Khrushchev said.

Then came his remarks about a postponement.

He warned again that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the West refuses to sign a peace treaty with all of Germany.

Khrushchev also warned the West against using force on the Communist world.

"Whoever bumps us with his elbow will break it," he said.

He said the Soviet demand for a peace treaty was made urgent by the fact that nearly 14 years have elapsed since the end of World War II.

School Fire In Arkansas Kills 21 Boys; Faubus Outraged

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Twenty-one boys perished in a fire that destroyed the main dormitory of a state training school for Negro boys at nearby Wrightsville today.

The doors of the big brick and frame building were locked and windows were barred with heavy metal screens.

Survivors had to kick their way through the tough double screens in order to get out of the blazing building. Sixty-eight boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were housed in the structure.

The bodies of 12 youths were found piled in a corner. Apparently they died in a vain attempt to break through a window.

Nine other bodies were found in the ruins.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who went to the scene as soon as he learned of the fire, declared it was inexcusable that doors were locked and no supervisor was on hand.

Angrily, the governor told newsmen: "If there had been an adult on duty with the keys at the time the fire started, I don't believe a single boy would have burned."

Faubus announced an investigation would be made to determine why the boys were locked up without arrangements for quick evacuation.

Firemen said they believed the fire may have started in a part of the dormitory away from the sleeping boys. Origin of the fire was undetermined, but an electrical storm was raging when the flames broke out about 4 a.m. and lightning may have struck the building.

Garbage Rate Hikes Asked In Mill Valley

A request that Mill Valley garbage rates be increased 15 cents per month to householders and 15 per cent to business houses was presented to the Mill Valley City Council last night.

No action was taken, pending a study of the request.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants told the council that the garbage collection franchise agreement between the city and the Mill Valley Garbage Co. runs until July, 1964.

COSTS INCREASE

In a letter to the council, Robert H. Andresen, attorney for the garbage company, pleaded increased operating costs as the reason for the request.

Residential rates are now $1.35, $1.60 and $2.10 monthly, depending upon elevation. These would be increased 15 cents under the proposed schedule.

Rates to business houses are $4.05 or $6.75 per month, depending upon frequency of collection and number of containers. Under the proposed schedule, these would be hiked to $4.65 and $7.75, respectively.

KEYED TO PROFITS

Almcrants noted that the existing agreement is keyed to profits of the company and that rates can be adjusted upward or downward depending upon that factor.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said he felt the council should have more detailed data on the company's operating costs and financial operations to evaluate the rate boost request.

Almcrants noted to the council that San Rafael attorney Albert E. Bagshaw, representing the Smith Brothers interests, operators of the garbage disposal dump at Burdell near the north county boundary, submitted a letter to the city last October saying that if the city decided to open the franchise, his clients would be interested in negotiating.

Mayor Huber and City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson were designated to study the existing agreement and the application.

'HEAT WAVE' CONTINUES; 86 IN HUB CITY

It was the hottest day of the year again yesterday in San Rafael.

The thermometer atop the city hall registered a maximum of 82 degrees — the same mark it reached the preceding day.

San Anselmo had it hotter, with 86 degrees registered at the firehouse there.

The noon reading of 72 in San Rafael today was four degrees below those of the same hour yesterday and Tuesday.

The prediction: More sun; little change in temperature through next Monday.

Rebels In Algeria Kill U.S. Newsman

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—U.S. consular officials said tonight an American newsman was killed and another injured by rebel gunfire near Tlemcen in Algeria last night.

The officials said French authorities identified the dead American newsman as Homer Flint Kellems, but gave no address.

The injured American was identified as Will Hobbs, "from Arkansas." He suffered serious abdomen and chest wounds and is in a hospital at Tlemcen. The French said there was good hope for his recovery.

A German with the Americans was killed. He was identified as Airele Raimund, a student interpreter.

French military headquarters said the three men had entered Algeria from Morocco by car, and that it was swept by gunfire in the region of Tlemcen, about 35 miles east of the Moroccan frontier.

As far as is known, these are the first Americans to be killed or wounded in the more than four-year-old rebellion. There are many American oil and helicopter technicians in Algeria, besides diplomatic personnel.

West Coast Satellite Goes In Orbit

INGLEWOOD (AP)—Discoverer I, whose fate has been a mystery since it was launched last Saturday, achieved its goal of becoming the first polar-orbiting earth satellite, the Air Force announced today.

The ballistic missle division said that since blastoff from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 41 tracking reports have been received. All, it added, coincided closely with the predicted orbit.

WEEK OF SUSPENSE

Thus ended nearly a week of suspense over whether the 1,300 pound cylinder, second heaviest satellite launched by the United States, entered orbit.

After a perfect launch, signals were heard for a few minutes. But tracking stations at various points on the earth were unable to receive the expected radio signals on schedule.

Sporadic signals have since been received.

AIR FORCE STATEMENT

The Air Force said:

"It is believed the sporadic nature of the radio signals being received from Discoverer I result from the continuously changing altitude of the satellite which consists of a 19-foot-long second-stage rocket as it moves through space.

"Although it appears that the radio beacon is transmitting full time, the highly directional signals are only occasionally being beamed toward the earth."

Data indicates the orbit's highest point is 519 miles from earth, lowest point 176 miles, and it completes a circuit every 95.5 minutes.

Sun Satellite Breaks Russian Radio Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's Pioneer IV space robot, sweeping toward a permanent orbit around the sun, today broke the long-distance radio transmission record claimed by Russia for its Lunik.

Officials at the Jodrell Bank radio-telescope tracking station reported they received radio signals from the U.S. space vehicle at a distance of 305,000 miles.

The Pioneer signal later was picked up by the Goldstone tracking facility in California's Mojave Desert. Goldstone reported the vehicle was 306,000 miles from the earth and traveling at 4,250 miles an hour.

The Russians claimed to have received signals from their Lunik satellite at a distance of 300,000 miles.

The Pioneer, which soared past the moon yesterday, already is orbiting the sun, but will move into its permanent orbit on March 17.

Government scientists said that for a period "comparable to the life of our universe" the gold-plated, 20-inch long instrument package will continue to revolve around the sun every 382 days.

The man-made planet's orbit, much more elongated than that of the earth, will vary from 91,744,000 to 105,829,000 miles from the sun. The earth, in an almost circular orbit, averages 93 million miles from the sun.

Pioneer IV made its closest approach to the moon at 2:24 p.m. (PST) yesterday. Dr. Homer J. Stewart, planning director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the pass "grazed the moon's gravitational field."

However, the robot did not come close enough to attain any new information about the moon. Its chief contribution to science apparently will be further data on the two radiation belts that have been discovered within 12,000 miles of the earth.

Henry Lopez Quits As Tax Appraiser

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Henry P. Lopez, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for secretary of state in the November general election, resigned today as a state inheritance tax appraiser.

He took office only last Feb. 16 and had not formally undertaken the job, according to State Controller Alan Cranston, who said Lopez cited "personal reasons" for the resignation.

Nationwide Counterfeit Ring Smashed; 25 Held

CHICAGO (AP) — The Secret Service said today it has confiscated more than $750,000 in counterfeit $100 bills and arrested 25 persons in smashing a nationwide fake money ring.

Agents seized $726,200 in fake bills before they could be put into circulation, said Paul J. Paterni, head of the Secret Service Chicago office.

Another $25,000 passed in 22 states has been recovered.

Paterni said two Chicago ringleaders of the operation were seized last night.

However, he said the printing equipment of the gang was not found.

Paterni said, "We have recovered all of the money passed through department stores and other merchants."

He said he did not know how much of the spurious currency was not accounted for.

Paterni said much of the counterfeit money was purchased by undercover agents, without actual payment of cash, in consignment deals for which a price of $9 per $100 was agreed upon.

The Chicagoans named by Paterni as head of the counterfeit ring are Alphonso Amabile, 40, and William Rabiolo, 39.

4½-Year Hunt Tracks Down Man Who Deserted Family

A former Marin laborer and carpenter, wanted for failing to support his wife and daughter, realized today the law has a long arm and as long a memory.

James Wilbur McDaniels, 39, was in jail in Mesa, Ariz., today. He deserted his family about 11 years ago.

Investigator William Bemiss of the Marin County district attorney's office, who has been pursuing the elusive McDaniels for four and one-half years, announced that he finally nabbed his man yesterday.

McDaniels will be returned to face a felony non-support charge in Marin County. Bemiss said the man's wife and daughter, now 13, have drawn several thousand dollars in Marin welfare funds since 1953.

Investigator Bemiss said he got word last August that McDaniels was working on the North Fork Dam project out of Estecada, Ore. He asked the district attorney of that county to get the man, but McDaniels vanished. Then last December, Bemiss tracked him to Jerome, Ariz. But when the Marin warrant got there, McDaniels had skipped.

Yesterday, Federal Bureau of Investigation officials told Bemiss a man by that name had been picked up for having stolen property 10 days ago in Mesa, Ariz., and had been released after paying a fine. Bemiss contacted Mesa police by radio and had McDaniels arrested.

Man Wrongly Accused Of Rape Sues

A young San Rafael mechanic, picked up last year on a rape suspicion but freed later as the wrong man, is suing for $50,000 damages in Marin Superior Court.

William Donald Johnson, 22, says he was arrested unlawfully with a warrant on March 3 last year by the then Sheriff David Menary and his men and held for 25½ hours before release.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Johnson after the victim, a 37-year-old Mill Valley woman, had "positively" identified Johnson as the man who had driven her to Shoreline Highway and forced her to submit to perverted acts. Johnson insisted he was at the Marin Bowl at the time and passed a lie test with flying colors. The woman, after hearing Johnson's voice, admitted she was mistaken, and the man was released.

Johnson is suing for $25,000 compensatory damages for being "humiliated, degraded, and slandered." He also wants $25,000 exemplary damages.

He is suing the County of Marin, former Sheriff Menary, Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert, Inspector Carl Sears, the woman who accused him, and 10 John Does.

Marin Labor Hears Lt. Gov. Anderson

Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson in Marin last night called for labor support for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax program as necessary to "build a solid foundation" for California's future.

The lieutenant governor spoke at the annual installation dinner of the Marin County Labor Council at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Calling his speech "The New Look in Sacramento," Anderson told the 200 Labor Council members and guests: "Governor Brown's program, following exactly his promises made during his campaign, has been one of putting one brick of courage and reason after another . . . to build the foundation for the state to meet its needs and to grow."

All of the program—including that part which would add $256,600,000 annually to California tax bills—needs organized labor's support, he said. "I think you know that the special interest groups affected by the governor's tax program are ganging up on it," he declared.

The Los Angeles County Democrat said he normally has opposed all consumer taxes, such as beer and cigarette taxes proposed by Brown. But, he said, he is wholeheartedly supporting the governor's tax and budget proposal because "from an over-all point of view, it's sound, it's reasonable, it's courageous."

Water, taxes and budget are the three most important items of "Pat" Brown's program, said the lieutenant governor.

He called Brown's water program "the first real plan to solve the state's biggest problem."

Endorsing Baown's campaign call for laws to curb abuses of organized labor's rights by dishonest union officials, Anderson said.

'SELFISH FEW'

"The time has come under the leadership of a governor that is friendly to labor, through legislation passed by a Legislature that is friendly to labor, to enact laws eliminating the future possibility of a selfish few to bring discredit on the entire labor movement."

He said that "for the first time in California history" the majority of the legislators are "true friends of labor."

Enumerating pro-labor measures introduced in the Legislateur, he stressed particularly the bill for a Fair Employment Practices Commission.

BROWN'S REQUEST

"Governor Brown asked for the FEPC bill in his inaugural address," the speaker pointed out. "At his request, the bill, AB 91, carries under the author's name the statement, 'introduced at the request of the governor.' This is the first time a governor has so acted.

"At the hearing a couple of weeks ago, I was the first witness called upto testify for the passage of AB 91. This I understand is also the first time a state constitutional officer has appeared before a legislative committee in behalf of an FEPC bill."

Anderson was introduced by Leonard H. Wessell, outgoing president of the labor council and Carpenters Union member from Larkspur.

United Meat Dept. To Be Open Nights

United Market in San Rafael announced yesterday afternoon that its meat department would remain open evenings and on Sundays, thus removing a bane of all-hour grocery shoppers.

Meat department hours at the store on Third street between Irwin and Grand avenue in San Rafael will be open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Fridays until 10 p.m., and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The butchers, covered by a contract with Butchers Union Local 115 in San Francisco, are paid time and a half for longer than an eight-hour day. They are paid $2 extra if their eight-hour shift runs into "unconventional hours," said a union spokesman.

Unconventional hours are defined by the contract as anytime on Sunday or before 8 a.m. or after 6 p.m. on a weekday. The contract requires that a butcher be on duty when meat is sold, even if it is already packaged.

Ben Saccone of Wissman's United Markets said decision to offer fresh meat for sale during evening hours and Sunday was reached in response to public demand, particularly by shoppers from outlying parts of Marin County who said they were unable to shop at the San Rafael store except in the evening or Sunday.

Albert De Mello, member of Retail Clerks Union 1119 from Corte Madera, was installed as 1959 president of the Marin County Labor Council at a dinner meeting in Rickey's Rancho Rafael last night attended by some 200 unionists, their wives and guests.

De Mello took over the presidency from Leonard Wessell, Larkspur carpenter. Wessell, a camera fan, was presented with a tripod and telephoto lens by the council.

PRESENTED PIPE

Harold Rossman of Fairfax, editor of the North Bay Labor News, was presented with a new pipe.

Installing officer Lowell Nelson of Vallejo, new chief of the housing division of the state Department of Industrial Relations, in a brief speech before the installation called for labor support for the program of that division.

Frye of Electrical Workers Union 551, Fred MacDonald of Typographical Union 729 and Warren Ewing of Teachers Federation 1077, trustees.

Rail Car Loadings Decline In 1958

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Carloadings on the nation's Class I railroads declined 14.9 per cent in 1958 to 30,206,494 cars fro 35,500,148 in 1957, according to the Association of American Railroads.

Foes Of Civic Center Broaden Campaign

A group of commuting Marin taxpayers who joined in opposition to the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed county civic center broadened its attack yesterday to include county spending in general.

The group, in an organizational meeting at the Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. meeting room in San Francisco, decided to try to bring to a vote of the people a proposal for an ordinance to limit expenditure by the county board of supervisors in any one year to the amount collected from taxes in that year.

Such a measure was advocated last summer by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. The association tried to place it on the ballot, but it was ruled unconstitutional.

John W. Gottschalk of Fairfax, who was elected co-chairman at yesterday's meeting, charged that Marin County created the office of county counsel to give legal advice and handle civil suits "because District Attorney Weissich opposed the civic center."

Weissich, informed of Gottschalk's charge, called it "an absurdity."

"I handled the condemnation suit to acquire the civic center site," pointed out the district attorney. "I filed and won court action to establish the right of the county to locate the civic center outside of San Rafael.

"My private, personal opinions on this controversy have no bearing. As far as official opinion, it's none of my business—it's up to the board of supervisors."

Elected co-chairmen with Gottschalk were Claudius A. DesChamps of Sausalito and Eugene Neuschwander of Greenbrae.

One man employed by Bank of America was among the more than two score at the meeting. Others were all Fireman's Fund employees.

John R. Streiff, who was elected secretary - treasurer, said the group is trying to broaden its membership to include people who work as well as live in Marin and commuters working at other San Francisco companies.

H. C. Little Co. Adds Line Of Gas-Fired Boilers

H. C. Little Burner Co., Inc., expanding San Rafael manufacturing firm, has added a complete line of gas-fired boilers to its list of products.

Many new features are built into the line, the company reports.

A draft hood with a new vertical-to-horizontal design reduces over-all height and permits basement installation with six-foot ceiling.

A new aluminized steel flue-collector resists corrosion from all gases. It is tightly sealed in a cement-filled groove to prevent gas leakage.

Patented staggered fins on sides of sections present maximum heating surface area to the action of the hot flue gases.

County Puts Pay Raises In Budget

Proposed salary raises for about half of Marin County's 640 employees were ordered included in the 1959-60 preliminary county budget yesterday by the board of supervisors.

But mere inclusion of suggested pay hikes, totaling about $100,000, is no guarantee that all will be granted or that some positions not presently recommended for increases will not get them.

The board members made this clear by indicating they will take a long, hard look at the county salary situation between now and budget time.

Any salary changes approved by the supervisors before printing of the preliminary budget will be listed on supplementary sheets to be inserted in the printed budget book.

Still more changes are likely to be made between adoption of the preliminary budget and approval of the final budget. County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said he hopes the final budget will be adopted by June 25, in accordance with a time schedule set up last fall.

Pay hikes recommended by Jensen would bring an overall boost of about 3 per cent in county salary costs. The recommendations are based on a survey he made of pay schedules for key positions in six surrounding counties. Cost-of-living factors were not considered.

The supervisors agreed with Jensen yesterday that a second survey should be made of salaries paid by the other counties as of next July 1, when the new fiscal year will start. If those counties have granted some additional raises, the Marin board will have to mull the possibility of doing likewise.

Modern Wagon Train Pushes Off For Alaska

DETROIT (UPI)—Wagons roll! The signal was given early this morning and a 15-vehicle caravan carrying an estimated 50 men, women and children and all their worldly possessions, began a modern-day wagon train trek to Alaska.

The Detroit 59ers were on their way to a new life—to settle in the Kenai Peninsula of Alaska and homestead 160 acres of the government's 150,000 acres of land there.

A rising sun struggled valiantly through haze on the horizon to give its blessing on the hardy group of modern pioneers as they began their long journey.

4,000-MILE TREK

A month from now they expect to be building their new homes in Alaska, more than 4,000 miles from Detroit.

Ronald Jacobowitz, 23, leader of the mass migration, said he won't know until the last minute how many persons will be in the first caravan.

"I'd say we'll have 15 to 18 families," he said. "Others will make the trip later after they have sold their homes here and straighten out personal problems."

IN MOVING VAN

Jacobowitz will drive a 1934 moving van. His wife, Patricia, and 20-month-old daughter, Sandra, will ride in one of the six new station wagons in the caravan. The station wagons are being delivered to new car dealers in Alaska.

"We've sold our own cars," Jacobowitz said. "There won't be any need for them because there aren't any roads where we plan to settle."

FOOD SUPPLY

The homesteaders are taking a year's supply of food with them, plus tools, furniture, clothing and farm supplies.

When they reach the virgin Kenai Peninsula, they will live in tents until their new log cabins are built.

"Then we'll have to clear the land for tilling," Jacobowitz said. "There are 150,000 acres on the peninsula — plenty of land for every one."

Chiesa, 46, has been with the department for 20 years. He was second in rank to Chief Kelly for about 11 years until he resigned last week to run against his boss.

Pt. Reyes Trustees Await Appointment

Trustees of the Pt. Reyes School District did not meet last night as scheduled because no one has yet been appointed to fill board vacancy created by the recent death of board member George P. Nunes, reported trustee James L. Spaletta of Inverness today.

A meeting will be called as soon as the county superintendent of schools makes the appointment, said Spaletta.

Hoy's Opens New Display Rooms Today

Opening of Hoy's two new display rooms of stereophonic sound equipment and a showroom for color television is set for this evening at the firm's expanded San Rafael store at 1133 Fourth street.

The expansion means an additional 24,000 square feet and an investment of about $25,000. Owners of the business are Ralph and Thelma Hoy, who have a second outlet at 550 San Anselmo avenue in San Anselmo.

Proprietors of the building are David and Nathan Pugatch. The expansion has added a rear entrance from the San Rafael city parking lot at Third and A streets.

The San Rafael Hoy's will remain open until 9 o'clock this evening and prizes will be given away to visitors. "All you have to do is walk in," said Mrs. Hoy.

An expansion sale of television sets and phonographs has been in progress at the San Rafael outlet and continues this week.

New Muir Beach Water Setup Eyed

Plans for a complete new water distribution system covering the area currently served by the Muir Beach water system were presented last night to directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District by member John Leslie Smith.

Chairman Charles A. Borden announced the plans would be studied and cost estimates prepared "so that we can have all consumers at next month's meeting to discuss methods for financing improvements."

A chemical purifier is contemplated as a part of the project, Borden said.

Gould Testifies In Treason Hearing

Randall C. Gould of Mill Valley was called to testify before a federal grand jury in San Francisco yesterday in the government's treason case against John W. and Sylvia Powell and Julian Schuman.

Gould was publisher of the Shanghai Post and Mercury during part of the time the Powells and Schuman operated the Shanghai Monthly Review under the Communist government. He claims the Reds forced him out of business but the Powells continued their publication sometime longer.

Sedition charges against the Powells and Schuman were dropped in U.S. District Court recently after the judge remarked the case appeared to be one of treason rather than sedition. A treason case is now being prepared.

U.S. Asks Iraq To Pay For Killing Burns

The United States State Department has claimed compensation from the government of Iraq for the families of Eugene Burns and two other American citizens killed in last year's Iraqi revolution, it was announced yesterday in Washington.

Officials said they would not disclose the amount of compensation sought until negotiations start in Baghad with Iraqui officials.

Burns was in Baghdad in connection with the Holy Land Foundation, which he headed, and his work for Middle East oil and tourist promotion interests, when killed last July 14. Also killed were Robert Alcock and George Colley.

Oakland Hiker, 17, Trapped On Cliff At McClure Beach

A 17-year-old hiker from Oakland, trapped between pounding seas and a 300-foot cliff near McClure's Beach, was led to safety last night by two Coast Guardsmen from Pt. Reyes lifeboat station.

The victim, Jack Tilman, had been hiking in the area with an unidentified friend when he found himself trapped halfway down a 300-foot cliff about 6 p.m. His friend went for help.

Chief Boatswain's Mate N. J. Harpin and Commissaryman 2/c Milo Wallage threated their way down the cliff and found Tilman had somehow made it down to the narrow beach below. The Coast Guardsmen led him back up the cliff and to safety.

"He may have been frightened but was not hurt," said Wallage.

Mrs. Amrich said she sat late at the console because her husband refused to turn off the lights so she could sleep.

Manslaughter Defense Calls Witnesses Up

The defense called witnesses today in the preliminary hearing for Henry Picard, 62, of Kent Woodlands, president of the Burgermeister Brewing Corp., who is charged with felony drunken driving and manslaughter.

Picard is charged in connection with the death of Emrys Williams, 52, Sonoma bank manager, in an auto collision on the Golden Gate Bridge Jan. 8. The hearing opened yesterday before Judge Lenore Underwood in San Francisco Municipal Court.

California Highway Patrolmen Blair Barkley and T. Allyn Bragg testified yesterday that they smelled alcohol on Picard's breath and watched him walk unsteadily after the car he was driving collided with one driven by Williams. They said they believed Picard was too drunk to drive.

Patrolman Bragg said Picard's eyes were "bloodshot and watery." Patrolman Barkley quoted Picard as saying, "I was on the wrong side."

San Rafael attorney Howard K. Morehouse testified that just before the collision he saw a car approaching him in the inside southbound lane as he was driving south.

Arthur R. Sauter, of San Rafael said that just before the accident he saw a car pass him northbound in the southbound lanes.

The four witnesses agreed that they could see the white dividing lines on the bridge pavement despite the fact it was raining.

Orrick Won't Take Education Post

SACRAMENTO (AP)—William H. Orrick Jr. eliminated himself from consideration for appointment to the state Board of Education yesterday.

The San Francisco attorney, nominated for the post 11 days ago, ran into the question of conflict of interests. He is a partner in a law firm which serves as bond counsel for the state Board of Education.

"Despite the fact that in my best judgment there is no conflict of interest—legal or moral—I have nevertheless concluded that this development has created a serious barrier to my acceptance of the appointment," Orrick told Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Kaye Hunt of 20 Eucalyptus road, Belvedere, told Police Matron Joann Walsh a set of golf clubs worth $140, other golf equipment, a badminton racquet worth $20, clothes and four albums of folk dance records were stolen from the trunk of her convertible, parked while she was at work.

Miss Churchill Again Fined As Drunk

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (AP) — Actress Sarah Churchill was carried into court by four policemen today and found guilty of being drunk and disorderly.

Shoeless, and clad in a leopard skin coat, blue slacks and white socks, the 44-year-old daughter of Sir Winston Churchill was fined 40 shillings ($5.60).

Miss Churchill was booked in her married name, Sarah Beauchamp.

Her husband, society photographer Anthony Beauchamp, died of an overdose of sleeping tablets in 1957.

She was arrested this morning after a quarrel with a taxicab driver.

When her name was called to answer the charge, she scuffled with court attendants. Finally, the four policemen, with two women court attendants escorting them, carried her into the dock.

On Jan. 16, 1958, Miss Churchill was fined $50 in Malibu, Calif., on a charge of being drunk in public.

ACTOR'S DEAD IF SEEN ON THIS TV SHOW

San Quentin Prison's closed circuit television station opened last night with the most monotonous program in video history.

The camera was focused continually on a 12-foot gap in the prison wall, which was made to give access to construction trucks. It is closed by a steel gate and floodlighted at night.

The channel's only viewers were sentries who watched on two 12-inch television sets with orders to shoot any "actor" seen making an exit.

The television will save money by replacing an officer during night hours, Associate Warden W. O. Achuff explained. Guards are nearby during the day, but at night the closest one is about 200 feet away.

Tam District To Have Summer School Again

Trustees of the Tamalpais High School District last night authorized the reinstatement of summer school in the district's three high schools and approved a request for federal aid in the purchase of $19,000 in language teaching equipment.

Board Chairman Howard I. McGill at the close of the meeting announced he plans to file for re-election in the May 19 trustee election.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle told the board that summer school this year will be supervised by a dean of students at each school instead of by one overall director.

Reinstatement of the summer school was one of the pledges made by the board before the recent successful tax rate increase election.

The board authorized district filing for National Defense Act federal aid to purchase language teaching laboratory equipment after a report by Robert Torrey, director of curriculum, citing its value. Under terms of the act the federal government would pay one half of the $19,000 cost.

The board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Gale Strombom, senior district bookkeeper, who resigned because of a change of residence.

The board approved an accreditation appraisal of district schools in the 1950-'60 school year by the California Assn. of Secondary School Administrators. Cost of the appraisal was estimated at about $400 per school.

Miller Would Equalize Pay Of Retired Vets

WASHINGTON—Legislation to equalize pensions of retired members of the armed services has been introduced by Congressman Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera).

The bill, H. R. 4215, would base retirement pay on current pay schedules, correcting an inequity that arose last year when a new military pay law was adopted. Miller's bill represents a co-sponsorship along with a number of other representatives and senators.

"Failure of the Military Pay Act of 1958 to keep faith with those who have served our country in time of war and in peace has resulted in disillusionment among both active and retired members of our armed forces," Miller declared.

He said that an equitable retirement system — equalizing retirement pay for all those of equal grade and length of service—has historically been a great incentive to tenure in military service.

Last year's law established new retirement schedules for those on active duty, but made no provision for those who had retired previously.

The new bill would affect a number of retired members of the armed services who live in Miller's 1st District.

Phone Company Boasts Good Safety Record

Employees of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Marin County last year lost time in a work accident only once in every 1.4 millon work hours, reported manager W. W. Miller.

He added that there was only one accident for every 100,000 miles driven in telephone company vehicles. Both figures represented an improvement over the 1957 record.

Residents Will Enjoy Planes, Pilot Predicts

Residents of Gallinas Village "actually will come to enjoy having planes overhead" if a private airport is developed on the Smith ranch north of Gallinas Creek, it was argued today by private pilot Jack Horn, who faced opponents of the airport proposal on the KTIM radio program "Marin Sounding Board."

Horn and Robert de Young, an employee at the Smith ranch who would operate the airport, argued in favor of the airport. Opposing it were Gallinas Village residents Eugene Campbell and Robert Tanem, who protested the port would prove a hazard to residents and tend to decrease property values. The program will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

FEARS COLLISION

"We're not opposed to all air traffic in Marin County," declared Tanem, "but we feel we have a right to demand a reasonably safe area in which to raise our families. We don't want to come home and find the maimed bodies of our wives and children after a Piper Cub has collided with an F104 from Hamilton Air Force Base.

"We thought the issue was a dead one after the board of supervisors turned it down."

Horn said airport advocates intend to bring the matter up again for a possible reverse decision by the board.

"We had assumed that the board of supervisors would have backed up their planning commission, which recommended the site for the airport," he declared

FALSE RUMORS

"The people have been badly misinformed on the flight pattern planned," said de Young. "They have reard false rumors that there would be commercial planes and jets landing on the runway."

The airport would include a 3,000-foot runway and would serve only "10 or 20 light airplanes at the moment," de Young said. "As time goes by, a few more might be added."

Campbell declared: "My main objection is to the suggested use of the land, not so much to the flight pattern. An airport there is not compatible with the best possible growth of the area."

Tanem questioned the assertion that the airport would remain a small one.

"If this is to be nothing but a small airport, then why do you need radio control of aircraft (as was reported by de Young) and why do you need a 3,000-foot runway for just 10 airplanes?" he demanded.

DECEPTIVE STUFF, THIS PLATE GLASS

George E. Minahen Jr., of Fairfax, a driver for North Bay Lumber Co. of Corte Madera, made what seemed to be a routine delivery yesterday at Steele's new Patio Shop in San Rafael.

Minahen delivered his goods and walked out the open door.

But the door wasn't open. It wasn't even a door. It was a newly installed plate glass window, freshly polished.

Minahen, only scratched, although one lens of his spectacles was broken and his watch crystal cracked, got back in his truck and drove away, muttering.

False Arrest Suit Case Goes To Jury

A Marin Superior Court jury went into a huddle today to decide whether a Fairfax nurse should get $35,000 for damages she says she suffered when she was arrested at the Tamalpais Convalescent Home in Santa Venetia last year.

The jury got the case this morning after a two-day trial before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli.

Mrs. Virginia Smith, a registered nurse, is suing the former operators of the convalescent home, Emil W. Yanke, his wife, Lydia, and their daughter, Erma V. Baker. Mrs. Smith, represented by attorney T. G. Fitzgerald, charges she was falsely arrested and wrongfully imprisoned on March 4, 1958.

She alleges that she was on business at the home when sheriff's deputies jailed her on the complaint of the Yankes.

Tried for disturbing the peace in Marin Municipal Court, Mrs. Smith was acquitted. She then filed a false arrest suit against the convalescent home operators.

Attorney Lawrence Wright is defending Mr. and Mrs. Yanke and their daughter.

Union, PT&T Getting Nearer To Agreement

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Union and company negotiators planned to meet this afternoon in another attempt to avert a threatened strike by 17,500 Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. workers in Northern California and Nevada.

Negotiations yesterday reportedly found the two sides still about $4 a week apart, although agreement was reached to extend the contract covering the employees until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The original contract expired last week, but has been extended several times since.

The presidents of the various locals of the Communications Workers of America involved in the dispute met last night and gave the CWA's bargaining committee a vote of confidence.

A company spokesman said PT&T had raised its offer of wage boosts from 50 cents to a dollar in some classifications and had offered to grant four-week vacations after 30 years service.

Representatives of the CWA countered by lowering wage demands from an original $6 to $5 a week across the board for plant workers and $4 a week for traffic employees.

Federal Conciliator Ralph C. Patterson is sitting in on the negotiation sessions.

Firemen Free Bird Trapped In Sign

The plight of a little English sparrow caught in the metal flashing of the Farrington Jones real estate office in San Anselmo yesterday afternoon attracted a crowd of would-be rescuers, but no one had a long enough ladder until the fire department arrived.

The sparrow had caught its leg in the metal edge at the top of the building's false front and was fluttering vainly to free itself. Its mate was darting around close by in a protective manner.

The fire department ladder did the trick. Asst. Chief Frank Sousa climbed up and gently bent the metal to free the bird. The frightened sparrow flew away.

4-H Members Receive Funds To Aid Projects

Three Novato 4-H Club members late yesterday received checks that will buy animals for their livestock projects, as a feature event of 4-H Club Week in Marin County.

The checks were presented by Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president, in behalf of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. They went to Joan Marzell, Jon Pronzini and Bill Wright, all members of the Novato Aggies 4-H Club.

Jon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reno Pronzini of 1432 Indian Valley road, will use his $100 check to purchase a feeder steer, under terms of the award by the savings and loan firm. The steer is to be exhibited at the Sonoma County Fair in July.

Each of the $50 checks awarded to the other two winners will be used to purchase four feeder lambs. Joan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marzell of 1459 Indian Valley road; Bill, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright of 2478 Vineyard road.

The awards were offered by the savings and loan firm to encourage youths in raising beef cattle and sheep. Candidates were nominated by community 4-H Club leaders.

Observance of 4-H Club Week will conclude with a ham dinner to be served by the four clubs in Novato at the Marion School from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday, to benefit a summer camp fund.

Opening event of the week was a 4-H parade in Novato last Saturday.

On Monday evening, the Pt. Reyes-Olema 4-H Club hosted a potluck dinner for parents and families. Cooking project members of the Pt. Reyes club cooked the meat loaf and beef stew for the dinner. Boy members of the cooking project baked cakes. Other members helped serve.

Adeline Arndt and Linda Gondola gave two cooking demonstrations following the dinner, which was attended by more than 100 persons. Club member Betty Horick presided.

In San Rafael, window displays prepared by the 70 members of the San Rafael Community 4-H Club are calling attention to 4-H Week. They have been placed in windows of Dolan's Fabric Center, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin.

In Novato, three clubs have placed window displays in Pini Hardware Store, Novato Saddlery Co. and Novato Pet Store.

A livestock exhibit will be shown through Saturday in the lobby of the Novato branch of the First National Bank, featuring (at different times) sheep, a calf and other animals. All four Novato 4-H Clubs are participating in the exhibit: Novato Aggies, Novato Valley, Miwok and Novato Jets.

MRS. DUNCAN ON STAND — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan is seen on witness stand during Ventura trial in which she is accused of plotting the murder of her son's wife. She burst into tears from time to time under questioning. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Duncan Denies Witness' Allegation

VENTURA (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, accused of loving her son so much that she arranged the slaying of his bride rather than share him, denied from the witness stand today that she had slept with him since adolescence.

Her 30-year-old son, Frank, 30, stared stonily ahead as his 54-year-old mother's attorney asked her:

"During Frank's adolescence, young manhood or manhood, did he ever sleep with you?"

The courtroom crowd gasped. Then Mrs. Duncan replied:

"Never. No, he never."

"Frank always had a separate bed or bedroom, is that correct?" asked attorney S. Ward Sullivan.

"That is right."

Mrs. Emma Short, testified before the grand jury which indicted Mrs. Duncan that she believed the mother and son slept together as, she said, there was only one bed in their apartment.

Sullivan next asked Mrs. Duncan about her quarters in jail here, and she burst into tears.

"It's very narrow, I have my bed on one side. There is a steel door and a chain on the door and they shove my food under the door."

Mrs. Duncan yesterday testified of her strong mother's love of Frank.

To keep that love, the sometimes weeping woman testified, she tried to kill herself. She even plotted to kidnap her son and hold him by force.

But, she insisted, she did not go so far as to plan the murder of her son's bride, Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, as the prosecution contends.

Two Charges Eliminated In Novato 'Mau Mau' Brawl

Everyone has calmed down in the all-woman brawl that raged on Novato's main street early yesterday.

After tempers had cooled, and three Novato women had spent the night in jail, the district attorney looked over the situation and decided the only charge filed would be disturbing the peace.

Two sheriff's deputies, badly outnumbered by the battling women, had booked one of them on suspicion of resisting arrest as well as drunkenness. But the drunkenness and resisting arrest charges were never filed.

Scheduled to appear in court this afternoon were Miss Irene Azevedo, 29, a milker-landscaper living on Indian Valley road; Miss Mary L. Beltramini, 25, and Mrs. Ollie Birdwell, 31, both unemployed waitresses living at 1120 Vallejo street. All three are free on bail put up by bail bondsman James Stragnola.

Sheriff's deputies Arthur Wiggins and Bruce McLeod said the street fight apparently started when Miss Beltramini called another woman a "Mau Mau." Friends of the other woman rose to her defense. Miss Beltramini's backers rallied to her aid.

Battle lines shifted back and forth all the way from Black Point Inn to the Plush Horse bar and the center of Grant avenue in Novato.

Southlanders Give Terms In Water Dispute

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Southern California legislators today sent Gov. Edmund G. Brown their proposed terms for settling the state's water problem.

The terms:

1. Adoption of a constitutional amendment validating state water contracts.

2. A bond issue tied to the amendment and of sufficient size to complete the Feather River Project to the Mexican border.

PLEDGING FUND

3. Pledging the entire investment fund for water development, as advocated by the governor.

Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D-Compton) said the Southern California caucus, of which he is chairman, approved the first two points unanimously and the third by a strong vote.

The caucus, representing 47 of the 120 votes in the two houses, met privately late yesterday.

Porter, who planned to convey the results to the governor, said it's his feeling that Brown looked favorably on the constitutional amendment and its tied-in bond issue in recent discussions with him.

ACCEPTANCE IN DOUBT

It still was not clear, however, that either the governor or the pro-northern Senate would accept the southern program.

Brown has said repeatedly he didn't think a constitutional amendment was necessary. He emphasized that any state water contracts could be broken only by approval of both the Legislature and governor.

Porter said he had no idea whether the Senate, which blocked all water rights amendments in 1957 and 1958, would accept the south's program.

Council Puzzles Why It Levied Subdivision Fee

The objective of Mill Valley's year-old ordinance requiring a $300-per-acre subdivision fee to cover possible drainage expenses developed into a mystery at last night's city council meeting.

The matter came to a head when George P. Roemer, developer of the Rancho Las Lomas tract above the municipal golf course, protested that the charge should be based on density rather than acreage.

City Engineer Albert H. Siemer, who urged adoption of the measure last year when development of the Garden Hills section was under consideration, said the purpose was to build up a fund which would be available to relieve drainage problems.

He noted that successive tract activity would "accelerate" runoff to the point that lower areas would require larger storm drains or other corrective measures.

Mayor Robert D Huber expressed surprise. He said he thought the purpose was to create drainage facilities in the immediate areas of the subdivisions.

Councilman George W. Blackwell, however, accepted Siemer's interpretation of the ordinance. He claimed council minutes would sustain the point.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks suggested a possible solution might lie in levying some sort of charge against lots as building permits are issued. Councilman Elizabeth Rodman said, "Requiring a subdivider to do this is just as logical as asking him to put in streets and sewers."

The matter was put over to the March 18 meeting for a study of the minutes.

The council deliberated on the wisdom or relaxing its eight-year-old ordinance which forbids operation of a business on a 24-hour basis without specific council permission.

Paul Pickart had petitioned for permission to operate an "around the clock" unattended self-service laundry in the Mill Valley Shopping Center on Miller avenue. Pickart told the council he operated a chain of such coin-operated establishments and "a survey shows that 8 per cent of my business comes from customers who wash between midnight and 5 a.m."

"I don't know why," he concluded.

Police Chief James R. McGowan recommended against the operation. "Being unattended, it would likely become a hangout for undesirables," he claimed.

By a 3-2 vote, the council denied Pickart's application, after Mrs. Rodman declared, "The lack of all-night grocery stores and other businesses helps to maintain the quiet, home-loving, peaceful town we have and we want to keep it that way."

Also at last night's Mill Valley City Council meeting:

1. The council continued to April 1 further consideration of the proposed Bolsa avenue assessment district.

2. City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson was authorized to prepare an amendment to the dog licensing ordinance permitting the city to issue licenses to dog owners not residents of Mill Valley.

3. Mayor Huber appointed a committee of Councilmen Rodman, Blackwell and Sheeks, plus City Manager A. E. Almcrants, to study changes in the business license ordinance.

4. An appeal by auto dealer Herb Shapiro for permission to place a marquee type sign on his Miller avenue salesroom was denied.

5. A recommendation from the parks and recreation commission fixing fees at the golf course at $2 monthly for those 18 and under was approved.

6. Another commission recommendation granting limited use of the men's locker room at the golf course to the Mill Valley Teen-Agers Assn. at specified time also was approved.

ANTI-GOVERNMENT RIOT IN COLOMBIA

While Bolivians were rioting against the United States this week, discontented students in Bogota, capital of Colombia, turned their wrath against their own government. This photo shows students stoning police in demonstration Tuesday in which cars were overturned and windows broken throughout the city. At least 19 policemen and many students were injured before order was restored. (AP Wirephoto)

Russian Protests Boarding Of Trawler By U.S. Navy

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union today sharply protested the U.S. naval boarding of a Soviet trawler suspected of cutting a trans-Atlantic cable off Newfoundland.

Moscow Radio said a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow described reports that the trawler Novorososisk had damaged the cables as "a complete invention."

The boarding took place off Newfoundland last Thursday. The officer who headed the American search party, Lt. Donald Sheely of Falls Church, Va., said later that the fishing boat "probably quite likely" had something to do with the break in the cables but he didn't know whether accidentally or intentionally.

"The note," said the Moscow broadcast, "points out that the incident involving detention of the Soviet trawler was undertaken with provocative aims in mind.

"The Soviet government expects the U.S. government to take all necessary measures to prevent the recurrence of such unwarranted actions toward Soviet fishing trawlers engaged in fishing in the open seas."

The note said the trawler "did not cause any damage to underwater telegraph or telephone trans-Atlantic cables."

"Reports in the U.S. press on this question were a complete invention," it declared.

The U.S. State Department had notified Moscow immediately with an explanation that the boarding was carried out under terms of an 1884 treaty. This treaty—originally signed by the czarist regime but later subscribed to by the Soviet Communist government — permits inspection of documents of ships suspected of damaging oceanic cables wilfully or through negligence.

Lt. Sheely reported the Soviet crew offered no resistence to the inspection.

Adm. Jerould Wright, commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, had exonerated the Soviets earlier of deliberately cutting the cables after getting a report that the American search party found "no indications of intentions other than fishing."

Anti-American Rioting Spreads To Two Other Cities In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—U. S. Information Agency offices in Cochabamba and Oruro were targets last night of anti-American riots that previously had taken two Bolivian lives. Calm returned today.

Dispatches from Cochabamba, an industrial center and tourist resort of 80,000 in central Bolivia, reported a mob sacked the USIA office there after police turned demonstrators away from the U. S. consulate.

After breaking down the door, said an account published by the newspaper Prescencia, the rioters threw furniture and documents from the balconies and set them afire. Others carried away typewriters and other office equipment. Windows were smashed. Police finally dispersed the mob with tear gas.

At Oruro, a western Bolivian city of 52,000, demonstrators broke windows of the USIA office with stones.

No injuries were reported in either incident.

Police maintained a strong guard around the U. S. Embassy and the USIA office in La Paz, the capital.

The embassy itself was deserted. Staff members moved to Calacoto, a suburb, after rioters smashed windows Monday in anger over an article on Bolivia in Time magazine.

WHY RIOTS HAPPENED

Bolivians Didn't See Wisecrack's 'Humor'

By THOMAS J. STONE

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — How could a magazine article touch off violent anti-American demonstrations in Bolivia, traditionally friendly to the United States?

Bolivians violently objected to one paragraph of a two-column article in the Latin-American edition of Time magazine on the country's acutely serious economic situation.

The paragraph, not carried in the U.S. edition of the magazine, quoted a U.S. Embassy official as saying that "the only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The article made it clear the official was wisecracking.

But it was not funny in a country which over the centuries has lost territory to its five neighbors — Chile, Peru, Brazil, Paraguay and Argentina.

Bolivia, with a population of four million, is beset by one of the worst cases of inflation in South America and is up to its ears in critical economic troubles. As Time pointed out, U.S. aid has saved Bolivia from economic catastrophe.

But when Bolivians read Spanish translations in La Paz newspapers of the Time article, the reaction was explosive.

Two thousand marched on the U.S. Embassy Monday and hurled stones through the windows, set fire to U.S. automobiles and shouted anti-American slogans. The U.S. Information Service library was invaded, windows were broken, and books and magazines were destroyed.

Police, trying to control the mob, used tear gas and fired riot guns. In the melee a student was killed.

In another riot the next day a dentist was hit by a stray bullet. Almost 40 policemen were hurt. All government and business offices closed and thousands marched through the streets.

No Americans were injured. They remained in their homes, protected by police. The embassy was closed.

The U.S. Embassy denied that any of its officials had made the remark that offended.

Time's editor-in-chief, Henry R. Luce, expressed regret but didn't mention the quotation.

The Bolivian government was first informed Friday by its embassy in Lima that Time was carrying an article unfavorable to the country. When a shipment of several hundred copies of the magazine reached La Paz, it was seized and taken to the Presidential Palace.

President Hernan Siles Zuazo met with Congress and his cabinet for seven hours.

After the session the government issued a communique which said in part: "The cabinet met last night to consider the publication in Time of that which hurts our feelings and which we cannot accept."

Not until the Saturday morning papers came out did the general public hear of the article.

Kansas Leads U.S. In Farm Income Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported today that farm income rose in 39 states last year with Kansas showing the largest increase—242 per cent.

The report was based on realized net income. This is the money left over after the farmer has sold his crop and paid all production expenses.

The Agriculture Department's publication, "The Farm Income Situation," said farm income was unchanged in one state (Kentucky) and declined in eight.

The average Kansas farm in 1958 showed a realized net income of $2,526. This compared with $739 in 1957, a poor agricultural year for the state.

Oklahoma farms, with the next largest increase—100 per cent—averaged a net spending income of $2,129.

Production expenses were higher in all states except Vermont.

The realized net income per farm in 1958 was $2,750, up from $2,232 in 1957. The gross farm income per farm in 1958 was $7,993. The average production expenses per farm were $5,243, leaving $2,750 as the farmer's spending money.

California's realized net income per farm was $7,236, down 3 per cent from 1957.

State Auto Assn. Backs Transit Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Endorsement of the Bay Area's rapid transit system by the California State Automobile Assn. was greeted today as a "major milestone in transit development" by John Peirce, general manager of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Peirce complimented the automobile association for its "forthright stand" and looked forward to the time when the Bay Area "will have found a real and lasting solution of congestion problems."

FISHERMAN SEES HIS BOAT WRECKED

Dominic Gringale could only watch helplessly as Baby, his 35-foot crab fishing boat, was battered to pieces on the rocks below San Francisco's Cliff House yesterday. Gringale lost control of the vessel when a steering cable broke. He scrambled to safety. The boat was valued at $6,000 and was not insured. Gringale, 40 years a San Francisco fisherman, was buying the craft on installments—he had only $500 left to pay. (AP Wirephoto)

UCLA Policy On Lecture By Pike Hit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Episcopal bishop of California says "ecceliastical religion has as much right to be heard on a university campus as have other religious systems such as humanism or materialism."

Rt. Rev. James A. Pike of San Francisco made the statement yesterday while defending UCLA's decision to dismiss classes so students could attend his lecture.

The administration ordered the 9 to 10 morning classes dismissed so students and faculty member could hear Bishop Pike's address.

The action brought cries of "compulsory attendance" and "religious interference" from students and faculty alike. Some professors said they would hold classes anyway.

The administration pointed out classes were let out for football rallies, so why not for religious lectures?

When the time for his lecture rolled around, the furore had died down. Only about 2,000 of the school's 16,000 students attended.

Voting was made compulsory in Puerto Rico in 1917.

Larkspur To Call Bids On Bridge Approach

The Larkspur City Council last night authorized City Manager Ronald E. Piper to call for bids on the Magnolia avenue approach to the Bon Air Bridge as soon as a notice of completion is received from the county public works department.

The road extension is expected to cost the city about $34,000, reported Piper. The county, which shared the cost of building the $150,000 bridge, has already awarded a contract for construction of the bridge approach on the north side.

The bridge, which vaults Corte Madera Creek, will join Larkspur at a point near Marin General Hospital Construction of the two approaches is expected to be complete in August.

Subcontractors on the bridge have filed $31,000 worth of liens for labor and materials, but the city "is in the clear," reported Piper, since it has been insured by a bonding firm.

The councilmen postponed taking any action to close a county dump just north of the Larkspur business district as requested by the Larkspur School District.

A letter from the school district asked that the dump be closed because of its location near the site of a new school to be constructed by next fall.

Councilmen voted to postpone action until a date closer to the opening of the school.

Councilmen last night also:

1. Called for a breakdown of costs on a proposed public address system that Oakley Dexter previously agreed to install in the council chambers for $334.
2. Acknowledged as state property two parcels near the Greenbrae freeway interchange formerly within the city limits, but condemened by the state.
3. Postponed action on a petition for annexation of four Elm avenue parcels owned by T. J. McWaters and John Keller until other nearby Palm Hill area residents are consulted to learn if they also would want to come into the city.
4. Granted Dexter a variance from offstreet parking requirements in connection with his enlargement of Dexter's Television and Radio at 25 Ward street.

William E. Seward, who later became the U.S. Secretary of State responsible for the purchase of Alaska, is said to be the first lawyer ever to use insanity as a legal defense. It was during the trial of an accused murderer at Auburn, N.Y., in 1847.

Bodies Of 2 In Missing Family Found

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) —Authorities said today it was virtually certain the bodies of a man and a young girl found yesterday in a debris-strewn field were those of members of a family missing seven weeks.

Positive identification by facial characteristics was described as impossible. Officers said there was no indication how long the bodies had lain there.

Discovery of the bodies may be the first break in the mysterious disappearance last Jan. 11 of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29; his 27-year-old wife, and their two daughters, aged 5 and 1.

State Police Capt. W. W. Blythe said the bodies were lying face down with the child's body beneath the man's. The man's hands had been tied behind him with a red tie. The girl's hands had not been tied.

The bodies were believed those of Jackson and his youngest daughter. They were taken to a laboratory in Richmond for examination. Cause of death could not be determined immediately.

The bodies were stumbled upon by two Fredericksburg men near a mound of sawdust two miles west of here.

Authorities said clothing worn by the man and the girl resembled that worn by members of the Jackson family.

The Jacksons' car was found Jan. 12, eight miles from their home at Apple Grove.

Foundation For Blind, Aide Accused Of Misusing Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—The W. C. Handy Foundation for the Blind, Inc., and a fund raiser, David A. Ulrey, "seemingly dipped very deeply into a golden barrel for their own selfish purposes," the New York state attorney general's office charged today.

The foundation was established by W. C. Handy, Negro composer of "St. Louis Blues" and scores of other melodies, who died last March 28 at 84. He had been blind for years.

Action against the foundation and Ulrey was taken in state Supreme Court by the office of Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

An affidavit said "there is no doubt but that a substantial sum" has been "mulcted from the channels of charity" through actions by Ulrey and the foundation, which was set up to raise money to aid the blind.

The affidavit was attached to an order signed by Justice Edgar J. Nathan which directs Ulrey and the foundation to show cause next Thursday why they should not be restrained from soliciting funds pending further legal action.

Hub Secret Hearing May Be Illegal

A secret hearing held by the San Anselmo City Council's three-man investigating committee may have been illegal, in the opinion of California's former attorney general and present governor.

A current issue of California City, a magazine circulated to municipal officers, quotes an opinion issued last Dec. 12 by then Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown.

It holds that a committee of less than a quorum of a city council may hold secret sessions, but that the Brown Act, forbidding secret meetings of public bodies, applies to any committee that constitutes a quorum of the council.

The three-man committee constituted a quorum of the San Anselmo five-member council, and therefore "could run the city by our votes," as Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. pointed out in announcing his resignation from the committee Tuesday night.

Hospital Personnel Policy Discussed

Directors of the Marin County Hospital District reviewed general and specific policy sections of a proposed hospital personnel policy outline Tuesday afternoon in a special meeting at Marin General Hospital.

S. Ames Pence, administrator, said the board set next Wednesday at 4 p.m. for an adjourned meeting to continue the discussions.

Pence said Marjorie Quick, representative of the hospital nurses personnel committee, participated in the discussions.

HER BABY'S BACK AGAIN — Mrs. Ruth Flores holds her 9-week-old son, Eric Leon, as she and the infant's abductor, Mrs. Betty Jean Yocom, confronted each other in Ontario police station. FBI agents found the baby in Mrs. Yocom's home last night. Policewoman is in background. (AP Wirephoto)

Kidnaped Infant Found Safe; Abductor Held

ONTARIO, San Bernardino County (AP)—A kidnaped infant was found safe last night in the arms of a chunky 37-year-old woman who admitted taking him from his crib while she was baby-sitting five days ago.

Betty Jean Yocom retreated to the bathroom of her darkened home 10 miles from Ontario when she heard Federal Bureau of Investigation agents kicking in the door. Hugged to her bosom was 9-week-old Eric Leon Flores.

In a bedroom the agents found a brand new bassinet and bottle sterilizer and other indications that Mrs. Yocom had lavished a frustrated maternal love on another woman's child.

The baby, ill with a cold when he was taken from beside his sleeping twin brother last Friday, appeared to have been well cared for, the FBI said.

The baby was reunited with his mother, Ruth Flores, 35, widowed mother of six, at the Ontario police station.

Mrs. Flores and the friendly woman she had allowed to sit with her children faced each other tearfully.

They had first met last Feb. 17 when Mrs. Yocom, calling herself Ann Williams and identifying herself as a social worker from a local church, called on Mrs. Flores to offer any help that might be needed. Mrs. Flores' husband, Joseph, was killed in a gas explosion last summer and the community of Ontario has contributed food, clothing and needed services to the family ever since.

Mrs. Yocom, who is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs about 180 pounds, offered to take care of the Flores children. She telephoned the next day and repeated the offer. Last Friday she called at the house again and this time Mrs. Flores agreed to go out with a friend for a few hours, leaving Mrs. Yocom with the children, who range in age from 8 to the infant twins.

When Mrs. Flores returned, one of the twins was gone.

A widespread search was carried out for the baby and his kidnaper.

In the end it was the baby himself who led to the capture of Mrs. Yocom. His loud wails last night made a neighbor suspicious and the FBI was notified.

Mrs. Yocom said she is separated from her third husband, a Los Angeles truck driver, Stephen Yocom. She said she is the mother of a 19-year-old son, but did not say where he is

Asked why she took Eric, she said:

"He looked so much like my own son when he was a baby."

She was booked for investigation.

Water Corp. Dissolves With Big Loss

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Commonwealth Development Corp., which tried to develop water where the Legislature didn't, voted to dissolve yesterday, facing a loss of $53,000.

Secretary of State Frank Jordan, chairman of the board, acknoweldged operating debts of $10,000, donations by the six board members of $34,000 which are being written off as a loss and a suit for $18,000.

Jordan blamed Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for blocking the corporation's efforts to start a 250-million-dollar program including five dams on the Yuba River.

"We tried to do something unique," Jordan said, "because the Legislature is tied up in politics. We wanted to develop water and power without cost to districts or taxpayers through self-liquidating revenue bonds."

Commonwealth incorporated in 1953. It failed to launch any of several proposed projects, Jordan said, because PG&E withdrew an offer to buy power from projects built by Commonwealth in cooperation with local water districts.

Jordan said the corporation will be formally dissolved in 60 days.

EXHIBITION SERIES OPENER

Giants' Miller To Start Against Score Saturday

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Manager Bill Rigney today nominated the soft-throwing Stu Miller to start on the mound when the San Francisco Giants open their 29-game exhibition season Saturday against Cleveland.

Rigney said that he would follow Miller with Joe Shipley and then let Dom Zanni hurl the last three innings.

The Indians, meanwhile, have named the dazzling Herb Score to start against San Francisco.

This news today caused Rigney to announce an all right-handed hitting lineup for Saturday's battle.

The tentative batting order: Jim Davenport, 3B; Felipe Alou, RF; Willie Mays, CF; Ray Jablonski, 1B; Daryl Spencer, SS; Bob Schmidt, C; Don Taussig, LF; Miller, P.

When the southpaw Score gives way to the veteran right-hander Mike Garcia long about the fourth inning, Rigney indicated that lefties like Willie Kirkland, Bill White and Leon Wagner might get into the act.

Potential starters Orlando Cepeda and Jackie Brandt will be out of action. Cepeda has the flu and Brandt will be resting after undergoing nasal surgery tomorrow.

The team held a long workout yesterday. Low point came when pitcher Jack Sanford was felled by a line drive off the bat of Ed Gresoud. Sanford retired with a bruised shin but said he would be ready for a three-inning stint in a Giant-Indian rematch on Sunday.

Rigney did not plan to work his charges hard today, but scheduled a final intrasquad contest tomorrow to ready for the exhibition grind.

'CANDLESTICK PARK' COMING RIGHT ALONG

This is how the 45,000-seat stadium now being built for the San Francisco Giants looked today. The park will be named Candlestick Park and it should be ready in July. Until then the Giants will play their National League games in Seals Stadium.

The name Candlestick, officially adopted this week, derives from a geographical feature of San Francisco Bay. The stadium is adjacent to Candlestick Point.

STANFORD ADDS EX-COLORADAN TO GRID STAFF

STANFORD (AP)—Stanford signed Dan Stavely of the University of Colorado yesterday, to replace Bob Ghilotti as an assistant football coach. Ghilotti had gone to Colorado.

Stavely, 45, was an assistant coach at Washington State from 1949 to 1957. He was graduated in 1937 from Denver University and had coached at Eastern Washington.

Ghilotti went to Colorado after Sonny Grandelious took over there as head coach.

Haney Denies Rift With Tebbetts

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—Manager Fred Haney tried to put to rest today "for all time" any reports that he might not be able to get along with Birdie Tebbetts, the new front office head of the Milwaukee Braves.

There were reports that there was no love lost between the two while Tebbetts managed the Cincinnati Reds.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Haney exclaimed. "Why Birdie and I have been friends for 25 years, since way back when he was with Detroit and I was managing at Toledo, then a Tiger farm club.

"We've been good friends off the field. I never have any friends in an opposing dugout."

CHOICE WORDS

Haney normally uses some words that can't be printed in a family newspaper, but he saves his choice ones whenever questioned about his reported feud with Tebbetts.

"Hell," he explained, "you could say I feud with every manager in the other dugout. He is out to beat me, and I don't like to get beat. So on the field, every manager in the league is an enemy of mine. But off the field, we're all good friends. But once we take the field, the manager of the other team is no friend of mine—until after the game is over.

"That's the way it was with Birdie and me. We aren't going to have any trouble."

Ex-Feather Champ Attell Collapses

NEW YORK (AP)—Abe Attell, former world featherweight champion and a member of Boxing's Hall of Fame, collapsed in a restaurant last night, but he still talked like a champ from a hospital bed.

"I'm all right," he said. "I've got a touch of the flu, but I'll be out of here by tomorrow. Why son, I expect to live to be 100."

Attell, a native of San Francisco who held the featherweight crown from 1904 to 1912, is 75.

Dr. Sidney Rubenstein said Attell's suffered a "circulatory condition not considered serious."

No One Loafs In Giants' Camp; Braves Interested In O'Connell?

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz. Batting averages and pitching performances, in the early stages of spring conditioning, are as phony as watered stock in 1929. So the true valuations of hitting and pitching will not be measured until after the exhibition games get under way this weekend.

But, meantime, a great deal of cagey scrutinizing is being detected in the eagerness and willingness of the players to get themselves in shape for the rigors of the regular season.

Manager Bill Rigney, Bossman Horace Stoneham and the other top brass here take turns doing Dick Tracy work in the grandstand. So far the grapevine reports are all complimentary. No one is loafing, no one seems to be shirking the running chores and the entire squad thunders through the workouts with the zest of a freshman outfit.

Pitching coaches Frank Shellenback and Bill Posedel have a stock question they have been repeating now for the past week. It goes something like this:

Shellenback or Posedel, to any pitcher, asks:

"Is your arm heavy?"

If the pitcher says "no," the reply is, "you haven't been working hard enough."

If the answer is "yes," then the reply is, "you'll be ready in a few days to start curving the ball."

"The arm must get heavy before it gets strong," Shellenback, the head instructor, explains.

ACCORDING TO Shelly, any pitcher who has been around in professional baseball any length of time will agree to that observation.

Outside of natural curiosity of the Giant pitching staff in general, the principal fretting is being done by Skipper Rigney. He still insists that somehow, someway, another starting pitcher will be obtained.

"We're better off than four or five other clubs in our league," says Rigney. "We have the material the others need just as badly as we need pitching help. So my idea is to sweat it out instead of us going all out and begging for pitching help."

So, perhaps that is why there is a news lull in camp.

SCOUTS FROM the White Sox, Cubs, Phils and Braves have been snooping around. The other afternoon I found Babe Herman of the Phils and Hollis Thurston of the Chicago White Sox comfortably located under the press box observing the Giant talent in practice.

Wid Matthews of Milwaukee is on the prowl and even checked in at the Adams Hotel, headquarters for the Giants, over the weekend.

Matthews would like to pick up Danny O'Connell, as second base relief now that Red Schoendenst is is out and Mel Roach, his alternate, is recuperating from a tricky knee.

I cornered Boss Rigney for a few seconds today and he made no secret why Matthews is watching the Giants.

"What pitcher has Milwaukee got that you would want in a trade?" sessi to Rig.

"I'll take Gene Conley, if they want to talk trade," Rigney declared.

"How about Don McMahon?" sezzi.

"They'd want the Golden Gate bridge and a bundle of cash to part with McMahon," Rigney continued.

"But either of those flingers might be just what we need to iron out the wrinkles in our pitching."

"WE HAVE so many good young pitchers that I'm concerned about using them in relief roles so early. I'd like to send them out where they can get a chance to pitch regularly and pick up valuable experience," he went on.

Outside of Jack Sanford, formerly of the Phils, and Mike McCormick, the young lefthander, none of the other Giant mound regulars have been pitching much.

Billy Muffett, obtained from the Cards during the winter and slated to do relief chores for the Giants in the coming campaign, is closer to being ready than anyone in camp. If you take an earnest peek at his 1958 record, it isn't any better than Ramon Monzant, the Puerto Rican righthander who wants to quit baseball altogether.

MUFFETT pitched in 35 games in 1958. Monzant in 43.

Muffett won 4 games, lost 6 and pitched a total of 84 innings. He had an earned run average of 4.93. He started 6 games.

Monzant started 16 games, won 4, lost 8, pitched a total of 151 innings, allowed 160 hits for an earned run average of 4.71.

So you see the type of pitcher Muffitt was last year. He has to improve this coming season to catch up with the holdout Monzant.

Let's peak at the comparative record of Al Worthington, the hardest and most stubborn Giant holdout.

Worthington won 11 and lost 7 games last season. He pitched in 54 games, started 12, worked a total of 151 innings, allowed 152 hits and popped up with an earned run average of 3.64. He walked 57, fanned 76.

NINO KO'D

Win Boosts Powell Up Ring Ladder

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Charley Powell, who gave up his career as an obscure defensive end in pro football, is convinced today the fists that demolished second-ranked Nino Valdes "can take me a long way in boxing."

"At last I can feel I'll go places in boxing," said the 26-year-old un-ranked heavyweight after his spectacular nationally-televised eighth-round technical knockout of Valdes. "I needed a big victory to give me confidence. Now I can concentrate on boxing alone."

Powell, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 213-pounder, hammered his way into the heavyweight picture last night with stabbing left jabs and jolting left hooks that dropped Valdes three times and left the 34-year-old Cuban a bloody mess. The end for Valdes came at 2:03 of the eighth round of their scheduled 10-rounded when he pitched forward to the canvas without being hit.

Referee Cy Gottfried, who had forced Valdes to take the mandatory eight-count three times, stepped right in and ended the slaughter. Manager Joe Vella said he had no immediate plans for Powell and the ex-San Francisco 49er end let it go at that.

Powell, a native of San Diego, was a 4-1 underdog to his 224-pound opponent, but was in charge of the fight except in the fourth, fifth and sixth rounds when Valdes got inside for some good licks. Powell cut the inside of Valdes' mouth in the second round and opened an inch-long gash over his hight eye in the third.

Broglio To Open Against Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Ernie Broglio of El Cerrito, Calif., rookie righthander who Manager Solly Hemus expects to be the No. 4 St. Louis starter this year, was picked today to open the Redbirds' grapefruit league season Saturday against New York.

Broglio was obtained from San Francisco in a fall trade and impressed Hemus during the Cards' barnstorming trip to Japan after posting won-and-lost records of 8-1 at Phoenix and 9-3 at Toronto in 1958.

Carter Only Slightly Hurt In Argument With Woman

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jimmy Carter, former world lightweight champion injured when he fell down while trying to enter a moving car driven by a woman friend with whom he was arguing, was expected to be released today from General Hospital.

Carter, 35, three-time holder of the lightweight crown, suffered a slight concussion and a gash on his head. He declined to discuss details of the Tuesday night accident.

Ursula Bregman, blonde operator of a beauty parlor for dogs, told police Carter tried to stop her as she drove away from him during an argument about his alleged heavy drinking.

"When I started the car," Miss Bregman said, "he made a grab for the door to get in. He caught the rear view mirror and fell and hit his head."

Carter was later found sitting in the street moaning, holding his head. Police at first believed he was a hit-run victim.

The Negro boxer lost his lightweight crown the last time in 1955 to Wallace (Bud) Smith.

EX-CHAMPION SAXTON NABBED AS BURGLAR

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Saxton, who earned a quarter of a million dollars as world's welterweight champion, has been arrested in a burglary which netted $5.20 in cash.

Spotted last night on a fire escape of a Jamaica, Queens, apartment house, the onetime Negro ring ace was captured by police, but not before he put up a battle.

He was charged with burglary and held for a hearing.

Saxton, 28, lost his title in 1956. He told police all the money he made in his 10-year professional career was gone, and that he owes $16,000 in back taxes.

Police said Saxton tossed a small valise into a clump of bushes. In it was $5.20, a fur cape, and a pack of cigarettes. The cape and bag were identified by Adelaide Farrell, 55, a sixth-floor tenant.

NEW F-G DIRECTOR

Warne Says He'll Get The Job Done

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—William E. Warne, California's new 53-year-old Fish and Game Director, will be on the job April 1 and he "expects to get the job done" in operating the state controversy-ridden Department of Fish and Game.

In an exclusive, trans-Pacific telephone interview with Capital News Service, Warne said he had "no-predetermined" ideas of what should be done in California.

"However, I am a conservationist and understand the general purposes for which the Department operates," Warne said. "I'm not familiar with what problems the present department has had."

Warne, who said he had been in Saigon and Hong Kong and had not known of his appointment definitely until the telephone call from CNS, added that he has made "no commitments to any person."

The new director spent four years as assistant Secretary of the Interior, including two as supervisor of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He told CNS he expected to draw on his experience from this work to operate California's Department.

STRONG ADMINISTRATOR

"I'm a pretty strong administrator," Warne said. "The record will show that I have been established as a man who gets things done.

"I don't want to give the impression that I will emasculate the present department," Warne said. "I would expect the people to be equally loyal to me as they have been to the previous director."

When asked if he had any philosophy on artificial stocking programs for trout and pheasant which have flourished under the present director, Seth Gordon, Warne replied:

"You're going to have to ask me that when I get back to California."

Warne was asked about a question that has been puzzling some California observers—namely, why he is willing to take a cut in pay from his present salary of $24,000 a year, as U.S. economic aid coordinator, to the $16,000 a year as Fish and Game director.

"I have been serving overseas for seven years," he said. "I want to return to my native state of California."

Warne was born and grew up in southern California. He had been in government service for 23 years but, two years ago, established his permanent residence in Altadena. He is a Democrat and served in federal posts under Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

Warne's arrival on the California scene was expected to end much of the uncertainty which has surrounded fish and game affairs in California since Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced early in January that Gordon would not be retained as head of the department.

At least a dozen names had been considered as being in contention for appointment to the directorship. but had not included Warne's name until several days ago. His appointment, which is subject to confirmation by the state senate, was announced by Brown on March 2.

It's Shirt-Sleeve Skiing Time; Good Sport Assured Through Easter

Looks like the winter snows have ceased. Now is the time to have a most enjoyable ski holiday. Easy driving on clear, dry highways with no chains to bother with. Of course, anyone driving into the mountains should always carry chains just to be safe.

Now is the time a skier's dream of shirt-sleeve skiing on corn snow in the healthful mountain air is a reality. And don't forget the suntan lotion and dark glasses as a protection from the warm reflection of the white blanket underfoot.

Now is the time to pack a lunch and take along the camp stools so you can join other winter sports enthusiasts at the base of the ski slopes for a noon picnic.

An average seven to eight-foot snow pack at the higher elevated resorts assures good skiing through Easter, even if there are no more snow flurries.

THE BUGS have been ironed out of the T-bar lift at Echo Summit Ski Area on Highway 50. With this additional ski terrain, there are little, if any, lift lines at Echo Summit. The ski slopes face northeast, assuring snow on the Fourth of July.

DODGE RIDGE Ski Club will sponsor the FWSA Class C divisional Downhill and Slalom championships on their home slopes this weekend. Approximately 75 competitors are expected to enter the slalom Saturday and the downhill Sunday.

THE UNIVERSITY of California Ski Club will host the Warren Vanderbilt Memorial Intercollegiate Four-Way meet at the Sugar Bowl this weekend. The contest, first held in 1938, is a memorial to Cal's ski team captain who was killed in a rock climbing accident at Clipper Gap.

Teams will be entered from University of Nevada, Sierra College, Chico State, Stanford, San Jose State, Oregon State and Cal. Stanford, Mills College, Cal, Sierra and American River College will send girls' teams.

Soldier Wins The Biathlon

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — The United States finally came up with a winner in the North American Nordic Ski Championships, but he says he won't compete here next year in the Winter Olympics.

PFC Lawrence Damon of Burlington, Vt., won the 20 kilometer (12.5 mile) ski-and-shoot biathlon Tuesday in the final event of the meet. It was an Olympic trial race and the first biathlon ever held here.

Damon, 25-year-old engineer, said he can't compete in the Olympics because he plans to enter the University of Vermont graduate school after being discharged from the Army this year.

He was among 10 soldiers from the cold weather training camp at Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Damon toured the rugged course in 1 hour, 48 minutes, 9.3 seconds including 14 minutes penalty for missing seven of his 20 targets.

The competitors shoot from varying distances at four ranges and the targets looked like dimes.

Dick Mize, soldier from Gunnison, Colo., was second and Klas Lestander from Sweden, one of two foreign entrants, third.

Results (in parenthesis are hits out of 20):

1. Lawrence Damon, Burlington, Vt., 1:48:09.3. (13);
2. Dick Mize, Gilman, Colo., 1:54:21.9 (16);
3. Klas Lestander, Sweden, 1:54:51.6. (13);
4. John Burritt, Hotchkiss, Colo., 1:58:06.6. (16);
5. Jim Mahaffey, Gunnison, Colo., 2:02:11.4. (14);
6. Gustave Hanson, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., 2:03:09.7. (14);
7. Maurice Paquette Jr., Plymouth, N.H., 2:03:12.5. (13);
8. William Spencer, Salt Lake City, 2:03:27.6. (12);
9. Robert Collins, Sunapee, N.H., 2:04:32.9. (13);
10. Bill Rudd, Los Angeles, 2:06:54.2. (11).

Other Californians among those who placed:

16. Bryan Samuelsen, Santa Monica, 2:28:26.6. (4);
17. Hans Aune, Los Angeles, 2:39:37.2. (8);
18. Leo Sjogren, Los Angeles, 2:44:36.0 (1).

Germs, Food, Mud, Parking, Head List Of Problems At Squaw Valley

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — Germs, food, mud, parking and hot water.

These are only a few of the problems Winter Olympics officials went to work on today following the windup of 15 North American Skiing and Skating championships that lured 160 athletes from 14 nations.

Post-meet concensus is that courses, jumps and ice rinks were equal to, and in many cases, above Olympic standards, but much remains to be done on the housing and spectator side before February, 1960.

In the food department, Olympic Village director Robert Minerich learned he won't need separate menus for every nation.

"Athletes want good, wholesome food and plenty of it," he declared. "That's what we gave them this time and they were happy. We heard no adverse comment."

He has decided to have one menu with fish as one of three entrees every day. An exception will be rice for the Chinese and Japanese.

Athletes, officials and the press used the four dormitories in the village during the North American. At times there was too much heat and hot water, other times not enough.

A flu epidemic broke out, forcing some athletes out of their races, hampering the performance of others.

Minerich acknowledged the heat regulating system just didn't work. It is being changed.

Rather than restrict ill athletes to their rooms — where their colleagues could absorb their germs—small, temporary buildings will be put up to be used as hospitals.

Rooms were bare, but Minerich promised that next year participants will have rugs on the floor, pictures on the walls, better lighting and much more all around comfort.

Warm, sunny weather made a mess of roads in the village and administration area. Next year they will be paved.

A system of snow compaction —sawdust pressed into snow —was found to be inconclusive for parking the thousands of cars expected. Martin Blatt, transportation director, indicated he would draw up an alternative plan for parking vehicles in Truckee and Tahoe City and shuttle the spectators into the valley. Truckee is 15 miles away, Tahoe City 8.

Minerich said the most gratifying part of the North American was how the athletes got along.

"We put Russians, Japanese, Finns and Norwegians together. We had no troubles. Everybody was very congenial," he said.

Novato Golfers To Resume Series Of Tournaments

Novato Golf Assn. will start its fourth year of intra-club tournaments March 22.

Foursomes are now being formed for the monthly tournaments, according to Frank Valim, membership chairman. Valim urged golfers who are interested in the tourneys to join the association no later than Saturday, deadline for tournament registrations.

Membership applications are being accepted by Valim and at Pete's Barber Shop in Novato.

The monthly tourneys are generally held on the last Sunday of each month, March through November. Play is on the Indian Valley Golf Course and is conducted on a handicap basis.

Dons Upset Pacific By 68-60 Count

San Francisco Dons, defending West Coast Athletic Conference champs who have had a miserable current season, toppled College of the Pacific 68-60 last night in San Francisco.

COP finished the season with a 6-6 conference record. The Dons, who wind up against second place Santa Clara Saturday, are 3-8. St. Mary's won this year's title with an 11-1 record.

Dave Klurman paced the Tigers with 21 points and was the game's high scorer. For the Dons, who led 28-22 at halftime, John Cunningham got 20 points, Fred LaCour 17 and Dave Lillevand 16

Elsewhere in northern California basketball, San Jose City College beat Monterey Peninsula 84-69 in a Coast Conference (J.C.) playoff. San Jose will go to Long Beach March 12-14 for the State J.C. Tournament.

Robertson Again Wins 'Player Of Year' Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Record-breaking Oscar Robertson of the University of Cincinnati established another precedent today when he was named college basketball's "Player of the Year" for the second straight season in the United Press International poll.

The 20-year-old junior from Indianapolis, Ind., was the overwhelming choice of the 277 sports writers and broadcasters who participated in the 1959 nation-wide voting. He was selected on 188 ballots, drawing 67.8 per cent of the votes cast.

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State and Jerry West of West Virginia finished second and third in the balloting. Howell received 31 votes and West was named on 14 ballots.

Nineteen other players, in addition to Robertson, Howell and West, received mention in this year's poll, but none attracted more than seven votes.

Johnny Cox of Kentucky wound up fourth with seven ballots, one more than Johnny Green of Michigan State, while All-Americas Bob Boozer of Kansas State and Don Hennon of Pittsburgh each received four votes.

Mariners Take On All-Stars At Kentfield Friday

The College of Marin Tars, champions of the Golden Valley Conference, will play a conference all-star team tomorrow night at Kentfield to raise expense money for Marin's trip to Santa Monica and the state tournament next week.

The Tars' record of 9-1 was good enough to annex the conference title for the third consecutive year. Coach Cal Reimcke has guided Marin to the last two crowns since his debut last season. He possesses a well balanced scoring attack led by Fred "Bill" Breuner the 6-foot-8 giant, who has averaged 13.4 points in league competition. Also instrumental in the Tars' success this season are Jerry Reese and Claude Curley. The pair have averaged almost 10 points a game since the beginning of the season.

The all-stars are directed by "Woody" Hutchinson, the fine coach from American River, and assisted by George Kutras from Shasta. These men were selected because their clubs finished second and third in the conference behind Marin.

HIGH SCORERS

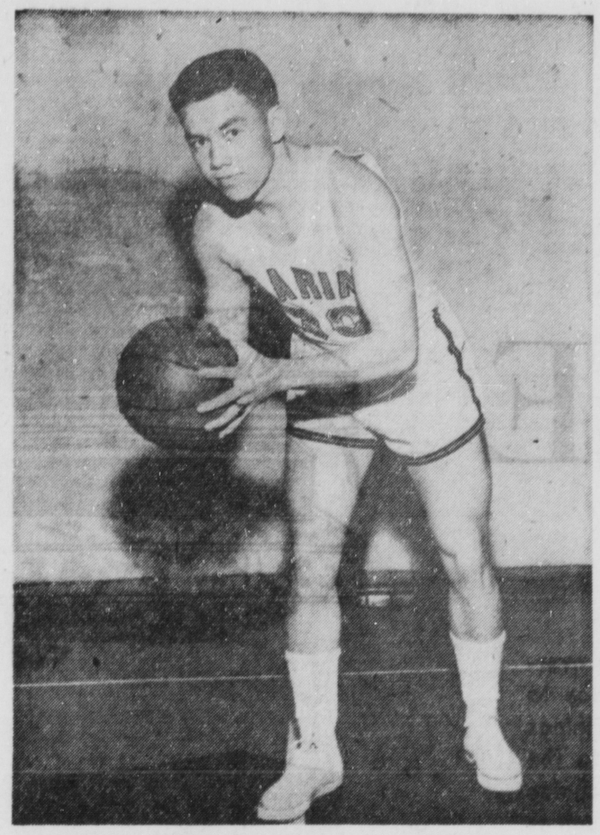
The all-stars include such outstanding players as Bob Wright, the 6-5, 210-pound star from Shasta. His teammates, Tim Burke and Terry Banderas will be stationed at guard. Two-year lettermen Al Smith and Joe Brouillard represent Shasta. The all-stars are definitely going to be a high scoring quintet. Russ Mayfield, one of the league's highest scorers, has been selected to participate. Hutchison, the coach, will have at his service his top three players, Bill Whitaker, Chad Germaine and Ray Vinall.

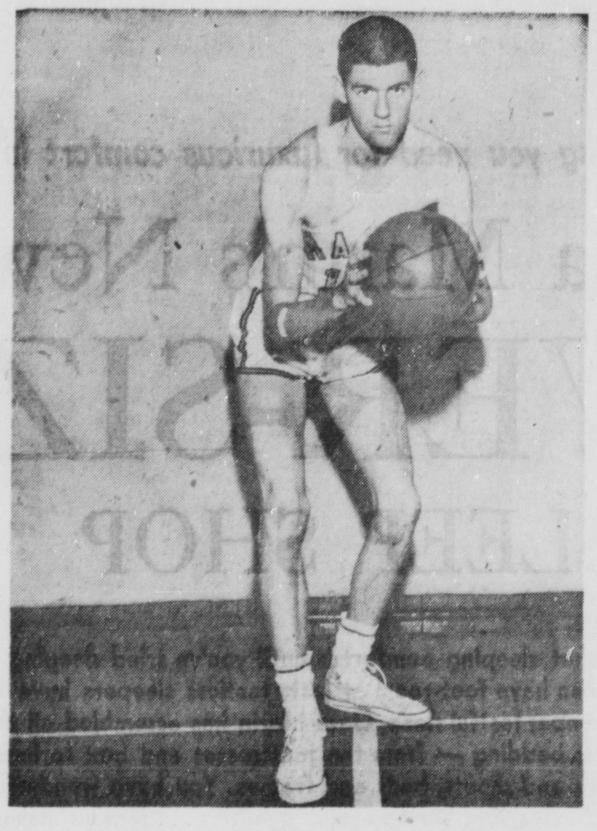
Proceeds from this game, as well as paying players' expenses, helps Marin finance other sports in the spring. This is the first money raising event of this kind to be held. Athletic director Harry Pieper hopes this game will become an annual event. Peiper explains that the all-star game is used by many conferences in order to raise money. In fact, Santa Ana J. C., Marin's opponent in next Tuesday night's state tourney opener, raised $1,700 from their game to send a squad to Santa Monica which is only 25 miles from Santa Ana.

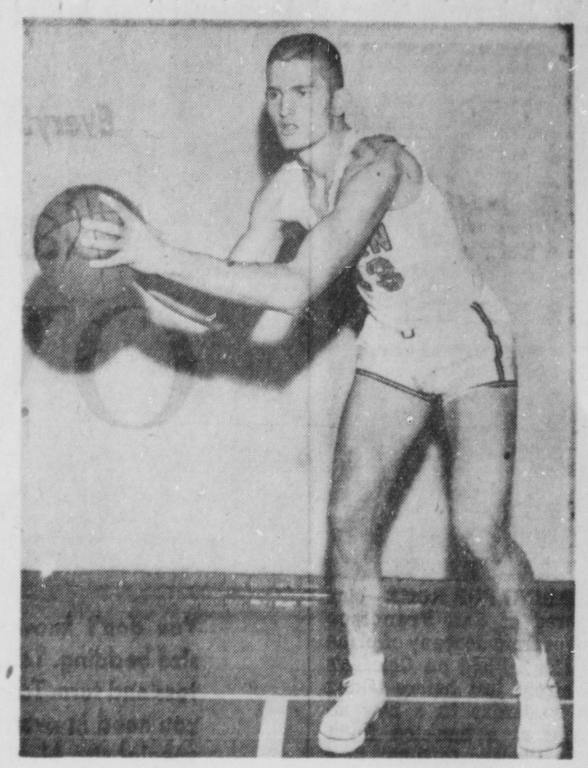
LARGE CROWD

The gym in Kentfield holds approximately 900 people and the advance ticket sale gives every indication that a capacity house will be in attendance. The all-star players, who were selected by the coaches in the GVC are so eager to challenge the champions that they have agreed to pay their own expenses to Kentfield.

A preliminary game tomorrow night will see the Mill Valley Boys Club's 14-year-old cagers clash with St. Rita's team starting at 6:45 o'clock.







CHAMPS SET FOR ACTION—These three College of Marin basketball stars will lead their teammates against a Golden Valley Conference all-star aggregation tomorrow night at Kentfield. Left to right are Claude Curley, Jerry Reese and Larry Fulton. Proceeds of the game will help pay Marin's expenses to the California State J. C. Championships next week in Santa Monica. The all-star squad is composed of outstanding players from others teams in the Golden Valley Conference.

Machen Battles Johnson Tonight In Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — Eddie Machen meets Jack Johnson of Los Angeles tonight in what Machen hopes will be the first step in his campaign to regain recognition as a heavyweight contender.

Machen's rating dived last September after Ingemar Johansson knocked him out in the first round of a fight in Sweden.

Machen will enter the ring weighing about 194 pounds. Johnson, a 6-foot-3 giant, will weigh about 218.

Johnson is Machen's first opponent since the fight in Sweden. After that fight, Machen came to Portland, purchased a home and began training for a comeback.

Ross '5' Remains Undefeated In Redwood Tourney

Undefeated Ross School scored its third victory yesterday to take a firm lead in the Redwood Recreation Department's grammar school basketball tournament at Redwood High.

The Ross quint nipped Kentfield, 23-20, in triple overtime to take a 3-0 won-lost record into the final two games today and tomorrow. In second place are Neil Cummins School and Kentfield with 1-1 records, followed by Larkspur-Corte Madera 1-2 and Reed 0-2.

Tryouts Saturday For Sausalito Little Leaguers

Tryouts for the Little Leaguers of Sausalito will start Saturday, 1:30 p.m. at Richardson Bay School, it was announced today. A large turnout is expected as more than 80 boys, not including many regulars, signed up last week.

Last Saturday with the help of "Red" Hall and H. H. Smith (and the weather), a general reconditioning of the Little League ball park started. The entire field was roto-tilled; the pitcher's mound was moved back two feet to comply with new regulations and weed killer was applied.

3 Die In Hotel Fire; Many Others Hurt

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Screaming in terror, guests shinnied down cables or climbed or were born down fire ladders early today as flames raged up an elevator shaft of the five-story Gary Hotel.

Authorities said there were three known dead, two other persons unaccounted for and two more critically hurt.

At least 24 persons were taken to hospitals for treatment of burns, cuts, smoke poisoning and shock.

The register of the 100-room, 75-year-old hotel in Hazleton's business district showed a listing of 61 persons.

Two of the dead were removed soon after the fire broke out. A third body was found later.

The entire front wall of the hotel collapsed into heaps of rubble. It was thought the two missing persons might be dead in this wreckage.

Victims fled from the blazing building, their night clothes ablaze. Others stood and sat dazed in the street as 100 firemen from four companies fought the raging fire for more than two hours.

Efforts to control the blaze were hampered by icy streets and ice-coated hoses resulting from the biting 23 degree weather.

DOMINICAN ALUMNAE

Eleanor Green Styles Charms Large Audience At Luncheon

Mix the 1959 Spring Collection of San Francisco designer Eleanor Green with luscious spring hats from Macy's of San Rafael perfectly coordinated to each fashion. Add a balmy, beautiful March day, an enthusiastic fashionably-dressed audience and nine attractive Dominican Alumnae models.

The result: a perfect prescription for a delightful "Afternoon in Spring" on Tuesday at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon honoring the Marin Chapter of the Dominican College Alumnae.

As an ambassador of fashion throughout the United States and Canada, Eleanor Green proved on Tuesday why she has no peer. She completely charmed the fashion show goers by graciously moving from table to table throughout the many rooms to make each guest feel she had come especially to meet her.

Tuesday's special added "hattractions" were the delectable spring bonnets about which could have been written many sonnets, so perfectly were they coordinated in color, texture and feeling to each Eleanor Green fashion.

To team with Eleanor Green's indispensable shirtmakers, town dresses and late-day looks, Mrs. Harry Pearce, the fashionwise buyer and manager of Macy's millinery department, had gathered designer originals from New York and Paris representing distinguished names in millinery, Sally Victor, Lilly Dache, Marche, Corelia and Alfreda.

The Salon of San Rafael accepted the challenge that "it's a hat spring," and showed that "a hat is a hat is a hat" only when it tops a fetching hair-do such as they created for each model. New looks in spring make-up by Beauty Counselors Gai Fleming and Frances Gaines added the finishing touch.

At show time, Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, welcomed the guests, reminding them to "Blend one Macy's chapeau with an Eleanor Green dress, and your afternoon in spring will be a smashing success," and introduced Mrs. Frank Ford, president of the Marin Chapter of Dominican College Alumnae and Mrs. John H. Keefe who chairmanned the attractive models.

For an Eleanor Green Afternoon in Spring:

"Symphony Day", Mrs. Hugh Allen townish in two-piece black textured cotton with look of silk, the sheath bowed with white pique, the jacket short and easy. Her hat, an original by Trevi of New York, a small white Baku straw with white picoted ribbon trim.

"Luncheon at One", in a splash of blue cabbage roses roaming the Eleanor Green shirtmaker of Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson, hatted in Mueller's of San Francisco black milan cartwheel, with a flat tailored bow.

"Fashion Show", Mrs. Edward Grady choosing a blue and white paisley silk print sheath to team with Michael Terre's white Balibuntal straw pillbox trimmed attractively with white organza and pearls.

"City Shopper," in Sally Victor's bright yellow roll brim cloche, the cover hat from March Mademoiselle, Mrs. Jack Rakow and Eleanor Green's fullskirted classic navy shirtmaker accented with yellow daisies.

"Museum Tour", bright as a painting, a silk shantung peach geranium slim shirtwaist dress, highlighted by a small crowned black velvet breton from Alfreda of New York and Paris — Mrs. William Condeff, the tourer.

"Garden Party", the star of the season, Corelia's ripple brim mint green Baku straw blooming with California poppies accenting the brunettes of Lola Casentini and Eleanor Green's tangerine full-skirted, scoop-neck, shantung favorite.

"Reception at Five", recent Dominican graduate, Donna Zander in a pretty boldly-printed cotton of shocking blue, green and lilac featuring a high bodice and deep V-neck. Her hat another Corelia original, lilac, lovely and youthful.

"City by Six", the universal appeal of a black crepe sheath, the sheer top flattering and feminine. With it model Shirley Maley cloched in flower petals of pink and cerise.

"Come for Cocktails", Mrs. William Donohoe cool in mint green silk shantung, the skirt softly gathered at the hip; her hat for the man in her life, variegated tulle in tangerine, mint and champagne on a rippled brim mint green rough straw.

Next Tuesday, Fashion Focus looks ahead to the early Easter and presents "Sealed in Easter Style," to honor the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults with delightful accessorized outfits from the R and M Style Shops. The popular luncheon series is open to the public and reservations are made by calling Rickey's.

Bright Colors Prima Donnas Expert Says

"Brilliant hues are the prima donnas of the color world. Often they are overbearing," Dorothee Farber, interior decorator, warned in her talk at the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday afternoon. She advised using "strong" colors in smaller pieces, cushions and other accessories, and said they should emphasize a color tone in the drapes, rugs or furniture. By changing "accessories," the look of an entire room will be different, the decorator explained. She also warned against using too vivid colors at the windows of country homes. "They are disconcerting when you look at the bright outdoors," Mrs. Farber added.

Mrs. Farber, whose subject was "Color In Your Day," illustrated her talk by beautiful materials and explained that difference in texture changes the appearance of a color.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen, club president, introduced Mrs. Farber, who has her own shop in San Anselmo and also is an instructor in an adult education class at College of Marin.

Mrs. Cowen announced that Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp has been named first vice president of the club, succeeding Mrs. H. H. Cleaves. Mrs. Cowen reported that a hundred dollar check, proceeds of the recent fashion show at Rickey's, would be presented to San Rafael General Hospital.

Other announcements included the club's luncheon bridge party on March 31 and the rummage sale on March 21 under the co-chairmanship of Mesdames Charles Tacchi and Norris Rawles. The clubhouse will be open on the preceding day for donations to the sale.

An honor guest was Mrs. Joseph Raskob, whose husband's beautiful paintings are now being shown in the Northwestern Savings and Loan building in San Rafael. In her talk Mrs. Farber had referred to the painter's mastery of color in his work.

A tea followed the program. Mrs. Robert Swart, chairman of the hostess committee, was assisted by Mesdames Stephen Roberts, Donald K. Stuart, Eugene Baglietto, Hugo Chiappari, Millard Young and Edward R. Hindley.

Presiding at the tea tables were Mesdames Lloyd Tyler, Bert Brown, Charles Howell and Robert E. Munter.

Primrose Tea Being Hosted On March 19

Date of the traditional Primrose Tea of the Inverness Garden Club, an event which brings to the picturesque community on Tomales Bay, flower lovers from all parts of the Bay Area, has been set. The tea will be on Thursday afternoon, March 19, and the hours will be from 1 o'clock until 4. The club has chosen as the theme for the event, "Primrose Tea—and Treasures from the Sea." The public is invited.

Locale will be at the lovely Inverness home of Mrs. Lucian Knight. Markers from the highway will direct guests. Mrs. Knight's home, which is of traditional Inverness architecture, is set in an informal garden, bright with a variety of blooming spring flowers, overlooking the bay.

Enthusiastic members of the club have been scouring the local beaches for shells, interesting in their varied shapes and sizes, driftwood to spur the imagination and unusual rocks, all accessories for the modern flower arranger. These will be among the "Treasures from the Sea."

Another group has been busy choosing the best primroses for sale at the tea.

Because the club's first cook book, which featured recipes of the homemade breads served at the tea, was so popular, a second book will be introduced at this year's tea. The title will be, "Spreads and Breads" and the cover will be decorated with an original linoleum block print by Miss C. Dorothea Phillips of Inverness.

The traditional homemade breads, served with the tea will compete this year with tempting sandwiches using the spreads featured in the new cook book.

Two local artists, Mrs. Jerry Craig, whose specialty is watercolors of birds, and Mrs. Frank G. Short, who paints primroses, will also display their work.

Again, members of the Inverness Garden Club can be distinguished from their guests by their hats, which, according to long standing custom, are decorated with fresh flowers. The headgear always ranges from the sublime to the ridiculous.

St. Brigid's Guild To Plan House Tour

The regular meeting of St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Church, Sausalito, will be held on Tuesday, March 10, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Frank B. Williams, 654 Sausalito boulevard. All women interested in the work of the church are invited.

Further plans will be made for the Sausalito house tour planned for May 6 to benefit the church fund, according to Mrs. Harry Edward Beebe, president.

Assisting the hostess with refreshments following the meeting will be Mrs John Koenig and Mrs. Carl W. Spring.

SERVED YOUTH

Redwood High P-TA Gives Two Honorary Memberships

At a recent meeting of the Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Assn., honorary life memberships were awarded to Donald Kreps, principal of Redwood High School and Edwin Dreschel of Beivedere. This award was made in grateful recognition of these two community members who have outstandingly served its youth.

The honorary life members so chosen this year are both active members of the P-TA, and on behalf of that organization have just presented to the Redwood library a gift of $412 with which several sets of encyclopedias, dictionaries and other reference books have been purchased. This gift made it possible to buy all the titles on the list of referenee books which the library had urgently needed.

Another list of much-wanted books for supplementary reading in the fields of mathematics, science, English and languages is attracting the interest of parents and friends of Redwood who are invited to present books from this list to the school library. Leonard Martin of Ross, a parent of the school, was the first donor of books from this list when he presented six distinguished volumes of history and sociology.

Book plates, designed by members of Wallace MacDonald's art classes at Redwood, will be affixed to all books, giving the name of the donor and date of gift. The list of needed books may be consulted in the office of the head librarian, Miss Mildred Mateer, at Redwood, or through Mrs. Richard Sims, president of the Parent-Teacher Assn.

THE REDWOOD HIGH School P-TA recently presented the school library with several sets of encyclopedias, dictionaries and other reference books. Looking over the new books with head librarian, Miss Mildred Mateer, seated are, left to right, Donald Kreps, principal; Leonard Martin of Ross and Edwin Drechsel of Belvedere. Kreps and Drechsel were both awarded honorary life memberships by the P-TA. Martin, whose son is a Redwood student, donated six valuable volumes on sociology and history to the library.

AT LUNCHEON

P.E.O. Members Enjoy A Musicale

Mrs. F. E. Clinite and Mrs. John W. Bagshaw presented a delightful program of piano and organ music when Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald entertained Chapter NE, P.E.O. at luncheon Feb. 27.

Welcomed as guests were several members, Mrs. John H. Hemingway, formerly from Portland, and two Idaho P.E.O.s, Mrs. W. S. McBirney and Mrs. Roselee Ellis. Mrs. McBirney has been visiting for the past two weeks with her daughter, Mrs. W. D. Oberholtzer and returns to her home in Boise March 7. Mrs. Ellis is a new resident of Mill Valley.

The musical program included a piano number for four hands, played by Mrs. Clinite and Mrs. Bagshaw. This was Variations by Shubert, Opus 82, Number 2. Their piano and organ numbers were The Swan by Saint Saens, and Clausmann's Phantasy. Mrs. Clinite pleased with Shubert's Ave Maria as her organ solo.

A surprise in the program came with the recognition of 50 years in P.E.O. with Mrs. H. C. Jones the honored member. Mrs. Jones was presented the fifty-year pin.

Mrs. W. W. Howe will be hostess at the March 13 meetink when election and installation of officers will take place.

Bernheim-Fromhagen Rites In Sausalito

Lighted tapers tied with white carnations and white satin ribbons marked the pews of the First Presbyterian Church of Sausalito when Linda Fromhagen was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, William Jonathon Fromhagen of Sausalito, for her marriage to Robert Bernheim of San Francisco on Sunday, March 1.

The 3:30 p.m. single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Aaron Garnet Miller before the communion table of the church on which were bouquets of white stock and carnations. On either side of the table were seven-branch candelabra with tall white candles with arrangements of stock and carnations at the base. Branches of magnolia leaves completed the church decorations.

Linda's dress was a full skirted peau de soie gown with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace studded with irridescent sequins. Designed with long pointed sleeves, and a scalloped neckline, the empire waist was accented with a cummerbund closed in back with a row of tiny self-covered buttons. The floor length skirt fell into a chapel train. Her only jewelry was an "add-a-pearl" necklace started for her when she was a small child.

Her veil of silk net was waist-length and was attached to a cap of Chantilly lace and mini-pleated net trimmed with a band of seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of opened white tulips and white hyacinths.

Preceding Linda down the aisle were two of her college classmates, Carol and Joan Haley, twin sisters, as bridesmaids and Mrs. Harvey Rogers of Belvedere, only sister of the groom, as matron of honor.

All were gowned alike in dresse of periwinkle blue silk organza with cap sleeves and full skirts. Bows emphasized the high waistline and fell into panels in the back which were caught at the hemline of the street length skirts. The folds of the tulip bodice went into a V'd neckline in back. Their headdresses were large bows of blue silk organza and they all wore matching blue satin slippers.

Mrs. Rogers carried a crescent shaped bouquet of burnt orange and yellow opened tulips and Carol and Joan's bouquets were tulips of sunshine yellow.

Harvey Rogers was best man for his brother-in-law and long time friends of the benedict, Daryl Smith and Roger Hall, escorted the guests to their places.

Mrs. Fromhagen wore an electric blue faille sheath dress with three quarter length sleeves and the V neckline outlined with a half bow for her daughter's wedding. Her hat was of matching blue accented with a blue rose. She wore white gloves and her shoes and bag were blue. White phalaenopsis orchids were in her corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue and green printed chiffon dress with green accents. Her hat was green and her other accessories were blue. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

About 125 guests attended the reception for the young couple at the Sausalito Woman's Club immediately following the nuptials

Ronnie Gray was in charge of the guest book and later distributed rice to the guests from a heart-shaped basket.

Music was provided during the reception by Jack Nebergoll, harpist.

The church and clubhouse decorations were by Mrs. Edwin Long and George Huycke, friends of the bride's family.

Linda, who will be remembered as Miss Marin of 1957, attended Miss Greaves School in Sausalito and the Dominican Convent Lower and Upper Schools. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Dominican College where she belonged to the Art Club. She was employed by the Modern Eve Shoppe in San Rafael. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. R. Schrieber of Sausalito.

Bob is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules H. Bernheim of San Francisco and Corinthian Island. He attended San Francisco schools and received his bachelor of science degree from the University of California in Berkeley where he was a member of the Pi Lambda Phi fraternity. He is a member of the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere and, after college, served two years in the U.S. Army, stationed at Ft. Baker in Southern Marin. He is associated with his father in the latter's real estate investment firm in San Francisco.

Linda chose an avocado green suit with black accessories for her going away outfit. Her corsage was brown cymbidium orchids.

After a honeymoon trip to Southern California and Mexico, the new Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bernheim will be at home to friends at 240 Bayview drive in Belvedere after March 20.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Bernheim propose a toast following their wedding Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito. The bride is the former Linda Fromhagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fromhagen of Sausalito.

The Army Look

The "army" look has replaced the leggy look in spring and summer fashions. Arms and shoulders are bared in many dresses that have narrow ribbon straps. Sleeves, instead of skirts, are slit, from wrist to shoulder on long sleeves. Jumpers are worn without sleeves for cocktails, and suits have short sleeves ranging from five inches above the wrist to way above the elbow.

BLIND POSTMASTER—James A Mathews, who will be graduated from Guide Dogs for the Blind on Saturday with Roamer, his Chesapeake Bay retriever guide, is postmaster of Fort Fraser, B.C.

Guide Dog Will Help Postmaster Now

Another unusual occupation has been added to the list of jobs held by graduates of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc.

James A. Mathews, who is due to graduate with Roamer, a Chesapeake Bay retriever, on Saturday, is the postmaster of Fort Fraser, British Columbia.

Except for the early morning when his wife, Lorraine, comes in for an hour to sort the mail, Mathews is alone in the post office during the entire day. He addresses packages, issues money orders and sells stamps, all without assistance.

"There's no trick to it," insists Mathews. "All you have to do is keep everything in a certain place, then remember exactly where it is."

Sounds easy?

When he isn't waiting on customers, Mathews utilizes his time studying. After he gets a degree, he plans to work with the blind.

Graduating with Mathews in ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the school in Los Ranchitos are Floyd R. Brown of El Paso, Texas, with Mindy, a Labrador retriever; Leland C. Evans of Fort Jones, Siskiyou county, with Mandy, a German shepherd; Mary Jenkins of Oakland with Vanessa, a German shepherd; Albert Henderson of San Bernardino with Bruce, a German shepherd; James V. Hutchins Jr. of Burbank with Hildy, a Chesapeake retreiver; Edward A. Linck of Weiser, Ida, with Hardy, a Chesapeake retriever, and Irvin Sartwell of Santa Barbara with Betty, a German shepherd.

The public ceremonies will be followed by an obedience demonstration. Refreshments are served.

Bob Hope Won't Have Eye Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope, told his eye trouble would clear up without surgery, was expected to leave for the West Coast today to prepare for a Sunday television show.

In a bulletin last night from Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Dr. Algernon B. Reese said: "There is no indication whatever that an operation will be required. Further diagnostic studies are being made in an effort to determine the exact cause."

Hope has a blood clot in a vein behind his left eye which has affected his sight and stability.

Tam Boy Wins Speech Contest

Daniel McLean, 18-year-old Tamalpais High School senior, Tuesday evening was named winner of the annual Lions Club speaker contest conducted by the Mill Valley Lions Club, reported chairman William Woods.

McLean is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. McLean of 132 Belvedere drive, Mill Valley. His father is a civilian employee with the Army at Ft. Scott in San Francisco.

Tied for second place were Judith Duerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Duerson of 424 Oakdale avenue, Corte Madera, and Charles Putney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Putney of 123 Eldridge avenue, Mill Valley. Both are seniors at Tamalpais high.

The assigned subject was "Complacency—A Danger to America." The contestants addressed members of the Lions Club and their guests at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse.

Judges were Mill Valley City Councilman Peter H. Behr, attorney Rodric L. Robinson and Mrs. George W. Larson.

Woods said young McLean will compete in the zone contest with other Lions Club winners which will be held some time prior to March 22. Eliminations then lead to regional, district and area contests culminating with finalists from California and Nevada.

The district winner receives a $1,500 scholarship, Woods said.

Bill Continuing Gas Tax Passed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Legislature gave final passage yesterday to a bill continuing indefinitely the present rate of taxation on motor vehicles and gasoline and diesel fuel.

The bill by Sen. Rudolph Collier (R-Yreka) was approved in the Assembly 69-0 after winning earlier approval in the Senate.

Under existing law, fees and taxes on motor vehicles would have dropped on Dec. 31, 1959, by $35,965,000.

Collier's bill continues the six-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax, the seven-cent diesel fuel tax and the present schedules of weights fees and registration fees.

The measure now goes to the Governor, who is expected to sign it into law.

WHY YOUR I-J WAS LATE YESTERDAY

Most Independent-Journal subscribers received their papers later than usual yesterday.

The reason: The constant gas fire went out under a huge pot of metal of which stereotypers make the page casts from which the paper is printed.

It required about two hours to re-melt the metal. Casting of the more than 90 plates necessary to print yesterday's I-J was delayed by that much time.

One of the oldest employees in the mechanical department said this was the first time in his memory that this particular accident had occurred to slow up the paper.

All we can say is: Sorry, and it's not likely to happen again soon.

Reed Trustees To Study Bids For School Addition

Reed Union School District trustees will hold a special meeting today at 8 a.m. to consider the eight bids received for the Bel Aire School addition construction, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer announced.

The bids were opened Tuesday afternoon.

Because of the "complicated bid structure and the necessity of lengthy trustee study, we are not certain whether a contract will be awarded tomorrow morning," Stouffer said.

The two lowest bidders apparently were Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, with a total offer of $249,850 and a base bid of $214,750 and A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo with a total bid of $236,205 and a base bid of $222,864. Highest total bid was received from Martinelli Construction Co., Inc., of San Francisco, with $262,590 and a base bid of $243,000.

Deputy Quits Marin Staff; Better Pay

Deputy Sheriff Bruce McLeod, 24, who has been with the Marin County Sheriff's Office for two and on-half years, is resigning from the force to take a more promising position with the El Cerrito Police Department.

McLeod plans to quit on March 27 and start working as an El Cerritor police officer April 5. He and his wife, Patricia, will move from their Fairfax home to El Cerrito.

The deputy said the only reason he is leaving is because of better pay there. He said he will be getting starting pay as good or better than the $415 per month he is earning now after two and one-half years.

2 Congressmen Renew Trinity Power Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Republican Congressmen have renewed the administration's long fight for approval of its controversial Trinity River "partnership" plan.

California Reps. James B. Utt and Charles S. Gubser announced they intend to introduce new legislation calling for private development of the Trinity project's power. They said the revised bill would meet "many objections" raised against similar proposals in the past.

The announcement ended speculation that the administration might drop its proposal in the face of mounting Democratic opposition.

Under the "partnership" plan, originally drafted by Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. would develop Trinity's power potential.

A similar bill by Rep. Hubert B. Scudder, died in the House Interior Committee last year. Opposition to the plan has increased this year with the addition of more Democratic members to the committee.

Opponents, led by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), have announced that they plan to go directly to the appropriations committees to seek funds for federal construction of Trinity power plants.

But Gubser said he and Utt still were convinced the partnership plan is the best.

"In this year of a tight budget, when we need millions of dollars for missiles and research, federal airports and new irrigation projects," Gubser said, "I believe we should save the $60 million dollars which federal Trinity power would cost."

Farmers Hear Talk On Liberty

J. R. Nelson, regional field secretary of the California Farm Bureau Federation, Tuesday night addressed members of the Novato Farm Bureau Center on "What is liberty worth to you?"

Also speaking briefly at the meeting were high school seniors Donald McIsaac Jr. of Olema and Rebecca McClelland of Novato, who related their experiences as delegates to a youth conference last month in Asilomar.

Little League Baseball Should 'Keep House Clean'

Little League baseball season is just around the corner.

Baseball for youngsters of nine to 12 ought to be wholly innocuous. It ought to be good clean sport contributing to the healthy growth of mind and body of tomorrow's teen-agers.

A person ought to be able to say something good about Little League baseball without "having his head taken off" by a bitter critic.

A person should be able to offer constructive criticism without being "snowed under" by an avalanche of verbiage from fanatics on the other side.

But there seems to be little middle ground in connection with Little League baseball. And herein lies a fault that needs correcting.

The hard-working volunteers who give so generously of their time and effort to the cause of Little League have a responsibility to "keep their house clean."

They should get rid of managers who put winning above health and sportsmanship. (They first must accept the fact that there are some who have done this in the past.)

They should get rid of managers who, by their example, tend to teach profanity and unsportsmanlike conduct.

They should get rid of managers who condemn and deride and sometimes abuse youngsters for "kid" mistakes.

Conversely, managers who by example teach gentlemanly and sportsmanlike conduct should be singled out for special recognition — even when their teams win few if any games.

Maybe what Little League could use most is fewer trophies for winning and more for sportsmanship and "giving one's best."

In intent and purpose, Little League is great for many youngsters. Critics don't deserve to be heard unless they have something constructive to offer and unless they support the worthy goal of attempting to contribute to the healthy growth of mind and body.

Time To Kill Oak Pests

We received a card in the mail last week reminding us the time is close at hand when the oak tree must be sprayed again. It is a young California Live Oak and we cherish it.

The California Live Oak is one of our most handsome native trees. They are evergreen and have small, holly-like leaves. Their gracefully rounded contours add beauty to our Marin hills and dales.

Unfortunately, in recent years these lovely trees have been faced with a struggle for survival against various insect pests, prominent among which is the California Oak Leaf Moth. Our California Live Oaks have become pampered pets of their DDT conscious owners.

Never mind! They are far too precious a part of our botanical heritage to be permitted to perish. Remarkably, we are told the acorns of this particular oak are often delicious eating, not requiring the elaborate processing which the local aborginees usually gave other acorns to make them edible.

BUILD, DON'T DESTROY

An innocent man was killed when a woman leapt to her death from the seventh floor of a Los Angeles department store recently.

The man, a deaf mute, was selling flowers on the sidewalk when he was struck and fatally injured by the falling body.

Those bent on self-destruction little realize the harm they cause to complete strangers. Harmful actions are like evil ideas—once put into motion they often touch, defile and even destroy the innocent.

The opposite is true too. One who deliberately tries to put good ideas into circulation can help countless individuals whom he may never meet in this life.

To serve others for the sake of Christ and supply what is lacking in their lives, even means to build, not destroy.

when it involves personal inconvenience,

You will never become despondent if you seek in every way possible to bring peace and joy into as many lives as you can reach during a lifetime.

"With all humility and mildness, with patience, supporting one another in charity." (Ephesians 4:1,2)

Allow me, O divine Savior, to be an instrument of Your faith, hope and charity.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

It's Self-Made Man Who's Most Adept At Spoiling His Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Socrates, reputed the wisest man of antiquity, was given a hemlock cup for corrupting the youth of Athens.

Yet all he did was ask them questions designed to help them think for themselves.

In every period of history someone is accused of leading the young folks astray by giving them false ideas. Who today should be handed the lethal cup of hemlock?

Who is spoiling the present younger generation? That is, if we go along with the always popular generalization that the current crop of youngsters is the brattiest, the most irresponsible bunch of smart alecs ever to sorrow and sully a hopeful time.

If anything is spoiling the younger generation today it is the generation that preceded it — our own. If anything is setting them a bad example, it is us. If they are lax, it is because we have been lax with them.

The biggest culprits are probably middle-class parents, by far the largest class in America. The poor don't have the money to spoil their young; the rich, by and large, can afford to — but usually don't. Children born to wealth generally learn its value young.

It's the self-made man who started from nothing and struggled his way up to a $10,000-to-$15,000 a year salary who sometimes seems most adept at spoiling his own children.

Recently we dined at the home of such a man. During the meal he reminisced about how much tougher life was when he was a boy.

"YEAH, POPSY," jeered his 18-year-old son. "Tell us again how you used to have to swim three miles each way to school every day."

Later, when we were alone, the father remarked rather wryly on his son's lack of appreciation.

"I had to quit college after two years to help out my family," he said. "But my son has never had to work a day in his life. I give him a good allowance, he has his own car. I couldn't afford to join a fraternity. He belongs to the best one on his campus.

"BUT WITH all his advantages, he isn't paying any attention to his studies. I'm afraid he's going to flunk out. And that'll break his mother's heart."

Asked why he didn't make his son earn at least part of his way, he said: "Well, I want life for him to be easier than it was for me. I think I missed a lot by having to work too hard, too young."

Make Speed Limit Lower

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to express my view on the newly proposed speed limit of 65 miles per hour. To me it seems that you can not open your newspaper or any other without a bloody headline telling of another's misfortunate death.

If our speed limit exceeds 55 miles per hour, teen-agers will not need dragstrips. We will be inviting tragic deaths and encouraging teen-agers to race their cars if we do not take it upon ourselves to lower the limit.

San Rafael Needs Swimming Pool

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Many times during the warm summer days, our family has wished to go swimming or upon a picnic, but didn't wish to travel outside the San Rafael area.

At the present time there is available to the residents only the San Rafael High School swimming pool.

Although the price is low, the pool is always overcrowded and it's almost always impossible to swim more than two strokes without bumping into someone. Also there are no picnic grounds available.

It seems to me that it would be a very worthwhile project to build for the city a recreation area including a public swimming pool perhaps somewhere near Alberts Field. A small fee could be charged. This fee would provide the money to maintain the pool and the grounds.

Although this would appear to be an expensive project, the City of San Rafael would benefit in many ways. People would remain in the city rather than going elsewhere for recreation and spend their money in San Rafael. Also San Rafael would be more attractive to people who are looking for a place to live in Marin County.

About The Woman With Broken Hip

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the past three or four weeks there has been discussion regarding a patient at Ross General Hospital and implications that the County of Marin or the county physician per se has not taken care of a patient and she was allowed to remain in the hospital for seven days with no one taking care of her.

Twice this has been explained and aired before the Board of Supervisors and the article written up in the Independent-Journal with an implication that the county was derelict of its duty. In the sake of fairness I would like to reiterate the basic facts involved in this case.

The patient was admitted to Ross Hospital by a private doctor; 24 hours after admission, the private doctor called questioning the Welfare Department as to how he might get paid for taking care of this patient. When he found there was no way he might be paid, he called up the county physician's office saying he was turning the case over to the county.

He was informed by the county physician that the county had no liability in this case as the patient had sufficient insurance to pay for her hospitalization. This patient remained in Ross Hospital and on three or four different occasions the private doctor was told that the county had not entered into the case. He was told by the county physician's office, he was told by the Welfare Department, he was also told by the county physician who took care of the patients at Ross Hospital.

About seven days after the patient had been in the hospital, the son-in-law phoned me after he was requested to do so by the supervisor in his district. The situation was explained to the son-in-law and he was advised that if he would release the private doctor from the case, I would send an orthopedist down to the hospital to meet with the family.

This was done, the son-in-law released the private doctor, a local orthopedist who was not in the employ of the county was sent to Ross Hospital and met with the family and was asked to nail the broken hip of the patient.

This specialists' report said in this particular instance the fact that the patient had remained in the hospital five to seven days prior to surgery was of advantage to her rather than a disadvantage, because of her age and seriousness of condition. The hip was nailed by the private orthopedist and the patient was discharged from the hospital about seven days later.

The articles have always implied that the patient died. This is true, the patient did die, but she died two or three months later in the same hospital after readmission for a ruptured appendix. The death had nothing to do with the initial broken hip.

An opinion from the county counsel states the county physician has no liability until such time as the patient is accepted by the county doctor or the county physician's office. The private doctor is liable for the case until such time as he has been discharged or turned it over to another physician.

The outcome is the county has been criticized in a case where they were not actually involved with the patient at all and I hope this letter will help clarify the misquotes that appeared in the Independent-Journal twice.

China Reports Were Enlightening

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The articles on China by Dr. Chansekhar recently published in the Independent-Journal surely were enlightening. Never in the short story of our little globe, with its rising and falling of nations, have such multitudes been on such a unified march.

In this Christian country we may sing: Onward Christian Soldier — Like a mighty army moves — H—'s foundations quiver — We are not divided, one body are we — Satan's host does flee.

What can we say concerning these utterances?

In the Nation of February 25th, 1957 we read: "The dragon is awake. The dragon is awake! Awake! He breathes fire. Will he be unmanageable? He is dangerously vital, vigorous, energetic, bursting out at the seams."

Will there be room for all of us? Or who will do away with whom?

Can we learn to live together?

Toll Takers Have Problems Too; Be Sure To Sell Your Car's Pink Slip

Plenty of motorists crossing the Richmond - San Rafael Bridge have been known to mutter unkind words about the 75 cent tool. But consider the plight of the toll collectors.

One day last week a rather delapidated car stood at the toll station while the toll collector in his glassed-in box appeared to be busily doing something.

The line of cars lengthened and people began to wonder if this was a hold-up or some other dire event. The old car finally sputtered up the incline to Richmond.

Explanation of the delay? The toll collector was counting one dime and 65 pennies. This could never happen on a bridge with a 25-cent toll.

SPEAKING OF cars, it came as a sad shock to Robert W. Edison to learn that there is a sheet of paper called a "pink slip" involved in owning a car. Edison is a 30-year-old Sausalito artist.

Although he transferred his car and the monthly payments on it to another person, he never went to the loan company (legal owner of the car) to get the registered ownership changed from his name.

Edison went blithely off to Mexico on a trip and his car meanwhile began collecting parking tickets in San Francisco.

The fines totalled $145 but Edison, much wiser in the ways of buying cars after a session in San Francisco Traffic Court, got off with a reduced fine of $40.

A SEARCH of anti-loitering ordinances in Marin's nine incorporated towns turned up the most archaic one in the town of Ross.

Police Chief Joseph Regoni said the town's curfew ordinance dates back to the days when a bell was rung at 9 o'clock and all the children were supposed to be in bed.

For all practical purposes, the ordinance is archaic and unenforceable. But it sounds delightfully typical of Ross.

ROSS SCHOOL'S benevolent P-TA this Spring for the first time will give out block letters for outstanding scholars. A small torch attached to a white "R" and mounted on a blue background will show that the letter is for an honor roll pupil.

The school will still have athletic awards, a poetry contest, art awards, and a dictionary for the top scholar, all donated by the proud P-TA.

Job Discrimination Unit Blacks Out News

WASHINGTON (CQ) — A federal antidiscrimination committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon has refused to make public the size of its budget or the results of its surveys on the extent of job discrimination by government contractors.

The news blackout came amid reports of increasing Southern opposition to the President's recent proposal that Congress give the committee, which now operates under executive order, legislative authority to continue and broaden its activities.

A Congressional Quarterly reporter asked about the budget of the President's Committee of government contracts and the results of its so-called "compliance surveys" during interviews with members of its professional staff.

THEIR DECISION to refuse the information was appealed to Nixon's office, and it was confirmed there.

Nixon has been chairman of the committee since it was set up by executive order in August, 1953. Its job is to get government contractors to uphold the clause in their contracts forbidding job discrimination.

Actually, the committee has no direct power to enforce the antidiscrimination clause. It carries on a campaign of education and persuasion with employers, unions and workers.

It also receives complaints of violations of the antidiscrimination clause and passes them on to the government contracting agency. The committee later reviews the action of the government agency on the complaint and may suggest other steps to remedy the situation.

NIXON'S GROUP in 1957 asked government agencies to start annual surveys of the employment practices of a carefully-selected list of 500 plants owned by big Government contractors in cities with heavy Negro populations.

The survey was not limited to plants where job discrimination complaints had been filed, because the committee wanted to get a fair cross-section of industrial employment practices as a measure of the year-to-year progress of its own campaign against discrimination.

A scattering of results from the first survey was published in the committee's 1958 report to the President. But committee officials and Nixon's office refused to let Congressional Quarterly see the full results of the 1957 and 1958 surveys.

A spokesman said the committee regarded the survey findings as "matters for the internal use of the committee and not for publication."

AS FOR THE SIZE of its budget, the spokesman said it had not been made public in the past and "no useful purpose would be served by reversing that precedent."

The executive order under which the committee is now operating says its budget should be drawn from funds appropriated to the regular agencies — like the Defense Department — whose contract officers get help from the committee on handling discrimination matters.

The President last month asked Congress, as part of his civil rights program, to provide legislative authority for the work of the committee. That would give it a direct appropriation each year.

The bill recommended by the President would also broaden the committee's authority to handle complaints, make surveys and conduct hearings on job discrimination But power to enforce the anti-discrimination clause in government contracts would still remain with the department of government that signed the contract.

MAIL OR BRING ENTIRE SHEET TO INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL — San Rafael

I-J EDITORS want to know what features readers like best. We want YOUR opinion, and as an inducement to you to spend a little time answering our questions, we offer you a free chance on a $100 cash prize. Another benefit: Your opinion can help us improve the paper, which we are constantly striving to do.

CONTEST RULES

1. Study the questions below, and the comic strips and cartoons illustrated. Indicate what you read or do not read by checking the proper square for each feature. Answers have no bearing whatever on the prize award, but every feature must be checked in order to qualify your entry in the prize contest.

2. When you have checked your reading habit for each feature, then fill in your estimate of what the total paid circulation of the daily Independent-Journal will be on Wednesday, March 11, 1959. This figure varies from day to day—nobody knows what it will be, even at the I-J. Nearly 100% of the 25,000-plus I-J circulation is home delivered, but sales are also made daily at newsstands, stores, and from street stands.

3. The estimate nearest to the correct figure will be the winner. If more than one person sends in the winning number, the $100 prize will be divided equally. Only one award given per family.

4. Members of the I-J staff, employees of this newspaper, and their families are not eligible for the cash prize.

5. Mail or bring this COMPLETE PAGE to the Independent-Journal. If mailed, entry must be postmarked not later than Monday, March 9, 1959. It may be delivered to the I-J not later than 5:30 p.m. on Monday, March 9, 1959.

6. Announcement of the winner will be made in the Independent-Journal of Saturday, March 14, 1959, or as soon thereafter as possible.

CLUES TO HELP YOU WIN

The I-J's average daily net paid circulation for 3 months ending March 31, 1955, was 18,945. For 1956 this figure was 20,916 . . . in 1957, 22,926; and for 1958 it was 24,680. These were averages, of course—the count varied from day to day.

You can take it from there. Good luck!

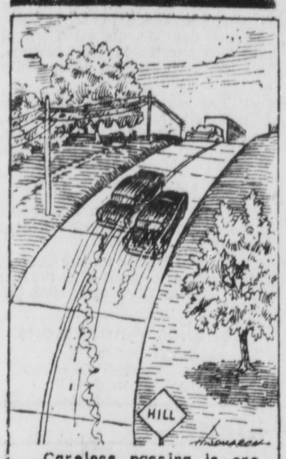
SAFE DRIVING TIP



Careless passing is one of the greatest causes of highway accidents.

It is impossible to see beyond a hillcrest or a curve, so you can never safely cross into the other lane at these points.

Naturally, says the Chicago Motor Club, it is irritating to follow slow-moving traffic near the crest of a hill. But the good driver will accept the delay rather than risk an accident. In the illustration, the impatient driver is about to pay for his carelessness.

Meeting Set On Lagunitas School Tax

Reasons why trustees of the Lagunitas Elementary School District have recommended a 25-cent tax increase for next year will be explained at a public meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Lagunitas School, it was announced today by Mrs. John R. Verzi, chairman of the San Geronimo Valley Citizens Committee for Education.

Mrs. Winifred S. Frederick, and possibly other trustees will attend the meeting, she said.

A special tax election has been scheduled for March 31.

If the tax increase to $2 is denied, the present $1.75 rate will automatically revert to the 90-cent maximum set by the State Education Code, said Mrs. Frederick.

"We're operating within a very tight budget. If enrollment should go high enough to require hiring just one more teacher," she said, "we would be unable to operate with even the $2 rate."

San Rafael Employees Ask Insurance Setup

San Rafael city employees are asking the city to give them a group insurance program to protect them on accidental death, injury or illness.

Caught without advance warning Monday night, the city council referred the request back to the employees, asking for more information on such things as cost to the taxpayers.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen presented the proposal to the city council on behalf of the employees association, headed by president Walter Mik.

The city manager presented a list of specifications outlining the insurance benefits sought, and asked the council to call for bids to see how much the insurance program would cost.

Andersen said the specifications were drawn up with the help of a representative from Minto and Wilkie insurance agency.

The proposed specifications indicate an estimated premium of $5.50 per month per employee for $5,000 life insurance. For 100 employees, this alone would cost $6,600 per year. No cost estimates are given for other benefits such as hospitalization, surgery and medical care.

Andersen said the employees hoped for calling of bids immediately so bids could be opened next month and a decision reached by the council before budget time.

But city fathers decided that calling bids would put the city in the position of having approved in principle the group insurance plan. They turned the program back to the employees and told them to call for bids themselves, then present the entire program with cost figures, indicating how much of the cost the city would pay.

The city manager said the employees are thinking in terms of asking the city to pay for the employees' insurance, and the employees themselves would pay for covering their dependents.

Hinting that a request for salary raises may still be coming, the city manager pointed out that the request for group insurance does not guarantee they won't ask for more money.

The first trans-Atlantic broadcast was made in 1925.

Marin May Get More Tidelands

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Marin County would get more tidelands in Richardson Bay than the county had asked for through a bill which has won approval of the Assembly Manufacturing, Mining and Oil Committee.

Marin Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister's bill, which had been held up a week ago pending filing of detailed description of the tidelands involved, won a committee "do pass" recommendation and moves to the Assembly floor.

McCollister said the description approved includes all state tidelands in Richardson Bay, whether filled or unfilled, as well as those reserved for highway purposes. The county had not asked for the latter area. McCollister said with the highway lands in county hands, Marin would have a closer control over their use.

Involved in the measure are virtually all tidelands in Richardson Bay not privately owned except those in Sausalito city limits. Some are within Belvedere's city limits.

An earlier bill granting to Mill Valley the state tidelands in the vicinity of the city's proposed small craft harbor has already been approved by the Assembly and is now in a Senate committee.

Union Sees Time Right For Raises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO says that business conditions appear to provide a favorable climate for unions to obtain wage increases this year.

The labor federation said yesterday unions should expect to win wage increases of 11 to 15 cents an hour or more. The estimate was made in the current issue of the collective bargaining report issued by the labor federation's research department.

'Martha' Next Offering Of Mill Valley Opera

The opera "Martha" by Friedrich Von Flotow will be the next production of the Mill Valley Light Opera Company, president Cary Smith announced today.

It will be given in a somewhat shortened version that has been translated from the original German into up-to-date English within the last five years.

"This will be the most ambitious and difficult production we have attempted," Smith said, "since there are 12 principal roles and a chorus of 50 in the opera."

Tentative presentation dates of May 21, 22, 23, 29 and 30 and June 5 and 6 have been selected.

Auditions for principal roles and chorus will be held next Monday and Tuesday from 7:30 to 11 p.m. in Olney Hall at College of Marin.

Stage director will be Paul Best of San Rafael, who has studied in Europe and sung and directed with the Municipal Theater in Basel, Switzerland. He has also played many roles in summer stock, musical comedy and light opera and has appeared on Broadway.

David Reed, choir director of the Mill Valley Community Church, will direct the chorus, and Thompson Chesnut of the College of Marin will again conduct the orchestra.

2 Experts Will Discuss Berlin Crisis On KQED

An American news specialist on Germany and a veteran foreign correspondent agree that while "any number of responsible people will tell you that there is a danger of war in the Berlin situation," during the past months there has been "little reflection of this in the news and attitude of the American people."

Clifton Daniel, assistant to the managing editor of the New York Times, adds: "There is a discrepancy somewhere. Perhaps a vital one." Daniel will appear with author and political scientist James P. Warburg on the telecast, "The Press and The People," a weekly review of American journalism, at 9 o'clock tonight on KQED (Channel 9). This week's program marks the first of two devoted to the critical situation in Berlin.

Although official Weather Bureau records date back only 70 years, precipitation figures were recorded near Harvard College as long ago as 1715 and barometric readings were documented in Boston in 1725 and 1726.

Dinner Slated Before Audubon Society Session

A get-acquainted dinner will precede the Marin Audubon Society's meeting tomorrow evening when Dr. L. Martin Griffin of Kentfield will show color slides and motion pictures of a 100-mile trip by raft down the Rogue River in Oregon.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room 40 of the College of Marin chemistry building in Kentfield. The no-host dinner preceding it at Woodlands Restaurant, Kentfield, will start at 6:30 p.m.

On Saturday the Marin Audubon Society's monthly field trip will begin at 9 a.m. at the entrance to Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

GROUP LEADERS

The group will be led by Stan Picher of Sausalito assisted by Mrs. William Allison of Taylor State Park.

The field trip and Friday night meeting are open to anyone interested.

A coming event of interest to Marin conservationists is the March 17 visit to the Rose Verrall Wild Life Sanctuary by Carl W. Buchheister, president-elect of the National Audubon Society, who will succeed John Baker at the end of 1959.

Audubon members are invited to take along a picnic lunch to be eaten at the Dickey Memorial House during Buchheister's visit on March 17 from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

BIENNIAL CONFERENCE

The Audubon Biennial Conference will meet at Asilomar State Park, March 21-24. Roger Lory Peterson, author, naturalist and photographer, will speak at the dinner meeting of March 22 and show his color film of "Flamingos on Four Continents." Reservations may be made with the National Audubon office at 2426 Bancroft way, Berkeley.

The Audubon Camp of California will hold five two-week sessions from June 21 through Aug. 29. The camp is located at Norden in the High Sierra near Donner Pass and Lake Tahoe.

The camp offers the opportunity to study plants, wildlife, rocks and soils under the leadership of expert naturalists. Application may be made to the Berkeley Audubon office.

Mrs. B. K. Dunshee of Ross, conservation chairman of the Marin Conservation League and of the Marin Audubon Society, plans to provide funds for three camp scholarships. She requests that contributions be sent to her at Box 513, Ross. Fee for a two-week session is $105.

Tomales High Band To Enter Contest

Tomales High School's marching band will be entered in the University of California band competition at Davis on April 18, the school announced today.

Four Tomales majorettes will compete in a Bay Area competition Saturday at San Francisco State College. They are Betty and Barbara Horick and Paula Sanderson of Point Reyes Station and Christine Valena of Salmon Creek.

SCIENCE CAN BE FUN — Ten handsome gifts—such as this book on "Mammals of Lake Tahoe"—are presented each week to boys and girls who write in a 25-word sentence about what they learned on the show and who correctly guess the "Mystery Object." Executive producer of the series, Benjamin Draper of Mill Valley, conducts this section of the program.

Good Science Is Fun, Says TV Producer

Thousands of boys and girls try every week to guess the mystery object on KRON-TV's "Explorers of Tomorrow," Sundays at 1 p.m.

Demonstrating that good science is also good fun is the program's executive producer, Benjamin Draper of Mill Valley, who heads the TV department of the California Academy of Sciences.

Every Sunday the show features a mystery object guessing game, an article deriving from some aspect of science. Clues, in jingle form are read.

To enter the contest, the children send letters or postcards giving their names, addresses, ages, grade in school, guess about the mystery object, and add 25 words about what they learned on the show.

It is no mystery to the show's executive producer that good science is good "show biz." Draper has been accoladed by Variety as "one of the country's top producers of quality television." He has won many awards as a producer and a writer. He has been executive producer of "Science in Action" program since its inception in 1950.

Perry Como Signs 'Biggest' TV Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Perry Como has signed a 25-million-dollar television contract with Kraft Foods, said to be the largest individual deal in TV history, his agent said today.

The announcement came in a telegram from Harry Sobol, personal press representative of Como.

Sobol said the amount involved is for 104 weeks, and includes programming, time and all costs of production, including guest stars.

Those participating in the contract signing, Sobol said, were: Robert Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co.; J. C. Loftis, president of Kraft Foods; Larry Kanaga, president of General Artists Corp., Como's booking agency; Jack J. Katz, Como's attorney; and Dan Seymour, vice president of J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency.

Sobol said all shows, including summer replacements, will be produced by Como's producing firm, Roncom Productions.

Como will continue for his present sponsors until June 6. Roncom will produce the summer replacement for these sponsors and also the summer replacement for Kraft for the Milton Berle show.

Como's premiere for Kraft will be Sept. 30, 1959. The tentative title of the show is "Kraft Music Hall Presents Perry Como."

CLASSROOM TV HAS DRAWBACK, KIDS DECIDE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Maybe 10-year-old youngsters like those commercials in the middle.

Fifth-grade pupils in a Kansas City school were asked to write their comments on a daily 30-minute educational television program.

The kids loved the TV, but they had this complaint:

"Thirty minutes is too long to sit still."

A school official said the programs may be cut to 15 minutes next year.

AERIAL ATTACK ON MARIN MOSQUITOES

Here is mosquito-eye view of airplane which sprayed DDT over Corte Madera marshlands this noon in the county's fight against the pests. The plane, owned by Medlock Dusters of Davis, swept over marshlands in Black Point this morning, then swung over the east Corte Madera tidelands. The aerial spray had been scheduled to start yesterday but was postponed because of strong winds. Independent-Journal photographer Bob Hax braved a dose of DDT spray to snap this picture from under the buzzing plane.

Ike, Security Council In Berlin Huddle

President Calls Special Meeting; Talks Last 2 Hours

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower summoned the National Security Council to a special meeting today and discussed the Berlin crisis for nearly two hours.

The White House disclosed that the President had called security council members into his office for the conference after his regular meeeting with the group.

SPECIAL MEETING

White House Press secretary James C. Hagerty said "The President called a special meeting of the council to consider the evolving situation in Berlin and the broader question of Germany, which the President and the council have been following closely."

Asked whether the special meeting indicated an emergency, Hagerty said he was not going to elaborate on his statement.

Besides the President, the council included Vice President Richard Nixon, Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy and Director Leo Hoegh of the Office of Civilian and Defense Mobilization. They are regular members of the council.

OTHERS PRESENT

Gen. Nathan P. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Director Allen Dulles of the Central Intelligence Agency also attended today's special meeting.

Hagerty was asked why he was making the announcement in view of the fact that the White House normally makes no reports on National Security meetings.

"I do this because the President told me to put it out," Hagerty replied.

Asked if the announcement was made to indicate the President was gravely concerned about the Berlin situation, he declined to reply.

Nikita Hints Delay In Berlin Deadline

LEIPZIG, East Germany (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he is prepared to postpone the May 27 deadline on Berlin—provided fruitful East-West negotiations are under way then.

Khrushchev said the May 27 date for turning control of access routes to West Berlin over to Communist East Germany might be postponed until June 27 "or maybe July 27. We are in no hurry."

He cited an old Russian saying: "Never count your chickens until autumn."

The Soviet Premier made his remarks in an impromptu speech at a luncheon given by the mayor of Leipzig.

The question was brought up by Ian Mikardo, member of the British House of Commons and a deputy chairman of the British Labor Party.

Mikardo asked Khrushchev what he meant to do about the May 27 deadline.

Khrushchev noted that the West has been calling the May 27 deadline an ultimatum.

"That is not true," Khrushchev said.

Then came his remarks about a postponement.

He warned again that the Soviet Union will sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany if the West refuses to sign a peace treaty with all of Germany.

Khrushchev also warned the West against using force on the Communist world.

"Whoever bumps us with his elbow will break it," he said.

He said the Soviet demand for a peace treaty was made urgent by the fact that nearly 14 years have elapsed since the end of World War II.

'HEAT WAVE' CONTINUES; 86 IN HUB CITY

It was the hottest day of the year again yesterday in San Rafael.

The thermometer atop the city hall registered a maximum of 82 degrees — the same mark it reached the preceding day.

San Anselmo had it hotter, with 86 degrees registered at the firehouse there.

The noon reading of 72 in San Rafael today was four degrees below those of the same hour yesterday and Tuesday.

The prediction: More sun; little change in temperature through next Monday.

Rebels In Algeria Kill U.S. Newsman

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—U.S. consular officials said tonight an American newsman was killed and another injured by rebel gunfire near Tlemcen in Algeria last night.

The officials said French authorities identified the dead American newsman as Homer Flint Kellems, but gave no address.

The injured American was identified as Will Hobbs, "from Arkansas." He suffered serious abdomen and chest wounds and is in a hospital at Tlemcen. The French said there was good hope for his recovery.

A German with the Americans was killed. He was identified as Airele Raimund, a student interpreter.

French military headquarters said the three men had entered Algeria from Morocco by car, and that it was swept by gunfire in the region of Tlemcen, about 35 miles east of the Moroccan frontier.

As far as is known, these are the first Americans to be killed or wounded in the more than four-year-old rebellion. There are many American oil and helicopter technicians in Algeria, besides diplomatic personnel.

School Fire In Arkansas Kills 21 Boys; Faubus Outraged

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Twenty-one boys perished in a fire that destroyed the main dormitory of a state training school for Negro boys at nearby Wrightsville today.

The doors of the big brick and frame building were locked and windows were barred with heavy metal screens.

Survivors had to kick their way through the tough double screens in order to get out of the blazing building. Sixty-eight boys, ranging in age from 14 to 17, were housed in the structure.

The bodies of 12 youths were found piled in a corner. Apparently they died in a vain attempt to break through a window.

Nine other bodies were found in the ruins.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus, who went to the scene as soon as he learned of the fire, declared it was inexcusable that doors were locked and no supervisor was on hand.

Angrily, the governor told newsmen: "If there had been an adult on duty with the keys at the time the fire started, I don't believe a single boy would have burned."

Faubus announced an investigation would be made to determine why the boys were locked up without arrangements for quick evacuation.

Firemen said they believed the fire may have started in a part of the dormitory away from the sleeping boys. Origin of the fire was undetermined, but an electrical storm was raging when the flames broke out about 4 a.m. and lightning may have struck the building.

Garbage Rate Hikes Asked In Mill Valley

A request that Mill Valley garbage rates be increased 15 cents per month to householders and 15 per cent to business houses was presented to the Mill Valley City Council last night.

No action was taken, pending a study of the request.

City Manager A. E. Almcrants told the council that the garbage collection franchise agreement between the city and the Mill Valley Garbage Co. runs until July, 1964.

COSTS INCREASE

In a letter to the council, Robert H. Andresen, attorney for the garbage company, pleaded increased operating costs as the reason for the request.

Residential rates are now $1.35, $1.60 and $2.10 monthly, depending upon elevation. These would be increased 15 cents under the proposed schedule.

Rates to business houses are $4.05 or $6.75 per month, depending upon frequency of collection and number of containers. Under the proposed schedule, these would be hiked to $4.65 and $7.75, respectively.

KEYED TO PROFITS

Almcrants noted that the existing agreement is keyed to profits of the company and that rates can be adjusted upward or downward depending upon that factor.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks said he felt the council should have more detailed data on the company's operating costs and financial operations to evaluate the rate boost request.

Almcrants noted to the council that San Rafael attorney Albert E. Bagshaw, representing the Smith Brothers interests, operators of the garbage disposal dump at Burdell near the north county boundary, submitted a letter to the city last October saying that if the city decided to open the franchise, his clients would be interested in negotiating.

Mayor Huber and City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson were designated to study the existing agreement and the application.

West Coast Satellite Goes In Orbit

INGLEWOOD (AP)—Discoverer I, whose fate has been a mystery since it was launched last Saturday, achieved its goal of becoming the first polar-orbiting earth satellite, the Air Force announced today.

The ballistic missle division said that since blastoff from Vandenberg Air Force Base, 41 tracking reports have been received. All, it added, coincided closely with the predicted orbit.

WEEK OF SUSPENSE

Thus ended nearly a week of suspense over whether the 1,300 pound cylinder, second heaviest satellite launched by the United States, entered orbit.

After a perfect launch, signals were heard for a few minutes. But tracking stations at various points on the earth were unable to receive the expected radio signals on schedule.

Sporadic signals have since been received.

AIR FORCE STATEMENT

The Air Force said:

"It is believed the sporadic nature of the radio signals being received from Discoverer I result from the continuously changing altitude of the satellite which consists of a 19-foot-long second-stage rocket as it moves through space.

"Although it appears that the radio beacon is transmitting full time, the highly directional signals are only occasionally being beamed toward the earth."

Data indicates the orbit's highest point is 519 miles from earth, lowest point 176 miles, and it completes a circuit every 95.5 minutes.

Sun Satellite Breaks Russian Radio Record

WASHINGTON (UPI)—America's Pioneer IV space robot, sweeping toward a permanent orbit around the sun, today broke the long-distance radio transmission record claimed by Russia for its Lunik.

Officials at the Jodrell Bank radio-telescope tracking station reported they received radio signals from the U.S. space vehicle at a distance of 305,000 miles.

The Pioneer signal later was picked up by the Goldstone tracking facility in California's Mojave Desert. Goldstone reported the vehicle was 306,000 miles from the earth and traveling at 4,250 miles an hour.

The Russians claimed to have received signals from their Lunik satellite at a distance of 300,000 miles.

The Pioneer, which soared past the moon yesterday, already is orbiting the sun, but will move into its permanent orbit on March 17.

Government scientists said that for a period "comparable to the life of our universe" the gold-plated, 20-inch long instrument package will continue to revolve around the sun every 382 days.

The man-made planet's orbit, much more elongated than that of the earth, will vary from 91,744,000 to 105,829,000 miles from the sun. The earth, in an almost circular orbit, averages 93 million miles from the sun.

Pioneer IV made its closest approach to the moon at 2:24 p.m. (PST) yesterday. Dr. Homer J. Stewart, planning director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said the pass "grazed the moon's gravitational field."

However, the robot did not come close enough to attain any new information about the moon. Its chief contribution to science apparently will be further data on the two radiation belts that have been discovered within 12,000 miles of the earth.

Henry Lopez Quits As Tax Appraiser

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Henry P. Lopez, unsuccessful Democratic candidate for secretary of state in the November general election, resigned today as a state inheritance tax appraiser.

He took office only last Feb. 16 and had not formally undertaken the job, according to State Controller Alan Cranston, who said Lopez cited "personal reasons" for the resignation.

Nationwide Counterfeit Ring Smashed; 25 Held

CHICAGO (AP) — The Secret Service said today it has confiscated more than $750,000 in counterfeit $100 bills and arrested 25 persons in smashing a nationwide fake money ring.

Agents seized $726,200 in fake bills before they could be put into circulation, said Paul J. Paterni, head of the Secret Service Chicago office.

Another $25,000 passed in 22 states has been recovered.

Paterni said two Chicago ringleaders of the operation were seized last night.

However, he said the printing equipment of the gang was not found.

Paterni said, "We have recovered all of the money passed through department stores and other merchants."

He said he did not know how much of the spurious currency was not accounted for.

Paterni said much of the counterfeit money was purchased by undercover agents, without actual payment of cash, in consignment deals for which a price of $9 per $100 was agreed upon.

The Chicagoans named by Paterni as head of the counterfeit ring are Alphonso Amabile, 40, and William Rabiolo, 39.

4½-Year Hunt Tracks Down Man Who Deserted Family

A former Marin laborer and carpenter, wanted for failing to support his wife and daughter, realized today the law has a long arm and as long a memory.

James Wilbur McDaniels, 39, was in jail in Mesa, Ariz., today. He deserted his family about 11 years ago.

Investigator William Bemiss of the Marin County district attorney's office, who has been pursuing the elusive McDaniels for four and one-half years, announced that he finally nabbed his man yesterday.

McDaniels will be returned to face a felony non-support charge in Marin County. Bemiss said the man's wife and daughter, now 13, have drawn several thousand dollars in Marin welfare funds since 1953.

Investigator Bemiss said he got word last August that McDaniels was working on the North Fork Dam project out of Estecada, Ore. He asked the district attorney of that county to get the man, but McDaniels vanished. Then last December, Bemiss tracked him to Jerome, Ariz. But when the Marin warrant got there, McDaniels had skipped.

Yesterday, Federal Bureau of Investigation officials told Bemiss a man by that name had been picked up for having stolen property 10 days ago in Mesa, Ariz., and had been released after paying a fine. Bemiss contacted Mesa police by radio and had McDaniels arrested.

Man Wrongly Accused Of Rape Sues

A young San Rafael mechanic, picked up last year on a rape suspicion but freed later as the wrong man, is suing for $50,000 damages in Marin Superior Court.

William Donald Johnson, 22, says he was arrested unlawfully with a warrant on March 3 last year by the then Sheriff David Menary and his men and held for 25½ hours before release.

Sheriff's deputies arrested Johnson after the victim, a 37-year-old Mill Valley woman, had "positively" identified Johnson as the man who had driven her to Shoreline Highway and forced her to submit to perverted acts. Johnson insisted he was at the Marin Bowl at the time and passed a lie test with flying colors. The woman, after hearing Johnson's voice, admitted she was mistaken, and the man was released.

Johnson is suing for $25,000 compensatory damages for being "humiliated, degraded, and slandered." He also wants $25,000 exemplary damages.

He is suing the County of Marin, former Sheriff Menary, Chief Criminal Deputy Ellis Seibert, Inspector Carl Sears, the woman who accused him, and 10 John Does.

Marin Labor Hears Lt. Gov. Anderson

Lt. Gov. Glenn M. Anderson in Marin last night called for labor support for Gov. Edmund G. Brown's tax program as necessary to "build a solid foundation" for California's future.

The lieutenant governor spoke at the annual installation dinner of the Marin County Labor Council at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Calling his speech "The New Look in Sacramento," Anderson told the 200 Labor Council members and guests: "Governor Brown's program, following exactly his promises made during his campaign, has been one of putting one brick of courage and reason after another . . . to build the foundation for the state to meet its needs and to grow."

All of the program—including that part which would add $256,600,000 annually to California tax bills—needs organized labor's support, he said. "I think you know that the special interest groups affected by the governor's tax program are ganging up on it," he declared.

The Los Angeles County Democrat said he normally has opposed all consumer taxes, such as beer and cigarette taxes proposed by Brown. But, he said, he is wholeheartedly supporting the governor's tax and budget proposal because "from an over-all point of view, it's sound, it's reasonable, it's courageous."

Water, taxes and budget are the three most important items of "Pat" Brown's program, said the lieutenant governor.

He called Brown's water program "the first real plan to solve the state's biggest problem."

Endorsing Baown's campaign call for laws to curb abuses of organized labor's rights by dishonest union officials, Anderson said.

'SELFISH FEW'

"The time has come under the leadership of a governor that is friendly to labor, through legislation passed by a Legislature that is friendly to labor, to enact laws eliminating the future possibility of a selfish few to bring discredit on the entire labor movement."

He said that "for the first time in California history" the majority of the legislators are "true friends of labor."

Enumerating pro-labor measures introduced in the Legislateur, he stressed particularly the bill for a Fair Employment Practices Commission.

BROWN'S REQUEST

"Governor Brown asked for the FEPC bill in his inaugural address," the speaker pointed out. "At his request, the bill, AB 91, carries under the author's name the statement, 'introduced at the request of the governor.' This is the first time a governor has so acted.

"At the hearing a couple of weeks ago, I was the first witness called upto testify for the passage of AB 91. This I understand is also the first time a state constitutional officer has appeared before a legislative committee in behalf of an FEPC bill."

Anderson was introduced by Leonard H. Wessell, outgoing president of the labor council and Carpenters Union member from Larkspur.

United Meat Dept. To Be Open Nights

United Market in San Rafael announced yesterday afternoon that its meat department would remain open evenings and on Sundays, thus removing a bane of all-hour grocery shoppers.

Meat department hours at the store on Third street between Irwin and Grand avenue in San Rafael will be open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.; Fridays until 10 p.m., and Sundays from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m.

The butchers, covered by a contract with Butchers Union Local 115 in San Francisco, are paid time and a half for longer than an eight-hour day. They are paid $2 extra if their eight-hour shift runs into "unconventional hours," said a union spokesman.

Unconventional hours are defined by the contract as anytime on Sunday or before 8 a.m. or after 6 p.m. on a weekday. The contract requires that a butcher be on duty when meat is sold, even if it is already packaged.

Ben Saccone of Wissman's United Markets said decision to offer fresh meat for sale during evening hours and Sunday was reached in response to public demand, particularly by shoppers from outlying parts of Marin County who said they were unable to shop at the San Rafael store except in the evening or Sunday.

Marin County Labor Council Seats Officers

Albert De Mello, member of Retail Clerks Union 1119 from Corte Madera, was installed as 1959 president of the Marin County Labor Council at a dinner meeting in Rickey's Rancho Rafael last night attended by some 200 unionists, their wives and guests.

De Mello took over the presidency from Leonard Wessell, Larkspur carpenter. Wessell, a camera fan, was presented with a tripod and telephoto lens by the council.

PRESENTED PIPE

Harold Rossman of Fairfax, editor of the North Bay Labor News, was presented with a new pipe.

Installing officer Lowell Nelson of Vallejo, new chief of the housing division of the state Department of Industrial Relations, in a brief speech before the installation called for labor support for the program of that division.

Frye of Electrical Workers Union 551, Fred MacDonald of Typographical Union 729 and Warren Ewing of Teachers Federation 1077, trustees.

Installed as members of the executive board were Pat Dailey of Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union 126, H. R. Norton of Painters Union No. 83, James Smith of Butchers Union 115, Kay Southard of Office Employees Union 3, Thomas W. Rail Car Loadings Decline In 1958

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Carloadings on the nation's Class I railroads declined 14.9 per cent in 1958 to 30,206,494 cars fro 35,500,148 in 1957, according to the Association of American Railroads.

Foes Of Civic Center Broaden Campaign

A group of commuting Marin taxpayers who joined in opposition to the Frank Lloyd Wright-designed county civic center broadened its attack yesterday to include county spending in general.

The group, in an organizational meeting at the Fireman's Fund Insurance Co. meeting room in San Francisco, decided to try to bring to a vote of the people a proposal for an ordinance to limit expenditure by the county board of supervisors in any one year to the amount collected from taxes in that year.

Such a measure was advocated last summer by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. The association tried to place it on the ballot, but it was ruled unconstitutional.

John W. Gottschalk of Fairfax, who was elected co-chairman at yesterday's meeting, charged that Marin County created the office of county counsel to give legal advice and handle civil suits "because District Attorney Weissich opposed the civic center."

Weissich, informed of Gottschalk's charge, called it "an absurdity."

"I handled the condemnation suit to acquire the civic center site," pointed out the district attorney. "I filed and won court action to establish the right of the county to locate the civic center outside of San Rafael.

"My private, personal opinions on this controversy have no bearing. As far as official opinion, it's none of my business—it's up to the board of supervisors."

Elected co-chairmen with Gottschalk were Claudius A. DesChamps of Sausalito and Eugene Neuschwander of Greenbrae.

One man employed by Bank of America was among the more than two score at the meeting. Others were all Fireman's Fund employees.

John R. Streiff, who was elected secretary - treasurer, said the group is trying to broaden its membership to include people who work as well as live in Marin and commuters working at other San Francisco companies.

H. C. Little Co. Adds Line Of Gas-Fired Boilers

H. C. Little Burner Co., Inc., expanding San Rafael manufacturing firm, has added a complete line of gas-fired boilers to its list of products.

Many new features are built into the line, the company reports.

A draft hood with a new vertical-to-horizontal design reduces over-all height and permits basement installation with six-foot ceiling.

A new aluminized steel flue-collector resists corrosion from all gases. It is tightly sealed in a cement-filled groove to prevent gas leakage.

Patented staggered fins on sides of sections present maximum heating surface area to the action of the hot flue gases.

Dress Rehearsal

EATON, Ind. (UPI) — Maybe the burglars who broke into the Robinson Trucking Co. were just practicing. They broke a window, climbed into an office and pried open a safe with a crowbar. But they left without taking any of the money inside.

County Puts Pay Raises In Budget

Proposed salary raises for about half of Marin County's 640 employees were ordered included in the 1959-60 preliminary county budget yesterday by the board of supervisors.

But mere inclusion of suggested pay hikes, totaling about $100,000, is no guarantee that all will be granted or that some positions not presently recommended for increases will not get them.

The board members made this clear by indicating they will take a long, hard look at the county salary situation between now and budget time.

Any salary changes approved by the supervisors before printing of the preliminary budget will be listed on supplementary sheets to be inserted in the printed budget book.

Still more changes are likely to be made between adoption of the preliminary budget and approval of the final budget. County Administrator Donald A. Jensen said he hopes the final budget will be adopted by June 25, in accordance with a time schedule set up last fall.

Pay hikes recommended by Jensen would bring an overall boost of about 3 per cent in county salary costs. The recommendations are based on a survey he made of pay schedules for key positions in six surrounding counties. Cost-of-living factors were not considered.

The supervisors agreed with Jensen yesterday that a second survey should be made of salaries paid by the other counties as of next July 1, when the new fiscal year will start. If those counties have granted some additional raises, the Marin board will have to mull the possibility of doing likewise.

Modern Wagon Train Pushes Off For Alaska

DETROIT (UPI)—Wagons roll! The signal was given early this morning and a 15-vehicle caravan carrying an estimated 50 men, women and children and all their worldly possessions, began a modern-day wagon train trek to Alaska.

The Detroit 59ers were on their way to a new life—to settle in the Kenai Peninsula of Alaska and homestead 160 acres of the government's 150,000 acres of land there.

A rising sun struggled valiantly through haze on the horizon to give its blessing on the hardy group of modern pioneers as they began their long journey.

4,000-MILE TREK

A month from now they expect to be building their new homes in Alaska, more than 4,000 miles from Detroit.

Ronald Jacobowitz, 23, leader of the mass migration, said he won't know until the last minute how many persons will be in the first caravan.

"I'd say we'll have 15 to 18 families," he said. "Others will make the trip later after they have sold their homes here and straighten out personal problems."

IN MOVING VAN

Jacobowitz will drive a 1934 moving van. His wife, Patricia, and 20-month-old daughter, Sandra, will ride in one of the six new station wagons in the caravan. The station wagons are being delivered to new car dealers in Alaska.

"We've sold our own cars," Jacobowitz said. "There won't be any need for them because there aren't any roads where we plan to settle."

FOOD SUPPLY

The homesteaders are taking a year's supply of food with them, plus tools, furniture, clothing and farm supplies.

When they reach the virgin Kenai Peninsula, they will live in tents until their new log cabins are built.

"Then we'll have to clear the land for tilling," Jacobowitz said. "There are 150,000 acres on the peninsula — plenty of land for every one."

Pt. Reyes Trustees Await Appointment

Trustees of the Pt. Reyes School District did not meet last night as scheduled because no one has yet been appointed to fill board vacancy created by the recent death of board member George P. Nunes, reported trustee James L. Spaletta of Inverness today.

A meeting will be called as soon as the county superintendent of schools makes the appointment, said Spaletta.

Hoy's Opens New Display Rooms Today

Opening of Hoy's two new display rooms of stereophonic sound equipment and a showroom for color television is set for this evening at the firm's expanded San Rafael store at 1133 Fourth street.

The expansion means an additional 24,000 square feet and an investment of about $25,000. Owners of the business are Ralph and Thelma Hoy, who have a second outlet at 550 San Anselmo avenue in San Anselmo.

Proprietors of the building are David and Nathan Pugatch. The expansion has added a rear entrance from the San Rafael city parking lot at Third and A streets.

The San Rafael Hoy's will remain open until 9 o'clock this evening and prizes will be given away to visitors. "All you have to do is walk in," said Mrs. Hoy.

An expansion sale of television sets and phonographs has been in progress at the San Rafael outlet and continues this week.

Gould Testifies In Treason Hearing

Randall C. Gould of Mill Valley was called to testify before a federal grand jury in San Francisco yesterday in the government's treason case against John W. and Sylvia Powell and Julian Schuman.

Gould was publisher of the Shanghai Post and Mercury during part of the time the Powells and Schuman operated the Shanghai Monthly Review under the Communist government. He claims the Reds forced him out of business but the Powells continued their publication sometime longer.

Sedition charges against the Powells and Schuman were dropped in U.S. District Court recently after the judge remarked the case appeared to be one of treason rather than sedition. A treason case is now being prepared.

New Muir Beach Water Setup Eyed

Plans for a complete new water distribution system covering the area currently served by the Muir Beach water system were presented last night to directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District by member John Leslie Smith.

Chairman Charles A. Borden announced the plans would be studied and cost estimates prepared "so that we can have all consumers at next month's meeting to discuss methods for financing improvements."

A chemical purifier is contemplated as a part of the project, Borden said.

U.S. Asks Iraq To Pay For Killing Burns

The United States State Department has claimed compensation from the government of Iraq for the families of Eugene Burns and two other American citizens killed in last year's Iraqi revolution, it was announced yesterday in Washington.

Officials said they would not disclose the amount of compensation sought until negotiations start in Baghad with Iraqui officials.

Burns was in Baghdad in connection with the Holy Land Foundation, which he headed, and his work for Middle East oil and tourist promotion interests, when killed last July 14. Also killed were Robert Alcock and George Colley.

Oakland Hiker, 17, Trapped On Cliff At McClure Beach

A 17-year-old hiker from Oakland, trapped between pounding seas and a 300-foot cliff near McClure's Beach, was led to safety last night by two Coast Guardsmen from Pt. Reyes lifeboat station.

The victim, Jack Tilman, had been hiking in the area with an unidentified friend when he found himself trapped halfway down a 300-foot cliff about 6 p.m. His friend went for help.

Chief Boatswain's Mate N. J. Harpin and Commissaryman 2/c Milo Wallage threated their way down the cliff and found Tilman had somehow made it down to the narrow beach below. The Coast Guardsmen led him back up the cliff and to safety.

"He may have been frightened but was not hurt," said Wallage.

JUDGE ORDERS MUSIC TO STOP AT 10:30

CHICAGO (UPI) — Arthur Amrich took his wife to court with the request that the judge enjoin her from playing their home organ late at night.

Mrs. Amrich said she sat late at the console because her husband refused to turn off the lights so she could sleep.

Manslaughter Defense Calls Witnesses Up

The defense called witnesses today in the preliminary hearing for Henry Picard, 62, of Kent Woodlands, president of the Burgermeister Brewing Corp., who is charged with felony drunken driving and manslaughter.

Picard is charged in connection with the death of Emrys Williams, 52, Sonoma bank manager, in an auto collision on the Golden Gate Bridge Jan. 8. The hearing opened yesterday before Judge Lenore Underwood in San Francisco Municipal Court.

California Highway Patrolmen Blair Barkley and T. Allyn Bragg testified yesterday that they smelled alcohol on Picard's breath and watched him walk unsteadily after the car he was driving collided with one driven by Williams. They said they believed Picard was too drunk to drive.

Patrolman Bragg said Picard's eyes were "bloodshot and watery." Patrolman Barkley quoted Picard as saying, "I was on the wrong side."

San Rafael attorney Howard K. Morehouse testified that just before the collision he saw a car approaching him in the inside southbound lane as he was driving south.

Arthur R. Sauter, of San Rafael said that just before the accident he saw a car pass him northbound in the southbound lanes.

The four witnesses agreed that they could see the white dividing lines on the bridge pavement despite the fact it was raining.

Orrick Won't Take Education Post

SACRAMENTO (AP)—William H. Orrick Jr. eliminated himself from consideration for appointment to the state Board of Education yesterday.

The San Francisco attorney, nominated for the post 11 days ago, ran into the question of conflict of interests. He is a partner in a law firm which serves as bond counsel for the state Board of Education.

"Despite the fact that in my best judgment there is no conflict of interest—legal or moral—I have nevertheless concluded that this development has created a serious barrier to my acceptance of the appointment," Orrick told Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

$235 In Sports Gear Stolen From Auto

Golf and badminton equipment worth $235 was stolen from the trunk of a car parked in San Rafael, the owner reported to police Tuesday.

Kaye Hunt of 20 Eucalyptus road, Belvedere, told Police Matron Joann Walsh a set of golf clubs worth $140, other golf equipment, a badminton racquet worth $20, clothes and four albums of folk dance records were stolen from the trunk of her convertible, parked while she was at work.

Miss Churchill Again Fined As Drunk

LIVERPOOL, Eng. (AP) — Actress Sarah Churchill was carried into court by four policemen today and found guilty of being drunk and disorderly.

Shoeless, and clad in a leopard skin coat, blue slacks and white socks, the 44-year-old daughter of Sir Winston Churchill was fined 40 shillings ($5.60).

Miss Churchill was booked in her married name, Sarah Beauchamp.

Her husband, society photographer Anthony Beauchamp, died of an overdose of sleeping tablets in 1957.

She was arrested this morning after a quarrel with a taxicab driver.

When her name was called to answer the charge, she scuffled with court attendants. Finally, the four policemen, with two women court attendants escorting them, carried her into the dock.

On Jan. 16, 1958, Miss Churchill was fined $50 in Malibu, Calif., on a charge of being drunk in public.

ACTOR'S DEAD IF SEEN ON THIS TV SHOW

San Quentin Prison's closed circuit television station opened last night with the most monotonous program in video history.

The camera was focused continually on a 12-foot gap in the prison wall, which was made to give access to construction trucks. It is closed by a steel gate and floodlighted at night.

The channel's only viewers were sentries who watched on two 12-inch television sets with orders to shoot any "actor" seen making an exit.

The television will save money by replacing an officer during night hours, Associate Warden W. O. Achuff explained. Guards are nearby during the day, but at night the closest one is about 200 feet away.

Tam District To Have Summer School Again

Trustees of the Tamalpais High School District last night authorized the reinstatement of summer school in the district's three high schools and approved a request for federal aid in the purchase of $19,000 in language teaching equipment.

Board Chairman Howard I. McGill at the close of the meeting announced he plans to file for re-election in the May 19 trustee election.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle told the board that summer school this year will be supervised by a dean of students at each school instead of by one overall director.

Reinstatement of the summer school was one of the pledges made by the board before the recent successful tax rate increase election.

The board authorized district filing for National Defense Act federal aid to purchase language teaching laboratory equipment after a report by Robert Torrey, director of curriculum, citing its value. Under terms of the act the federal government would pay one half of the $19,000 cost.

The board also accepted the resignation of Mrs. Gale Strombom, senior district bookkeeper, who resigned because of a change of residence.

The board approved an accreditation appraisal of district schools in the 1950-'60 school year by the California Assn. of Secondary School Administrators. Cost of the appraisal was estimated at about $400 per school.

Miller Would Equalize Pay Of Retired Vets

WASHINGTON—Legislation to equalize pensions of retired members of the armed services has been introduced by Congressman Clement W. Miller (D-Corte Madera).

The bill, H. R. 4215, would base retirement pay on current pay schedules, correcting an inequity that arose last year when a new military pay law was adopted. Miller's bill represents a co-sponsorship along with a number of other representatives and senators.

"Failure of the Military Pay Act of 1958 to keep faith with those who have served our country in time of war and in peace has resulted in disillusionment among both active and retired members of our armed forces," Miller declared.

He said that an equitable retirement system — equalizing retirement pay for all those of equal grade and length of service—has historically been a great incentive to tenure in military service.

Last year's law established new retirement schedules for those on active duty, but made no provision for those who had retired previously.

The new bill would affect a number of retired members of the armed services who live in Miller's 1st District.

Phone Company Boasts Good Safety Record

Employees of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. in Marin County last year lost time in a work accident only once in every 1.4 millon work hours, reported manager W. W. Miller.

He added that there was only one accident for every 100,000 miles driven in telephone company vehicles. Both figures represented an improvement over the 1957 record.

The fourth largest of the 48 states, New Mexico, has only 155 square miles of surface water.

Soviet Russia declared war on Japan on August 8, 1945.

Residents Will Enjoy Planes, Pilot Predicts

Residents of Gallinas Village "actually will come to enjoy having planes overhead" if a private airport is developed on the Smith ranch north of Gallinas Creek, it was argued today by private pilot Jack Horn, who faced opponents of the airport proposal on the KTIM radio program "Marin Souiding Board."

Horn and Robert de Young, an employee at the Smith ranch who would operate the airport, argued in favor of the airport. Opposing it were Gallinas Village residents Eugene Campbell and Robert Tanem, who protested the port would prove a hazard to residents and tend to decrease property values. The program will be rebroadcast from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

FEARS COLLISION

"We're not opposed to all air traffic in Marin County," declared Tanem, "but we feel we have a right to demand a reasonably safe area in which to raise our families. We don't want to come home and find the maimed bodies of our wives and children after a Piper Cub has collided with an F104 from Hamilton Air Force Base.

"We thought the issue was a dead one after the board of supervisors turned it down."

Horn said airport advocates intend to bring the matter up again for a possible reverse decision by the board.

"We had assumed that the board of supervisors would have backed up their planning commission, which recommended the site for the airport," he declared

FALSE RUMORS

"The people have been badly misinformed on the flight pattern planned," said de Young. "They have reard false rumors that there would be commercial planes and jets landing on the runway."

The airport would include a 3,000-foot runway and would serve only "10 or 20 light airplanes at the moment," de Young said. "As time goes by, a few more might be added."

Campbell declared: "My main objection is to the suggested use of the land, not so much to the flight pattern. An airport there is not compatible with the best possible growth of the area."

Tanem questioned the assertion that the airport would remain a small one.

"If this is to be nothing but a small airport, then why do you need radio control of aircraft (as was reported by de Young) and why do you need a 3,000-foot runway for just 10 airplanes?" he demanded.

DECEPTIVE STUFF, THIS PLATE GLASS

George E. Minahen Jr., of Fairfax, a driver for North Bay Lumber Co. of Corte Madera, made what seemed to be a routine delivery yesterday at Steele's new Patio Shop in San Rafael.

Minahen delivered his goods and walked out the open door.

But the door wasn't open. It wasn't even a door. It was a newly installed plate glass window, freshly polished.

Minahen, only scratched, although one lens of his spectacles was broken and his watch crystal cracked, got back in his truck and drove away, muttering.

False Arrest Suit Case Goes To Jury

A Marin Superior Court jury went into a huddle today to decide whether a Fairfax nurse should get $35,000 for damages she says she suffered when she was arrested at the Tamalpais Convalescent Home in Santa Venetia last year.

The jury got the case this morning after a two-day trial before Judge Jordan L. Martinelli.

Mrs. Virginia Smith, a registered nurse, is suing the former operators of the convalescent home, Emil W. Yanke, his wife, Lydia, and their daughter, Erma V. Baker. Mrs. Smith, represented by attorney T. G. Fitzgerald, charges she was falsely arrested and wrongfully imprisoned on March 4, 1958.

She alleges that she was on business at the home when sheriff's deputies jailed her on the complaint of the Yankes.

Tried for disturbing the peace in Marin Municipal Court, Mrs. Smith was acquitted. She then filed a false arrest suit against the convalescent home operators.

Attorney Lawrence Wright is defending Mr. and Mrs. Yanke and their daughter.

Tam Science Teacher Honored

Raymond Palmer, head of the Tamalpais High School science department. has been chosen as one of five outstanding Bay Area teachers, having exceptional records in student participation, who will be honored at the annual American Society for Metals program in Berkeley next Monday.

Dr. Earl Parker, professor of metallurgy at the University of California, will be speaker.

Union, PT&T Getting Nearer To Agreement

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Union and company negotiators planned to meet this afternoon in another attempt to avert a threatened strike by 17,500 Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. workers in Northern California and Nevada.

Negotiations yesterday reportedly found the two sides still about $4 a week apart, although agreement was reached to extend the contract covering the employees until 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The original contract expired last week, but has been extended several times since.

The presidents of the various locals of the Communications Workers of America involved in the dispute met last night and gave the CWA's bargaining committee a vote of confidence.

A company spokesman said PT&T had raised its offer of wage boosts from 50 cents to a dollar in some classifications and had offered to grant four-week vacations after 30 years service.

Representatives of the CWA countered by lowering wage demands from an original $6 to $5 a week across the board for plant workers and $4 a week for traffic employees.

Federal Conciliator Ralph C. Patterson is sitting in on the negotiation sessions.

Firemen Free Bird Trapped In Sign

The plight of a little English sparrow caught in the metal flashing of the Farrington Jones real estate office in San Anselmo yesterday afternoon attracted a crowd of would-be rescuers, but no one had a long enough ladder until the fire department arrived.

The sparrow had caught its leg in the metal edge at the top of the building's false front and was fluttering vainly to free itself. Its mate was darting around close by in a protective manner.

The fire department ladder did the trick. Asst. Chief Frank Sousa climbed up and gently bent the metal to free the bird. The frightened sparrow flew away.

4-H Members Receive Funds To Aid Projects

Three Novato 4-H Club members late yesterday received checks that will buy animals for their livestock projects, as a feature event of 4-H Club Week in Marin County.

The checks were presented by Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president, in behalf of the Marin County Savings and Loan Assn. They went to Joan Marzell, Jon Pronzini and Bill Wright, all members of the Novato Aggies 4-H Club.

Jon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reno Pronzini of 1432 Indian Valley road, will use his $100 check to purchase a feeder steer, under terms of the award by the savings and loan firm. The steer is to be exhibited at the Sonoma County Fair in July.

Each of the $50 checks awarded to the other two winners will be used to purchase four feeder lambs. Joan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marzell of 1459 Indian Valley road; Bill, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wright of 2478 Vineyard road.

The awards were offered by the savings and loan firm to encourage youths in raising beef cattle and sheep. Candidates were nominated by community 4-H Club leaders.

Observance of 4-H Club Week will conclude with a ham dinner to be served by the four clubs in Novato at the Marion School from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Saturday, to benefit a summer camp fund.

Opening event of the week was a 4-H parade in Novato last Saturday.

On Monday evening, the Pt. Reyes-Olema 4-H Club hosted a potluck dinner for parents and families. Cooking project members of the Pt. Reyes club cooked the meat loaf and beef stew for the dinner. Boy members of the cooking project baked cakes. Other members helped serve.

Adeline Arndt and Linda Gondola gave two cooking demonstrations following the dinner, which was attended by more than 100 persons. Club member Betty Horick presided.

In San Rafael, window displays prepared by the 70 members of the San Rafael Community 4-H Club are calling attention to 4-H Week. They have been placed in windows of Dolan's Fabric Center, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Coast Title Co. of Marin.

In Novato, three clubs have placed window displays in Pini Hardware Store, Novato Saddlery Co. and Novato Pet Store.

A livestock exhibit will be shown through Saturday in the lobby of the Novato branch of the First National Bank, featuring (at different times) sheep, a calf and other animals. All four Novato 4-H Clubs are participating in the exhibit: Novato Aggies, Novato Valley, Miwok and Novato Jets.

MRS. DUNCAN ON STAND — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan is seen on witness stand during Ventura trial in which she is accused of plotting the murder of her son's wife. She burst into tears from time to time under questioning. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Duncan Denies Witness' Allegation

VENTURA (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, accused of loving her son so much that she arranged the slaying of his bride rather than share him, denied from the witness stand today that she had slept with him since adolescence.

Her 30-year-old son, Frank, 30, stared stonily ahead as his 54-year-old mother's attorney asked her:

"During Frank's adolescence, young manhood or manhood, did he ever sleep with you?"

The courtroom crowd gasped. Then Mrs. Duncan replied:

"Never. No, he never."

"Frank always had a separate bed or bedroom, is that correct?" asked attorney S. Ward Sullivan.

"That is right."

Mrs. Emma Short, testified before the grand jury which indicted Mrs. Duncan that she believed the mother and son slept together as, she said, there was only one bed in their apartment.

Sullivan next asked Mrs. Duncan about her quarters in jail here, and she burst into tears.

"It's very narrow, I have my bed on one side. There is a steel door and a chain on the door and they shove my food under the door."

Mrs. Duncan yesterday testified of her strong mother's love of Frank.

To keep that love, the sometimes weeping woman testified, she tried to kill herself. She even plotted to kidnap her son and hold him by force.

But, she insisted, she did not go so far as to plan the murder of her son's bride, Olga Kupczyk Duncan, 30, as the prosecution contends.

Two Charges Eliminated In Novato 'Mau Mau' Brawl

Everyone has calmed down in the all-woman brawl that raged on Novato's main street early yesterday.

After tempers had cooled, and three Novato women had spent the night in jail, the district attorney looked over the situation and decided the only charge filed would be disturbing the peace.

Two sheriff's deputies, badly outnumbered by the battling women, had booked one of them on suspicion of resisting arrest as well as drunkenness. But the drunkenness and resisting arrest charges were never filed.

Scheduled to appear in court this afternoon were Miss Irene Azevedo, 29, a milker-landscaper living on Indian Valley road; Miss Mary L. Beltramini, 25, and Mrs. Ollie Birdwell, 31, both unemployed waitresses living at 1120 Vallejo street. All three are free on bail put up by bail bondsman James Stragnola.

Sheriff's deputies Arthur Wiggins and Bruce McLeod said the street fight apparently started when Miss Beltramini called another woman a "Mau Mau." Friends of the other woman rose to her defense. Miss Beltramini's backers rallied to her aid.

Battle lines shifted back and forth all the way from Black Point Inn to the Plush Horse bar and the center of Grant avenue in Novato.

Southlanders Give Terms In Water Dispute

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Southern California legislators today sent Gov. Edmund G. Brown their proposed terms for settling the state's water problem.

The terms:

1. Adoption of a constitutional amendment validating state water contracts.

2. A bond issue tied to the amendment and of sufficient size to complete the Feather River Project to the Mexican border.

PLEDGING FUND

3. Pledging the entire investment fund for water development, as advocated by the governor.

Assemblyman Carley V. Porter (D-Compton) said the Southern California caucus, of which he is chairman, approved the first two points unanimously and the third by a strong vote.

The caucus, representing 47 of the 120 votes in the two houses, met privately late yesterday.

Porter, who planned to convey the results to the governor, said it's his feeling that Brown looked favorably on the constitutional amendment and its tied-in bond issue in recent discussions with him.

ACCEPTANCE IN DOUBT

It still was not clear, however, that either the governor or the pro-northern Senate would accept the southern program.

Brown has said repeatedly he didn't think a constitutional amendment was necessary. He emphasized that any state water contracts could be broken only by approval of both the Legislature and governor.

Porter said he had no idea whether the Senate, which blocked all water rights amendments in 1957 and 1958, would accept the south's program.

Council Puzzles Why It Levied Subdivision Fee

The objective of Mill Valley's year-old ordinance requiring a $300-per-acre subdivision fee to cover possible drainage expenses developed into a mystery at last night's city council meeting.

The matter came to a head when George P. Roemer, developer of the Rancho Las Lomas tract above the municipal golf course, protested that the charge should be based on density rather than acreage.

City Engineer Albert H. Siemer, who urged adoption of the measure last year when development of the Garden Hills section was under consideration, said the purpose was to build up a fund which would be available to relieve drainage problems.

He noted that successive tract activity would "accelerate" runoff to the point that lower areas would require larger storm drains or other corrective measures.

Mayor Robert D Huber expressed surprise. He said he thought the purpose was to create drainage facilities in the immediate areas of the subdivisions.

Councilman George W. Blackwell, however, accepted Siemer's interpretation of the ordinance. He claimed council minutes would sustain the point.

Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks suggested a possible solution might lie in levying some sort of charge against lots as building permits are issued. Councilman Elizabeth Rodman said, "Requiring a subdivider to do this is just as logical as asking him to put in streets and sewers."

The matter was put over to the March 18 meeting for a study of the minutes.

The council deliberated on the wisdom or relaxing its eight-year-old ordinance which forbids operation of a business on a 24-hour basis without specific council permission.

Paul Pickart had petitioned for permission to operate an "around the clock" unattended self-service laundry in the Mill Valley Shopping Center on Miller avenue. Pickart told the council he operated a chain of such coin-operated establishments and "a survey shows that 8 per cent of my business comes from customers who wash between midnight and 5 a.m."

"I don't know why," he concluded.

Police Chief James R. McGowan recommended against the operation. "Being unattended, it would likely become a hangout for undesirables," he claimed.

By a 3-2 vote, the council denied Pickart's application, after Mrs. Rodman declared, "The lack of all-night grocery stores and other businesses helps to maintain the quiet, home-loving, peaceful town we have and we want to keep it that way."

Also at last night's Mill Valley City Council meeting:

1. The council continued to April 1 further consideration of the proposed Bolsa avenue assessment district.

2. City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson was authorized to prepare an amendment to the dog licensing ordinance permitting the city to issue licenses to dog owners not residents of Mill Valley.

3. Mayor Huber appointed a committee of Councilmen Rodman, Blackwell and Sheeks, plus City Manager A. E. Almcrants, to study changes in the business license ordinance.

4. An appeal by auto dealer Herb Shapiro for permission to place a marquee type sign on his Miller avenue salesroom was denied.

5. A recommendation from the parks and recreation commission fixing fees at the golf course at $2 monthly for those 18 and under was approved.

6. Another commission recommendation granting limited use of the men's locker room at the golf course to the Mill Valley Teen-Agers Assn. at specified time also was approved.

ANTI-GOVERNMENT RIOT IN COLOMBIA

While Bolivians were rioting against the United States this week, discontented students in Bogota, capital of Colombia, turned their wrath against their own government. This photo shows students stoning police in demonstration Tuesday in which cars were overturned and windows broken throughout the city. At least 19 policemen and many students were injured before order was restored. (AP Wirephoto)

Russian Protests Boarding Of Trawler By U.S. Navy

LONDON (AP) — The Soviet Union today sharply protested the U.S. naval boarding of a Soviet trawler suspected of cutting a trans-Atlantic cable off Newfoundland.

Moscow Radio said a note handed to U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson in Moscow described reports that the trawler Novorososisk had damaged the cables as "a complete invention."

The boarding took place off Newfoundland last Thursday. The officer who headed the American search party, Lt. Donald Sheely of Falls Church, Va., said later that the fishing boat "probably quite likely" had something to do with the break in the cables but he didn't know whether accidentally or intentionally.

"The note," said the Moscow broadcast, "points out that the incident involving detention of the Soviet trawler was undertaken with provocative aims in mind.

"The Soviet government expects the U.S. government to take all necessary measures to prevent the recurrence of such unwarranted actions toward Soviet fishing trawlers engaged in fishing in the open seas."

The note said the trawler "did not cause any damage to underwater telegraph or telephone trans-Atlantic cables."

"Reports in the U.S. press on this question were a complete invention," it declared.

The U.S. State Department had notified Moscow immediately with an explanation that the boarding was carried out under terms of an 1884 treaty. This treaty—originally signed by the czarist regime but later subscribed to by the Soviet Communist government — permits inspection of documents of ships suspected of damaging oceanic cables wilfully or through negligence.

Lt. Sheely reported the Soviet crew offered no resistence to the inspection.

Adm. Jeroud Wright, commander of the U.S. Atlantic Fleet, had exonerated the Soviets earlier of deliberately cutting the cables after getting a report that the American search party found "no indications of intentions other than fishing."

Anti-American Rioting Spreads To Two Other Cities In Bolivia

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—U. S. Information Agency offices in Cochabamba and Oruro were targets last night of anti-American riots that previously had taken two Bolivian lives. Calm returned today.

Dispatches from Cochabamba, an industrial center and tourist resort of 80,000 in central Bolivia, reported a mob sacked the USIA office there after police turned demonstrators away from the U. S. consulate.

After breaking down the door, said an account published by the newspaper Prescencia, the rioters threw furniture and documents from the balconies and set them afire. Others carried away typewriters and other office equipment. Windows were smashed. Police finally dispersed the mob with tear gas.

At Oruro, a western Bolivian city of 52,000, demonstrators broke windows of the USIA office with stones.

No injuries were reported in either incident.

Police maintained a strong guard around the U. S. Embassy and the USIA office in La Paz, the capital.

The embassy itself was deserted. Staff members moved to Calacoto, a suburb, after rioters smashed windows Monday in anger over an article on Bolivia in Time magazine.

WHY RIOTS HAPPENED

Bolivians Didn't See Wisecrack's 'Humor'

By THOMAS J. STONE

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — How could a magazine article touch off violent anti-American demonstrations in Bolivia, traditionally friendly to the United States?

Bolivians violently objected to one paragraph of a two-column article in the Latin-American edition of Time magazine on the country's acutely serious economic situation.

The paragraph, not carried in the U.S. edition of the magazine, quoted a U.S. Embassy official as saying that "the only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The article made it clear the official was wisecracking.

But it was not funny in a country which over the centuries has lost territory to its five neighbors — Chile, Peru, Brazil, Paraguay and Argentina.

Bolivia, with a population of four million, is beset by one of the worst cases of inflation in South America and is up to its ears in critical economic troubles. As Time pointed out, U.S. aid has saved Bolivia from economic catastrophe.

But when Bolivians read Spanish translations in La Paz newspapers of the Time article, the reaction was explosive.

Two thousand marched on the U.S. Embassy Monday and hurled stones through the windows, set fire to U.S. automobiles and shouted anti-American slogans. The U.S. Information Service library was invaded, windows were broken, and books and magazines were destroyed.

Police, trying to control the mob, used tear gas and fired riot guns. In the melee a student was killed.

In another riot the next day a dentist was hit by a stray bullet. Almost 40 policemen were hurt. All government and business offices closed and thousands marched through the streets.

No Americans were injured. They remained in their homes, protected by police. The embassy was closed.

The U.S. Embassy denied that any of its officials had made the remark that offended.

Time's editor-in-chief, Henry R. Luce, expressed regret but didn't mention the quotation.

The Bolivian government was first informed Friday by its embassy in Lima that Time was carrying an article unfavorable to the country. When a shipment of several hundred copies of the magazine reached La Paz, it was seized and taken to the Presidential Palace.

President Hernan Siles Zuazo met with Congress and his cabinet for seven hours.

After the session the government issued a communique which said in part: "The cabinet met last night to consider the publication in Time of that which hurts our feelings and which we cannot accept."

Not until the Saturday morning papers came out did the general public hear of the article.

Kansas Leads U.S. In Farm Income Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Agriculture Department reported today that farm income rose in 39 states last year with Kansas showing the largest increase—242 per cent.

The report was based on realized net income. This is the money left over after the farmer has sold his crop and paid all production expenses.

The Agriculture Department's publication, "The Farm Income Situation," said farm income was unchanged in one state (Kentucky) and declined in eight.

The average Kansas farm in 1958 showed a realized net income of $2,526. This compared with $739 in 1957, a poor agricultural year for the state.

Oklahoma farms, with the next largest increase—100 per cent—averaged a net spending income of $2,129.

Production expenses were higher in all states except Vermont.

The realized net income per farm in 1958 was $2,750, up from $2,232 in 1957. The gross farm income per farm in 1958 was $7,993. The average production expenses per farm were $5,243, leaving $2,750 as the farmer's spending money.

California's realized net income per farm was $7,236, down 3 per cent from 1957.

State Auto Assn. Backs Transit Plan

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Endorsement of the Bay Area's rapid transit system by the California State Automobile Assn. was greeted today as a "major milestone in transit development" by John Peirce, general manager of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District.

Peirce complimented the automobile association for its "forthright stand" and looked forward to the time when the Bay Area "will have found a real and lasting solution of congestion problems."

FISHERMAN SEES HIS BOAT WRECKED

Dominic Gringale could only watch helplessly as Baby, his 35-foot crab fishing boat, was battered to pieces on the rocks below San Francisco's Cliff House yesterday. Gringale lost control of the vessel when a steering cable broke. He scrambled to safety. The boat was valued at $6,000 and was not insured. Gringale, 40 years a San Francisco fisherman, was buying the craft on installments—he had only $500 left to pay. (AP Wirephoto)

UCLA Policy On Lecture By Pike Hit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The Episcopal bishop of California says "ecceliastical religion has as much right to be heard on a university campus as have other religious systems such as humanism or materialism."

Rt. Rev. James A. Pike of San Francisco made the statement yesterday while defending UCLA's decision to dismiss classes so students could attend his lecture.

The administration ordered the 9 to 10 morning classes dismissed so students and faculty member could hear Bishop Pike's address.

The action brought cries of "compulsory attendance" and "religious interference" from students and faculty alike. Some professors said they would hold classes anyway.

The administration pointed out classes were let out for football rallies, so why not for religious lectures?

When the time for his lecture rolled around, the furore had died down. Only about 2,000 of the school's 16,000 students attended.

Voting was made compulsory in Puerto Rico in 1917.

Larkspur To Call Bids On Bridge Approach

The Larkspur City Council last night authorized City Manager Ronald E. Piper to call for bids on the Magnolia avenue approach to the Bon Air Bridge as soon as a notice of completion is received from the county public works department.

The road extension is expected to cost the city about $34,000, reported Piper. The county, which shared the cost of building the $150,000 bridge, has already awarded a contract for construction of the bridge approach on the north side.

The bridge, which vaults Corte Madera Creek, will join Larkspur at a point near Marin General Hospital Construction of the two approaches is expected to be complete in August.

Subcontractors on the bridge have filed $31,000 worth of liens for labor and materials, but the city "is in the clear," reported Piper, since it has been insured by a bonding firm.

The councilmen postponed taking any action to close a county dump just north of the Larkspur business district as requested by the Larkspur School District.

A letter from the school district asked that the dump be closed because of its location near the site of a new school to be constructed by next fall.

Councilmen voted to postpone action until a date closer to the opening of the school.

Councilmen last night also:

1. Called for a breakdown of costs on a proposed public address system that Oakley Dexter previously agreed to install in the council chambers for $334.
2. Acknowledged as state property two parcels near the Greenbrae freeway interchange formerly within the city limits, but condemened by the state.
3. Postponed action on a petition for annexation of four Elm avenue parcels owned by T. J. McWaters and John Keller until other nearby Palm Hill area residents are consulted to learn if they also would want to come into the city.
4. Granted Dexter a variance from offstreet parking requirements in connection with his enlargement of Dexter's Television and Radio at 25 Ward street.

William E. Seward, who later became the U.S. Secretary of State responsible for the purchase of Alaska, is said to be the first lawyer ever to use insanity as a legal defense. It was during the trial of an accused murderer at Auburn, N.Y., in 1847.

Bodies Of 2 In Missing Family Found

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) —Authorities said today it was virtually certain the bodies of a man and a young girl found yesterday in a debris-strewn field were those of members of a family missing seven weeks.

Positive identification by facial characteristics was described as impossible. Officers said there was no indication how long the bodies had lain there.

Discovery of the bodies may be the first break in the mysterious disappearance last Jan. 11 of Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29; his 27-year-old wife, and their two daughters, aged 5 and 1.

State Police Capt. W. W. Blythe said the bodies were lying face down with the child's body beneath the man's. The man's hands had been tied behind him with a red tie. The girl's hands had not been tied.

The bodies were believed those of Jackson and his youngest daughter. They were taken to a laboratory in Richmond for examination. Cause of death could not be determined immediately.

The bodies were stumbled upon by two Fredericksburg men near a mound of sawdust two miles west of here.

Authorities said clothing worn by the man and the girl resembled that worn by members of the Jackson family.

The Jacksons' car was found Jan. 12, eight miles from their home at Apple Grove.

Foundation For Blind, Aide Accused Of Misusing Funds

NEW YORK (AP)—The W. C. Handy Foundation for the Blind, Inc., and a fund raiser, David A. Ulrey, "seemingly dipped very deeply into a golden barrel for their own selfish purposes," the New York state attorney general's office charged today.

The foundation was established by W. C. Handy, Negro composer of "St. Louis Blues" and scores of other melodies, who died last March 28 at 84. He had been blind for years.

Action against the foundation and Ulrey was taken in state Supreme Court by the office of Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz.

An affidavit said "there is no doubt but that a substantial sum" has been "mulcted from the channels of charity" through actions by Ulrey and the foundation, which was set up to raise money to aid the blind.

The affidavit was attached to an order signed by Justice Edgar J. Nathan which directs Ulrey and the foundation to show cause next Thursday why they should not be restrained from soliciting funds pending further legal action.

Hub Secret Hearing May Be Illegal

A secret hearing held by the San Anselmo City Council's three-man investigating committee may have been illegal, in the opinion of California's former attorney general and present governor.

A current issue of California City, a magazine circulated to municipal officers, quotes an opinion issued last Dec. 12 by then Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown.

It holds that a committee of less than a quorum of a city council may hold secret sessions, but that the Brown Act, forbidding secret meetings of public bodies, applies to any committee that constitutes a quorum of the council.

The three-man committee constituted a quorum of the San Anselmo five-member council, and therefore "could run the city by our votes," as Councilman Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. pointed out in announcing his resignation from the committee Tuesday night.

Hospital Personnel Policy Discussed

Directors of the Marin County Hospital District reviewed general and specific policy sections of a proposed hospital personnel policy outline Tuesday afternoon in a special meeting at Marin General Hospital.

Pence said Marjorie Quick, representative of the hospital nurses personnel committee, participated in the discussions.

HER BABY'S BACK AGAIN — Mrs. Ruth Flores holds her 9-week-old son, Eric Leon, as she and the infant's abductor, Mrs. Betty Jean Yocom, confronted each other in Ontario police station. FBI agents found the baby in Mrs. Yocom's home last night. Policewoman is in background. (AP Wirephoto)

Kidnaped Infant Found Safe; Abductor Held

ONTARIO, San Bernardino County (AP)—A kidnaped infant was found safe last night in the arms of a chunky 37-year-old woman who admitted taking him from his crib while she was baby-sitting five days ago.

Betty Jean Yocom retreated to the bathroom of her darkened home 10 miles from Ontario when she heard Federal Bureau of Investigation agents kicking in the door. Hugged to her bosom was 9-week-old Eric Leon Flores.

In a bedroom the agents found a brand new bassinet and bottle sterilizer and other indications that Mrs. Yocom had lavished a frustrated maternal love on another woman's child.

The baby, ill with a cold when he was taken from beside his sleeping twin brother last Friday, appeared to have been well cared for, the FBI said.

The baby was reunited with his mother, Ruth Flores, 35, widowed mother of six, at the Ontario police station.

Mrs. Flores and the friendly woman she had allowed to sit with her children faced each other tearfully.

They had first met last Feb. 17 when Mrs. Yocom, calling herself Ann Williams and identifying herself as a social worker from a local church, called on Mrs. Flores to offer any help that might be needed. Mrs. Flores' husband, Joseph, was killed in a gas explosion last summer and the community of Ontario has contributed food, clothing and needed services to the family ever since.

Mrs. Yocom, who is 5 feet 2 inches tall and weighs about 180 pounds, offered to take care of the Flores children. She telephoned the next day and repeated the offer. Last Friday she called at the house again and this time Mrs. Flores agreed to go out with a friend for a few hours, leaving Mrs. Yocom with the children, who range in age from 8 to the infant twins.

When Mrs. Flores returned, one of the twins was gone.

A widespread search was carried out for the baby and his kidnaper.

In the end it was the baby himself who led to the capture of Mrs. Yocom. His loud wails last night made a neighbor suspicious and the FBI was notified.

Mrs. Yocom said she is separated from her third husband, a Los Angeles truck driver, Stephen Yocom. She said she is the mother of a 19-year-old son, but did not say where he is

Asked why she took Eric, she said:

"He looked so much like my own son when he was a baby."

She was booked for investigation.

Water Corp. Dissolves With Big Loss

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Commonwealth Development Corp., which tried to develop water where the Legislature didn't, voted to dissolve yesterday, facing a loss of $53,000.

Secretary of State Frank Jordan, chairman of the board, acknoweldged operating debts of $10,000, donations by the six board members of $34,000 which are being written off as a loss and a suit for $18,000.

Jordan blamed Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for blocking the corporation's efforts to start a 250-million-dollar program including five dams on the Yuba River.

"We tried to do something unique," Jordan said, "because the Legislature is tied up in politics. We wanted to develop water and power without cost to districts or taxpayers through self-liquidating revenue bonds."

Commonwealth incorporated in 1953. It failed to launch any of several proposed projects, Jordan said, because PG&E withdrew an offer to buy power from projects built by Commonwealth in cooperation with local water districts.

Jordan said the corporation will be formally dissolved in 60 days.

The San Francisco millionaire and the other two men convicted with him were ordered by Superior Judge Richard C. Fildew to return May 4 for their trial on a second plea of insanity.

Convicted with Breckinridge, who created a national sensation several years ago by announcing he would undergo surgery to become a woman, were Cecil G. Mahaffey, 22, and Thomas Jordan, 25.

The other two defendants were accused of accompanying Breckinridge on a trip with two Pebble Beach brothers, aged 11 and 13, to various resorts, including Las Vegas.

EXHIBITION SERIES OPENER

Giants' Miller To Start Against Score Saturday

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Manager Bill Rigney today nominated the soft-throwing Stu Miller to start on the mound when the San Francisco Giants open their 29-game exhibition season Saturday against Cleveland.

Rigney said that he would follow Miller with Joe Shipley and then let Dom Zanni hurl the last three innings.

The Indians, meanwhile, have named the dazzling Herb Score to start against San Francisco.

This news today caused Rigney to announce an all right-handed hitting lineup for Saturday's battle.

The tentative batting order: Jim Davenport, 3B; Felipe Alou, RF; Willie Mays, CF; Ray Jablonski, 1B; Daryl Spencer, SS; Bob Schmidt, C; Don Taussig, LF; Miller, P.

When the southpaw Score gives way to the veteran right-hander Mike Garcia long about the fourth inning, Rigney indicated that lefties like Willie Kirkland, Bill White and Leon Wagner might get into the act.

Potential starters Orlando Cepeda and Jackie Brandt will be out of action. Cepeda has the flu and Brandt will be resting after undergoing nasal surgery tomorrow.

The team held a long workout yesterday. Low point came when pitcher Jack Sanford was felled by a line drive off the bat of Ed Gresoud. Sanford retired with a bruised shin but said he would be ready for a three-inning stint in a Giant-Indian rematch on Sunday.

Rigney did not plan to work his charges hard today, but scheduled a final intrasquad contest tomorrow to ready for the exhibition grind.

'CANDLESTICK PARK' COMING RIGHT ALONG

This is how the 45,000-seat stadium now being built for the San Francisco Giants looked today. The park will be named Candlestick Park and it should be ready in July. Until then the Giants will play their National League games in Seals Stadium.

The name Candlestick, officially adopted this week, derives from a geographical feature of San Francisco Bay. The stadium is adjacent to Candlestick Point.

STANFORD ADDS EX-COLORADAN TO GRID STAFF

STANFORD (AP)—Stanford signed Dan Stavely of the University of Colorado yesterday, to replace Bob Ghilotti as an assistant football coach. Ghilotti had gone to Colorado.

Stavely, 45, was an assistant coach at Washington State from 1949 to 1957. He was graduated in 1937 from Denver University and had coached at Eastern Washington.

Ghilotti went to Colorado after Sonny Grandelious took over there as head coach.

Haney Denies Rift With Tebbetts

BRADENTON, Fla. (UPI)—Manager Fred Haney tried to put to rest today "for all time" any reports that he might not be able to get along with Birdie Tebbetts, the new front office head of the Milwaukee Braves.

There were reports that there was no love lost between the two while Tebbetts managed the Cincinnati Reds.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Haney exclaimed. "Why Birdie and I have been friends for 25 years, since way back when he was with Detroit and I was managing at Toledo, then a Tiger farm club.

"We've been good friends off the field. I never have any friends in an opposing dugout."

CHOICE WORDS

Haney normally uses some words that can't be printed in a family newspaper, but he saves his choice ones whenever questioned about his reported feud with Tebbetts.

"Hell," he explained, "you could say I feud with every manager in the other dugout. He is out to beat me, and I don't like to get beat. So on the field, every manager in the league is an enemy of mine. But off the field, we're all good friends. But once we take the field, the manager of the other team is no friend of mine—until after the game is over.

"That's the way it was with Birdie and me. We aren't going to have any trouble."

Ex-Feather Champ Attell Collapses

NEW YORK (AP)—Abe Attell, former world featherweight champion and a member of Boxing's Hall of Fame, collapsed in a restaurant last night, but he still talked like a champ from a hospital bed.

"I'm all right," he said. "I've got a touch of the flu, but I'll be out of here by tomorrow. Why son, I expect to live to be 100."

Attell, a native of San Francisco who held the featherweight crown from 1904 to 1912, is 75.

Dr. Sidney Rubenstein said Attell's suffered a "circulatory condition not considered serious."

No One Loafs In Giants' Camp; Braves Interested In O'Connell?

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX, Ariz. Batting averages and pitching performances, in the early stages of spring conditioning, are as phony as watered stock in 1929. So the true valuations of hitting and pitching will not be measured until after the exhibition games get under way this weekend.

But, meantime, a great deal of cagey scrutinizing is being detected in the eagerness and willingness of the players to get themselves in shape for the rigors of the regular season.

Manager Bill Rigney, Bossman Horace Stoneham and the other top brass here take turns doing Dick Tracy work in the grandstand. So far the grapevine reports are all complimentary. No one is loafing, no one seems to be shirking the running chores and the entire squad thunders through the workouts with the zest of a freshman outfit.

Pitching coaches Frank Shellenback and Bill Posedel have a stock question they have been repeating now for the past week. It goes something like this:

Shellenback or Posedel, to any pitcher, asks:

"Is your arm heavy?"

If the pitcher says "no," the reply is, "you haven't been working hard enough."

If the answer is "yes," then the reply is, "you'll be ready in a few days to start curving the ball."

"The arm must get heavy before it gets strong," Shellenback, the head instructor, explains.

ACCORDING TO Shelly, any pitcher who has been around in professional baseball any length of time will agree to that observation.

Outside of natural curiosity of the Giant pitching staff in general, the principal fretting is being done by Skipper Rigney. He still insists that somehow, someway, another starting pitcher will be obtained.

"We're better off than four or five other clubs in our league," says Rigney. "We have the material the others need just as badly as we need pitching help. So my idea is to sweat it out instead of us going all out and begging for pitching help."

So, perhaps that is why there is a news lull in camp.

SCOUTS FROM the White Sox, Cubs, Phils and Braves have been snooping around. The other afternoon I found Babe Herman of the Phils and Hollis Thurston of the Chicago White Sox comfortably located under the press box observing the Giant talent in practice.

Wid Matthews of Milwaukee is on the prowl and even checked in at the Adams Hotel, headquarters for the Giants, over the weekend.

Matthews would like to pick up Danny O'Connell, as second base relief now that Red Schoendenst is is out and Mel Roach, his alternate, is recuperating from a tricky knee.

I cornered Boss Rigney for a few seconds today and he made no secret why Matthews is watching the Giants.

"What pitcher has Milwaukee got that you would want in a trade?" sessi to Rig.

"I'll take Gene Conley, if they want to talk trade," Rigney declared.

"How about Don McMahon?" sezzi.

"They'd want the Golden Gate bridge and a bundle of cash to part with McMahon," Rigney continued.

"But either of those flingers might be just what we need to iron out the wrinkles in our pitching."

"WE HAVE so many good young pitchers that I'm concerned about using them in relief roles so early. I'd like to send them out where they can get a chance to pitch regularly and pick up valuable experience," he went on.

Outside of Jack Sanford, formerly of the Phils, and Mike McCormick, the young lefthander, none of the other Giant mound regulars have been pitching much.

Billy Muffett, obtained from the Cards during the winter and slated to do relief chores for the Giants in the coming campaign, is closer to being ready than anyone in camp. If you take an earnest peek at his 1958 record, it isn't any better than Ramon Monzant, the Puerto Rican righthander who wants to quit baseball altogether.

MUFFETT pitched in 35 games in 1958. Monzant in 43.

Muffett won 4 games, lost 6 and pitched a total of 84 innings. He had an earned run average of 4.93. He started 6 games.

Monzant started 16 games, won 4, lost 8, pitched a total of 151 innings, allowed 160 hits for an earned run average of 4.71.

So you see the type of pitcher Muffitt was last year. He has to improve this coming season to catch up with the holdout Monzant.

Let's peak at the comparative record of Al Worthington, the hardest and most stubborn Giant holdout.

Worthington won 11 and lost 7 games last season. He pitched in 54 games, started 12, worked a total of 151 innings, allowed 152 hits and popped up with an earned run average of 3.64. He walked 57, fanned 76.

NINO KO'D

Win Boosts Powell Up Ring Ladder

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—Charley Powell, who gave up his career as an obscure defensive end in pro football, is convinced today the fists that demolished second-ranked Nino Valdes "can take me a long way in boxing."

"At last I can feel I'll go places in boxing," said the 26-year-old un-ranked heavyweight after his spectacular nationally-televised eighth-round technical knockout of Valdes. "I needed a big victory to give me confidence. Now I can concentrate on boxing alone."

Powell, a 6-foot, 3-inch, 213-pounder, hammered his way into the heavyweight picture last night with stabbing left jabs and jolting left hooks that dropped Valdes three times and left the 34-year-old Cuban a bloody mess. The end for Valdes came at 2:03 of the eighth round of their scheduled 10-rounded when he pitched forward to the canvas without being hit.

Referee Cy Gottfried, who had forced Valdes to take the mandatory eight-count three times, stepped right in and ended the slaughter. Manager Joe Vella said he had no immediate plans for Powell and the ex-San Francisco 49er end let it go at that.

Powell, a native of San Diego, was a 4-1 underdog to his 224-pound opponent, but was in charge of the fight except in the fourth, fifth and sixth rounds when Valdes got inside for some good licks. Powell cut the inside of Valdes' mouth in the second round and opened an inch-long gash over his hight eye in the third.

Broglio To Open Against Yankees

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Ernie Broglio of El Cerrito, Calif., rookie righthander who Manager Solly Hemus expects to be the No. 4 St. Louis starter this year, was picked today to open the Redbirds' grapefruit league season Saturday against New York.

Broglio was obtained from San Francisco in a fall trade and impressed Hemus during the Cards' barnstorming trip to Japan after posting won-and-lost records of 8-1 at Phoenix and 9-3 at Toronto in 1958.

Chisox Rookie Starts

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Manager Al Lopez today picked rookie right hander Barry Latman of Los Angeles as his starting pitcher for Saturday's exhibition season opener for the Chicago White Sox against the Cincinnati Reds.

Carter Only Slightly Hurt In Argument With Woman

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Jimmy Carter, former world lightweight champion injured when he fell down while trying to enter a moving car driven by a woman friend with whom he was arguing, was expected to be released today from General Hospital.

Carter, 35, three-time holder of the lightweight crown, suffered a slight concussion and a gash on his head. He declined to discuss details of the Tuesday night accident.

Ursula Bregman, blonde operator of a beauty parlor for dogs, told police Carter tried to stop her as she drove away from him during an argument about his alleged heavy drinking.

"When I started the car," Miss Bregman said, "he made a grab for the door to get in. He caught the rear view mirror and fell and hit his head."

Carter was later found sitting in the street moaning, holding his head. Police at first believed he was a hit-run victim.

The Negro boxer lost his lightweight crown the last time in 1955 to Wallace (Bud) Smith.

EX-CHAMPION SAXTON NABBED AS BURGLAR

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Saxton, who earned a quarter of a million dollars as world's welterweight champion, has been arrested in a burglary which netted $5.20 in cash.

Spotted last night on a fire escape of a Jamaica, Queens, apartment house, the onetime Negro ring ace was captured by police, but not before he put up a battle.

He was charged with burglary and held for a hearing.

Saxton, 28, lost his title in 1956. He told police all the money he made in his 10-year professional career was gone, and that he owes $16,000 in back taxes.

Police said Saxton tossed a small valise into a clump of bushes. In it was $5.20, a fur cape, and a pack of cigarettes. The cape and bag were identified by Adelaide Farrell, 55, a sixth-floor tenant.

NEW F-G DIRECTOR

Warne Says He'll Get The Job Done

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—William E. Warne, California's new 53-year-old Fish and Game Director, will be on the job April 1 and he "expects to get the job done" in operating the state controversy-ridden Department of Fish and Game.

In an exclusive, trans-Pacific telephone interview with Capital News Service, Warne said he had "no-predetermined" ideas of what should be done in California.

"However, I am a conservationist and understand the general purposes for which the Department operates," Warne said. "I'm not familiar with what problems the present department has had."

Warne, who said he had been in Saigon and Hong Kong and had not known of his appointment definitely until the telephone call from CNS, added that he has made "no commitments to any person."

The new director spent four years as assistant Secretary of the Interior, including two as supervisor of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. He told CNS he expected to draw on his experience from this work to operate California's Department.

STRONG ADMINISTRATOR

"I'm a pretty strong administrator," Warne said. "The record will show that I have been established as a man who gets things done.

"I don't want to give the impression that I will emasculate the present department," Warne said. "I would expect the people to be equally loyal to me as they have been to the previous director."

When asked if he had any philosophy on artificial stocking programs for trout and pheasant which have flourished under the present director, Seth Gordon, Warne replied:

"You're going to have to ask me that when I get back to California."

Warne was asked about a question that has been puzzling some California observers—namely, why he is willing to take a cut in pay from his present salary of $24,000 a year, as U.S. economic aid coordinator, to the $16,000 a year as Fish and Game director.

"I have been serving overseas for seven years," he said. "I want to return to my native state of California."

Warne was born and grew up in southern California. He had been in government service for 23 years but, two years ago, established his permanent residence in Altadena. He is a Democrat and served in federal posts under Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

Warne's arrival on the California scene was expected to end much of the uncertainty which has surrounded fish and game affairs in California since Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced early in January that Gordon would not be retained as head of the department.

At least a dozen names had been considered as being in contention for appointment to the directorship, but had not included Warne's name until several days ago. His appointment, which is subject to confirmation by the state senate, was announced by Brown on March 2.

It's Shirt-Sleeve Skiing Time; Good Sport Assured Through Easter

Looks like the winter snows have ceased. Now is the time to have a most enjoyable ski holiday. Easy driving on clear, dry highways with no chains to bother with. Of course, anyone driving into the mountains should always carry chains just to be safe.

Now is the time a skier's dream of shirt-sleeve skiing on corn snow in the healthful mountain air is a reality. And don't forget the suntan lotion and dark glasses as a protection from the warm reflection of the white blanket underfoot.

Now is the time to pack a lunch and take along the camp stools so you can join other winter sports enthusiasts at the base of the ski slopes for a noon picnic.

An average seven to eight-foot snow pack at the higher elevated resorts assures good skiing through Easter, even if there are no more snow flurries.

THE BUGS have been ironed out of the T-bar lift at Echo Summit Ski Area on Highway 50. With this additional ski terrain, there are little, if any, lift lines at Echo Summit. The ski slopes face northeast, assuring snow on the Fourth of July.

DODGE RIDGE Ski Club will sponsor the FWSA Class C divisional Downhill and Slalom championships on their home slopes this weekend. Approximately 75 competitors are expected to enter the slalom Saturday and the downhill Sunday.

THE UNIVERSITY of California Ski Club will host the Warren Vanderbilt Memorial Intercollegiate Four-Way meet at the Sugar Bowl this weekend. The contest, first held in 1938, is a memorial to Cal's ski team captain who was killed in a rock climbing accident at Clipper Gap.

Teams will be entered from University of Nevada, Sierra College, Chico State, Stanford, San Jose State, Oregon State and Cal. Stanford, Mills College, Cal, Sierra and American River College will send girls' teams.

DR. FRANK HOWARD of San Rafael will be competing against 50 other doctors in the third annual Hippocrates Slalom and seeking his third consecutive first place in the event Saturday. Only doctors are eligible to compete in the slalom at the Edelweiss on Highway 50.

Soldier Wins The Biathlon

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — The United States finally came up with a winner in the North American Nordic Ski Championships, but he says he won't compete here next year in the Winter Olympics.

PFC Lawrence Damon of Burlington, Vt., won the 20 kilometer (12.5 mile) ski-and-shoot biathlon Tuesday in the final event of the meet. It was an Olympic trial race and the first biathlon ever held here.

Damon, 25-year-old engineer, said he can't compete in the Olympics because he plans to enter the University of Vermont graduate school after being discharged from the Army this year.

He was among 10 soldiers from the cold weather training camp at Fort Richardson, Alaska.

Damon toured the rugged course in 1 hour, 48 minutes, 9.3 seconds including 14 minutes penalty for missing seven of his 20 targets.

The competitors shoot from varying distances at four ranges and the targets looked like dimes.

Dick Mize, soldier from Gunnison, Colo., was second and Klas Lestander from Sweden, one of two foreign entrants, third.

Results (in parenthesis are hits out of 20):

1. Lawrence Damon, Burlington, Vt., 1:48:09.3. (13);
2. Dick Mize, Gilman, Colo., 1:54:21.9 (16);
3. Klas Lestander, Sweden, 1:54:51.6. (13);
4. John Burritt, Hotchkiss, Colo., 1:58:06.6. (16);
5. Jim Mahaffey, Gunnison, Colo., 2:02:11.4. (14);
6. Gustave Hanson, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., 2:03:09.7. (14);
7. Maurice Paquette Jr., Plymouth, N.H., 2:03:12.5. (13);

10. Bill Rudd, Los Angeles, 2:06:54.2. (11).

Other Californians among those who placed:

16. Bryan Samuelsen, Santa Monica, 2:28:26.6. (4);
17. Hans Aune, Los Angeles, 2:39:37.2. (8);

Germs, Food, Mud, Parking, Head List Of Problems At Squaw Valley

SQUAW VALLEY (AP) — Germs, food, mud, parking and hot water.

These are only a few of the problems Winter Olympics officials went to work on today following the windup of 15 North American Skiing and Skating championships that lured 160 athletes from 14 nations.

Post-meet concensus is that courses, jumps and ice rinks were equal to, and in many cases, above Olympic standards, but much remains to be done in the housing and spectator side before February, 1960.

In the food department, Olympic Village director Robert Minerich learned he won't need separate menus for every nation.

"Athletes want good, wholesome food and plenty of it," he declared. "That's what we gave them this time and they were happy. We heard no adverse comment."

He has decided to have one menu with fish as one of three entrees every day. An exception will be rice for the Chinese and Japanese.

Athletes, officials and the press used the four dormitories in the village during the North American. At times there was too much heat and hot water, other times not enough.

A flu epidemic broke out, forcing some athletes out of their races, hampering the performance of others.

Minerich acknowledged the heat regulating system just didn't work. It is being changed.

Rather than restrict ill athletes to their rooms — where their colleagues could absorb their germs—small, temporary buildings will be put up to be used as hospitals.

Rooms were bare, but Minerich promised that next year participants will have rugs on the floor, pictures on the walls, better lighting and much more all around comfort.

Warm, sunny weather made a mess of roads in the village and administration area. Next year they will be paved.

A system of snow compaction —sawdust pressed into snow —was found to be inconclusive for parking the thousands of cars expected. Martin Blatt, transportation director, indicated he would draw up an alternative plan for parking vehicles in Truckee and Tahoe City and shuttle the spectators into the valley. Truckee is 15 miles away, Tahoe City 8.

Minerich said the most gratifying part of the North American was how the athletes got along.

"We put Russians, Japanese, Finns and Norwegians together. We had no troubles. Everybody was very congenial," he said.

Novato Golfers To Resume Series Of Tournaments

Novato Golf Assn. will start its fourth year of intra-club tournaments March 22.

Foursomes are now being formed for the monthly tournaments, according to Frank Valim, membership chairman. Valim urged golfers who are interested in the tourneys to join the association no later than Saturday, deadline for tournament registrations.

Membership applications are being accepted by Valim and at Pete's Barber Shop in Novato.

The monthly tourneys are generally held on the last Sunday of each month, March through November. Play is on the Indian Valley Golf Course and is conducted on a handicap basis.

Dons Upset Pacific By 68-60 Count

San Francisco Dons, defending West Coast Athletic Conference champs who have had a miserable current season, toppled College of the Pacific 68-60 last night in San Francisco.

COP finished the season with a 6-6 conference record. The Dons, who wind up against second place Santa Clara Saturday, are 3-8. St. Mary's won this year's title with an 11-1 record.

Dave Klurman paced the Tigers with 21 points and was the game's high scorer. For the Dons, who led 28-22 at halftime, John Cunningham got 20 points, Fred LaCour 17 and Dave Lillevand 16

Elsewhere in northern California basketball, San Jose City College beat Monterey Peninsula 84-69 in a Coast Conference (J.C.) playoff. San Jose will go to Long Beach March 12-14 for the State J.C. Tournament.

Robertson Again Wins 'Player Of Year' Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) — Record-breaking Oscar Robertson of the University of Cincinnati established another precedent today when he was named college basketball's "Player of the Year" for the second straight season in the United Press International poll.

The 20-year-old junior from Indianapolis, Ind., was the overwhelming choice of the 277 sports writers and broadcasters who participated in the 1959 nation-wide voting. He was selected on 188 ballots, drawing 67.8 per cent of the votes cast.

Bailey Howell of Mississippi State and Jerry West of West Virginia finished second and third in the balloting. Howell received 31 votes and West was named on 14 ballots.

Nineteen other players, in addition to Robertson, Howell and West, received mention in this year's poll, but none attracted more than seven votes.

Johnny Cox of Kentucky wound up fourth with seven ballots, one more than Johnny Green of Michigan State, while All-Americas Bob Boozer of Kansas State and Don Hennon of Pittsburgh each received four votes.

Mariners Take On All-Stars At Kentfield Friday

The College of Marin Tars, champions of the Golden Valley Conference, will play a conference all-star team tomorrow night at Kentfield to raise expense money for Marin's trip to Santa Monica and the state tournament next week.

The Tars' record of 9-1 was good enough to annex the conference title for the third consecutive year. Coach Cal Reimcke has guided Marin to the last two crowns since his debut last season. He possesses a well balanced scoring attack led by Fred "Bill" Breuner the 6-foot-8 giant, who has averaged 13.4 points in league competition. Also instrumental in the Tars' success this season are Jerry Reese and Claude Curley. The pair have averaged almost 10 points a game since the beginning of the season.

The all-stars are directed by "Woody" Hutchinson, the fine coach from American River, and assisted by George Kutras from Shasta. These men were selected because their clubs finished second and third in the conference behind Marin.

HIGH SCORERS

The all-stars include such outstanding players as Bob Wright, the 6-5, 210-pound star from Shasta. His teammates, Tim Burke and Terry Banderas will be stationed at guard. Two-year lettermen Al Smith and Joe Brouillard represent Shasta. The all-stars are definitely going to be a high scoring quintet. Russ Mayfield, one of the league's highest scorers, has been selected to participate. Hutchison, the coach, will have at his service his top three players, Bill Whitaker, Chad Germaine and Ray Vinall.

Proceeds from this game, as well as paying players' expenses, helps Marin finance other sports in the spring. This is the first money raising event of this kind to be held. Athletic director Harry Pieper hopes this game will become an annual event. Peiper explains that the all-star game is used by many conferences in order to raise money. In fact, Santa Ana J. C., Marin's opponent in next Tuesday night's state tourney opener, raised $1,700 from their game to send a squad to Santa Monica which is only 25 miles from Santa Ana.

LARGE CROWD

The gym in Kentfield holds approximately 900 people and the advance ticket sale gives every indication that a capacity house will be in attendance. The all-star players, who were selected by the coaches in the GVC are so eager to challenge the champions that they have agreed to pay their own expenses to Kentfield.

A preliminary game tomorrow night will see the Mill Valley Boys Club's 14-year-old cagers clash with St. Rita's team starting at 6:45 o'clock.

Machen Battles Johnson Tonight In Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — Eddie Machen meets Jack Johnson of Los Angeles tonight in what Machen hopes will be the first step in his campaign to regain recognition as a heavyweight contender.

Machen's rating dived last September after Ingemar Johansson knocked him out in the first round of a fight in Sweden.

Machen will enter the ring weighing about 194 pounds. Johnson, a 6-foot-3 giant, will weigh about 218.

Johnson is Machen's first opponent since the fight in Sweden. After that fight, Machen came to Portland, purchased a home and began training for a comeback.

Ross '5' Remains Undefeated In Redwood Tourney

Undefeated Ross School scored its third victory yesterday to take a firm lead in the Redwood Recreation Department's grammar school basketball tournament at Redwood High.

The Ross quint nipped Kentfield, 23-20, in triple overtime to take a 3-0 won-lost record into the final two games today and tomorrow. In second place are Neil Cummins School and Kentfield with 1-1 records, followed by Larkspur-Corte Madera 1-2 and Reed 0-2.

Tryouts Saturday For Sausalito Little Leaguers

Tryouts for the Little Leaguers of Sausalito will start Saturday, 1:30 p.m. at Richardson Bay School, it was announced today. A large turnout is expected as more than 80 boys, not including many regulars, signed up last week.

Last Saturday with the help of "Red" Hall and H. H. Smith (and the weather), a general reconditioning of the Little League ball park started. The entire field was roto-tilled; the pitcher's mound was moved back two feet to comply with new regulations and weed killer was applied.

3 Die In Hotel Fire; Many Others Hurt

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP)—Screaming in terror, guests shinnied down cables or climbed or were born down fire ladders early today as flames raged up an elevator shaft of the five-story Gary Hotel.

Authorities said there were three known dead, two other persons unaccounted for and two more critically hurt.

At least 24 persons were taken to hospitals for treatment of burns, cuts, smoke poisoning and shock.

The register of the 100-room, 75-year-old hotel in Hazleton's business district showed a listing of 61 persons.

Two of the dead were removed soon after the fire broke out. A third body was found later.

The entire front wall of the hotel collapsed into heaps of rubble. It was thought the two missing persons might be dead in this wreckage.

Victims fled from the blazing building, their night clothes ablaze. Others stood and sat dazed in the street as 100 firemen from four companies fought the raging fire for more than two hours.

Efforts to control the blaze were hampered by icy streets and ice-coated hoses resulting from the biting 23 degree weather.

DOMINICAN ALUMNAE

Eleanor Green Styles Charms Large Audience At Luncheon

Mix the 1959 Spring Collection of San Francisco designer Eleanor Green with luscious spring hats from Macy's of San Rafael perfectly coordinated to each fashion. Add a balmy, beautiful March day, an enthusiastic fashionably-dressed audience and nine attractive Dominican Alumnae models.

The result: a perfect prescription for a delightful "Afternoon in Spring" on Tuesday at Rickey's Fashion Focus luncheon honoring the Marin Chapter of the Dominican College Alumnae.

As an ambassador of fashion throughout the United States and Canada, Eleanor Green proved on Tuesday why she has no peer. She completely charmed the fashion show goers by graciously moving from table to table throughout the many rooms to make each guest feel she had come especially to meet her.

Tuesday's special added "hattractions" were the delectable spring bonnets about which could have been written many sonnets, so perfectly were they coordinated in color, texture and feeling to each Eleanor Green fashion.

To team with Eleanor Green's indispensable shirtmakers, town dresses and late-day looks, Mrs. Harry Pearce, the fashion-wise buyer and manager of Macy's millinery department, had gathered designer originals from New York and Paris representing distinguished names in millinery, Sally Victor, Lilly Dache, Marche, Corelia and Alfreda.

The Salon of San Rafael accepted the challenge that "it's a hat spring," and showed that "a hat is a hat is a hat" only when it tops a fetching hair-do such as they created for each model. New looks in spring make-up by Beauty Counselors Gai Fleming and Frances Gaines added the finishing touch.

At show time, Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, welcomed the guests, reminding them to "Blend one Macy's chapeau with an Eleanor Green dress, and your afternoon in spring will be a smashing success," and introduced Mrs. Frank Ford, president of the Marin Chapter of Dominican College Alumnae and Mrs. John H. Keefe who chairmanned the attractive models.

For an Eleanor Green Afternoon in Spring:

"Symphony Day", Mrs. Hugh Allen townish in two-piece black textured cotton with look of silk, the sheath bowed with white pique, the jacket short and easy. Her hat, an original by Trevi of New York, a small white Baku straw with white picoted ribbon trim.

"Luncheon at One", in a splash of blue cabbage roses roaming the Eleanor Green shirtmaker of Mrs. A. Barlow Ferguson, hatted in Mueller's of San Francisco black milan cartwheel, with a flat tailored bow.

"Fashion Show", Mrs. Edward Grady choosing a blue and white paisley silk print sheath to team with Michael Terre's white Balibuntal straw pillbox trimmed attractively with white organza and pearls.

"City Shopper," in Sally Victor's bright yellow roll brim cloche, the cover hat from March Mademoiselle, Mrs. Jack Rakow and Eleanor Green's fullskirted classic navy shirtmaker accented with yellow daisies.

"Museum Tour", bright as a painting, a silk shantung peach geranium slim shirtwaist dress, highlighted by a small crowned black velvet breton from Alfreda of New York and Paris — Mrs. William Condeff, the tourer.

"Garden Party", the star of the season, Corelia's ripple brim mint green Baku straw blooming with California poppies accenting the brunettes of Lola Casentini and Eleanor Green's tangerine full-skirted, scoop-neck, shantung favorite.

"Reception at Five", recent Dominican graduate, Donna Zander in a pretty boldly-printed cotton of shocking blue, green and lilac featuring a high bodice and deep V-neck. Her hat another Corelia original, lilac, lovely and youthful.

"City by Six", the universal appeal of a black crepe sheath, the sheer top flattering and feminine. With it model Shirley Maley cloched in flower petals of pink and cerise.

"Come for Cocktails", Mrs. William Donohoe cool in mint green silk shantung, the skirt softly gathered at the hip; her hat for the man in her life, variegated tulle in tangerine, mint and champagne on a rippled brim mint green rough straw.

Next Tuesday, Fashion Focus looks ahead to the early Easter and presents "Sealed in Easter Style," to honor the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults with delightful accessorized outfits from the R and M Style Shops. The popular luncheon series is open to the public and reservations are made by calling Rickey's.

Bright Colors Prima Donnas Expert Says

"Brilliant hues are the prima donnas of the color world. Often they are overbearing," Dorothee Farber, interior decorator, warned in her talk at the San Rafael Improvement Club on Tuesday afternoon. She advised using "strong" colors in smaller pieces, cushions and other accessories, and said they should emphasize a color tone in the drapes, rugs or furniture. By changing "accessories," the look of an entire room will be different, the decorator explained. She also warned against using too vivid colors at the windows of country homes. "They are disconcerting when you look at the bright outdoors," Mrs. Farber added.

Mrs. Farber, whose subject was "Color In Your Day," illustrated her talk by beautiful materials and explained that difference in texture changes the appearance of a color.

Mrs. Lawrence A. Cowen, club president, introduced Mrs. Farber, who has her own shop in San Anselmo and also is an instructor in an adult education class at College of Marin.

Mrs. Cowen announced that Mrs. Lewis A. Clapp has been named first vice president of the club, succeeding Mrs. H. H. Cleaves. Mrs. Cowen reported that a hundred dollar check, proceeds of the recent fashion show at Rickey's, would be presented to San Rafael General Hospital.

Other announcements included the club's luncheon bridge party on March 31 and the rummage sale on March 21 under the co-chairmanship of Mesdames Charles Tacchi and Norris Rawles. The clubhouse will be open on the preceding day for donations to the sale.

An honor guest was Mrs. Joseph Raskob, whose husband's beautiful paintings are now being shown in the Northwestern Savings and Loan building in San Rafael. In her talk Mrs. Farber had referred to the painter's mastery of color in his work.

A tea followed the program. Mrs. Robert Swart, chairman of the hostess committee, was assisted by Mesdames Stephen Roberts, Donald K. Stuart, Eugene Baglietto, Hugo Chiappari, Millard Young and Edward R. Hindley.

Presiding at the tea tables were Mesdames Lloyd Tyler, Bert Brown, Charles Howell and Robert E. Munter.

Primrose Tea Being Hosted On March 19

Date of the traditional Primrose Tea of the Inverness Garden Club, an event which brings to the picturesque community on Tomales Bay, flower lovers from all parts of the Bay Area, has been set. The tea will be on Thursday afternoon, March 19, and the hours will be from 1 o'clock until 4. The club has chosen as the theme for the event, "Primrose Tea—and Treasures from the Sea." The public is invited.

Locale will be at the lovely Inverness home of Mrs. Lucian Knight. Markers from the highway will direct guests. Mrs. Knight's home, which is of traditional Inverness architecture, is set in an informal garden, bright with a variety of blooming spring flowers, over looking the bay.

Enthusiastic members of the club have been scouring the local beaches for shells, interesting in their varied shapes and sizes, driftwood to spur the imagination and unusual rocks, all accessories for the modern flower arranger. These will be among the "Treasures from the Sea."

Another group has been busy choosing the best primroses for sale at the tea.

Because the club's first cook book, which featured recipes of the homemade breads served at the tea, was so popular, a second book will be introduced at this year's tea. The title will be, "Spreads and Breads" and the cover will be decorated with an original linoleum block print by Miss C. Dorothea Phillips of Inverness.

The traditional homemade breads, served with the tea will compete this year with tempting sandwiches using the spreads featured in the new cook book.

Two local artists, Mrs. Jerry Craig, whose specialty is watercolors of birds, and Mrs. Frank G. Short, who paints primroses, will also display their work.

Again, members of the Inverness Garden Club can be distinguished from their guests by their hats, which, according to long standing custom, are decorated with fresh flowers. The headgear always ranges from the sublime to the ridiculous.

St. Brigid's Guild To Plan House Tour

The regular meeting of St. Brigid's Guild of Christ Church, Sausalito, will be held on Tuesday, March 10, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Frank B. Williams, 654 Sausalito boulevard. All women interested in the work of the church are invited.

Further plans will be made for the Sausalito house tour planned for May 6 to benefit the church fund, according to Mrs. Harry Edward Beebe, president.

Assisting the hostess with refreshments following the meeting will be Mrs John Koenig and Mrs. Carl W. Spring.

SERVED YOUTH

Redwood High P-TA Gives Two Honorary Memberships

At a recent meeting of the Redwood High School Parent-Teacher Assn., honorary life memberships were awarded to Donald Kreps, principal of Redwood High School and Edwin Dreschel of Belvedere. This award was made in grateful recognition of these two community members who have outstandingly served its youth.

The honorary life members so chosen this year are both active members of the P-TA, and on behalf of that organization have just presented to the Redwood library a gift of $412 with which several sets of encyclopedias, dictionaries and other reference books have been purchased. This gift made it possible to buy all the titles on the list of referenee books which the library had urgently needed.

Another list of much-wanted books for supplementary reading in the fields of mathematics, science, English and languages is attracting the interest of parents and friends of Redwood who are invited to present books from this list to the school library. Leonard Martin of Ross, a parent of the school, was the first donor of books from this list when he presented six distinguished volumes of history and sociology.

Book plates, designed by members of Wallace MacDonald's art classes at Redwood, will be affixed to all books, giving the name of the donor and date of gift. The list of needed books may be consulted in the office of the head librarian, Miss Mildred Mateer, at Redwood, or through Mrs. Richard Sims, president of the Parent-Teacher Assn.

THE REDWOOD HIGH School P-TA recently presented the school library with several sets of encyclopedias, dictionaries and other reference books. Looking over the new books with head librarian, Miss Mildred Mateer, seated are, left to right, Donald Kreps, principal; Leonard Martin of Ross and Edwin Drechsel of Belvedere. Kreps and Drechsel were both awarded honorary life memberships by the P-TA. Martin, whose son is a Redwood student, donated six valuable volumes on sociology and history to the library.

Their piano and organ numbers were The Swan by Saint Saens, and Clausmann's Phantasy. Mrs. Clinite pleased with Shubert's Ave Maria as her organ solo.

A surprise in the program came with the recognition of 50 years in P.E.O. with Mrs. H. C. Jones the honored member. Mrs. Jones was presented the fifty-year pin.

Bernheim-Fromhagen Rites In Sausalito

Lighted tapers tied with white carnations and white satin ribbons marked the pews of the First Presbyterian Church of Sausalito when Linda Fromhagen was escorted down the aisle on the arm of her father, William Jonathon Fromhagen of Sausalito, for her marriage to Robert Bernheim of San Francisco on Sunday, March 1.

The 3:30 p.m. single ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Aaron Garnet Miller before the communion table of the church on which were bouquets of white stock and carnations. On either side of the table were seven-branch candelabra with tall white candles with arrangements of stock and carnations at the base. Branches of magnolia leaves completed the church decorations.

Linda's dress was a full skirted peau de soie gown with a fitted bodice of Chantilly lace studded with irridescent sequins. Designed with long pointed sleeves, and a scalloped neckline, the empire waist was accented with a cummerbund closed in back with a row of tiny self-covered buttons. The floor length skirt fell into a chapel train. Her only jewelry was an "add-a-pearl" necklace started for her when she was a small child.

Her veil of silk net was waist-length and was attached to a cap of Chantilly lace and mini-pleated net trimmed with a band of seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of opened white tulips and white hyacinths.

Preceding Linda down the aisle were two of her college classmates, Carol and Joan Haley, twin sisters, as bridesmaids and Mrs. Harvey Rogers of Belvedere, only sister of the groom, as matron of honor.

All were gowned alike in dresse of periwinkle blue silk organza with cap sleeves and full skirts. Bows emphasized the high waistline and fell into panels in the back which were caught at the hemline of the street length skirts. The folds of the tulip bodice went into a V'd neckline in back. Their headdresses were large bows of blue silk organza and they all wore matching blue satin slippers.

Mrs. Rogers carried a crescent shaped bouquet of burnt orange and yellow opened tulips and Carol and Joan's bouquets were tulips of sunshine yellow.

Harvey Rogers was best man for his brother-in-law and long time friends of the benedict, Daryl Smith and Roger Hall, escorted the guests to their places.

Mrs. Fromhagen wore an electric blue faille sheath dress with three quarter length sleeves and the V neckline outlined with a half bow for her daughter's wedding. Her hat was of matching blue accented with a blue rose. She wore white gloves and her shoes and bag were blue. White phalaenopsis orchids were in her corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a blue and green printed chiffon dress with green accents. Her hat was green and her other accessories were blue. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

About 125 guests attended the reception for the young couple at the Sausalito Woman's Club immediately following the nuptials

Ronnie Gray was in charge of the guest book and later distributed rice to the guests from a heart-shaped basket.

Music was provided during the reception by Jack Nebergoll, harpist.

The church and clubhouse decorations were by Mrs. Edwin Long and George Huycke, friends of the bride's family.

Linda, who will be remembered as Miss Marin of 1957, attended Miss Greaves School in Sausalito and the Dominican Convent Lower and Upper Schools. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Dominican College where she belonged to the Art Club. She was employed by the Modern Eve Shoppe in San Rafael. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. H. R. Schrieber of Sausalito.

Bob is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules H. Bernheim of San Francisco and Corinthian Island. He attended San Francisco schools and received his bachelor of science degree from the University of California in Berkeley where he was a member of the Pi Lambda Phi fraternity. He is a member of the San Francisco Yacht Club in Belvedere and, after college, served two years in the U.S. Army, stationed at Ft. Baker in Southern Marin. He is associated with his father in the latter's real estate investment firm in San Francisco.

Linda chose an avocado green suit with black accessories for her going away outfit. Her corsage was brown cymbidium orchids.

After a honeymoon trip to Southern California and Mexico, the new Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bernheim will be at home to friends at 240 Bayview drive in Belvedere after March 20.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Bernheim propose a toast following their wedding Sunday at the First Presbyterian Church in Sausalito. The bride is the former Linda Fromhagen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Fromhagen of Sausalito.

March 12 meeting of the Women's Society of the San Rafael Presbyterian Church will have as a highlight the appearance of Mrs. G. L. Rice in an afternoon's program.

Mrs. Samuel D. Archibald will preside at the business meeting which follows the 12 o'clock luncheon.

Hostesses for the March meeting will be under the leadership of Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Nelson Hall. They will include Mesdames Robert Bruce, Violet Chevalier, M. E. Hazeltine, Guy Kirner, Ralph Murphy, Rice, Edith Richardson, Paul Streett, Nettie Tapp, D. Vossbrink, Jane Wilson and George Barton.

The Army Look

The "army" look has replaced the leggy look in spring and summer fashions. Arms and shoulders are bared in many dresses that have narrow ribbon straps. Sleeves, instead of skirts, are slit, from wrist to shoulder on long sleeves. Jumpers are worn without sleeves for cocktails, and suits have short sleeves ranging from five inches above the wrist to way above the elbow.

BLIND POSTMASTER—James A Mathews, who will be graduated from Guide Dogs for the Blind on Saturday with Roamer, his Chesapeake Bay retriever guide, is postmaster of Fort Fraser, B.C.

Guide Dog Will Help Postmaster Now

Another unusual occupation has been added to the list of jobs held by graduates of Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc.

James A. Mathews, who is due to graduate with Roamer, a Chesapeake Bay retriever, on Saturday, is the postmaster of Fort Fraser, British Columbia.

Except for the early morning when his wife, Lorraine, comes in for an hour to sort the mail, Mathews is alone in the post office during the entire day. He addresses packages, issues money orders and sells stamps, all without assistance.

"There's no trick to it," insists Mathews. "All you have to do is keep everything in a certain place, then remember exactly where it is."

Sounds easy?

When he isn't waiting on customers, Mathews utilizes his time studying. After he gets a degree, he plans to work with the blind.

Graduating with Mathews in ceremonies at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at the school in Los Ranchitos are Floyd R. Brown of El Paso, Texas, with Mindy, a Labrador retriever; Leland C. Evans of Fort Jones, Siskiyou county, with Mandy, a German shepherd; Mary Jenkins of Oakland with Vanessa, a German shepherd; Albert Henderson of San Bernardino with Bruce, a German shepherd; James V. Hutchins Jr. of Burbank with Hildy, a Chesapeake retreiver; Edward A. Linck of Weiser, Ida, with Hardy, a Chesapeake retriever, and Irvin Sartwell of Santa Barbara with Betty, a German shepherd.

The public ceremonies will be followed by an obedience demonstration. Refreshments are served.

Bob Hope Won't Have Eye Surgery

NEW YORK (AP)—Comedian Bob Hope, told his eye trouble would clear up without surgery, was expected to leave for the West Coast today to prepare for a Sunday television show.

In a bulletin last night from Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Dr. Algernon B. Reese said: "There is no indication whatever that an operation will be required. Further diagnostic studies are being made in an effort to determine the exact cause."

Hope has a blood clot in a vein behind his left eye which has affected his sight and stability.

Tam Boy Wins Speech Contest

Daniel McLean, 18-year-old Tamalpais High School senior, Tuesday evening was named winner of the annual Lions Club speaker contest conducted by the Mill Valley Lions Club, reported chairman William Woods.

McLean is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. McLean of 132 Belvedere drive, Mill Valley. His father is a civilian employee with the Army at Ft. Scott in San Francisco.

Tied for second place were Judith Duerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Duerson of 424 Oakdale avenue, Corte Madera, and Charles Putney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Putney of 123 Eldridge avenue, Mill Valley. Both are seniors at Tamalpais high.

The assigned subject was "Complacency—A Danger to America." The contestants addressed members of the Lions Club and their guests at the Mill Valley Golf Clubhouse.

Judges were Mill Valley City Councilman Peter H. Behr, attorney Rodric L. Robinson and Mrs. George W. Larson.

Woods said young McLean will compete in the zone contest with other Lions Club winners which will be held some time prior to March 22. Eliminations then lead to regional, district and area contests culminating with finalists from California and Nevada.

The district winner receives a $1,500 scholarship, Woods said.

Bill Continuing Gas Tax Passed

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Legislature gave final passage yesterday to a bill continuing indefinitely the present rate of taxation on motor vehicles and gasoline and diesel fuel.

The bill by Sen. Rudolph Collier (R-Yreka) was approved in the Assembly 69-0 after winning earlier approval in the Senate.

Under existing law, fees and taxes on motor vehicles would have dropped on Dec. 31, 1959, by $35,965,000.

Collier's bill continues the six-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax, the seven-cent diesel fuel tax and the present schedules of weights fees and registration fees.

The measure now goes to the Governor, who is expected to sign it into law.

WHY YOUR I-J WAS LATE YESTERDAY

Most Independent-Journal subscribers received their papers later than usual yesterday.

The reason: The constant gas fire went out under a huge pot of metal of which stereotypers make the page casts from which the paper is printed.

It required about two hours to re-melt the metal. Casting of the more than 90 plates necessary to print yesterday's I-J was delayed by that much time.

One of the oldest employees in the mechanical department said this was the first time in his memory that this particular accident had occurred to slow up the paper.

All we can say is: Sorry, and it's not likely to happen again soon.

Reed Trustees To Study Bids For School Addition

Reed Union School District trustees will hold a special meeting today at 8 a.m. to consider the eight bids received for the Bel Aire School addition construction, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer announced.

The bids were opened Tuesday afternoon.

Because of the "complicated bid structure and the necessity of lengthy trustee study, we are not certain whether a contract will be awarded tomorrow morning," Stouffer said.

The two lowest bidders apparently were Pacific Coast Builders of San Francisco, with a total offer of $249,850 and a base bid of $214,750 and A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo with a total bid of $236,205 and a base bid of $222,864. Highest total bid was received from Martinelli Construction Co., Inc., of San Francisco, with $262,590 and a base bid of $243,000.

Deputy Quits Marin Staff; Better Pay

Deputy Sheriff Bruce McLeod, 24, who has been with the Marin County Sheriff's Office for two and on-half years, is resigning from the force to take a more promising position with the El Cerrito Police Department.

McLeod plans to quit on March 27 and start working as an El Cerritor police officer April 5. He and his wife, Patricia, will move from their Fairfax home to El Cerrito.

The deputy said the only reason he is leaving is because of better pay there. He said he will be getting starting pay as good or better than the $415 per month he is earning now after two and one-half years.

2 Congressmen Renew Trinity Power Fight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Republican Congressmen have renewed the administration's long fight for approval of its controversial Trinity River "partnership" plan.

California Reps. James B. Utt and Charles S. Gubser announced they intend to introduce new legislation calling for private development of the Trinity project's power. They said the revised bill would meet "many objections" raised against similar proposals in the past.

The announcement ended speculation that the administration might drop its proposal in the face of mounting Democratic opposition.

Under the "partnership" plan, originally drafted by Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. would develop Trinity's power potential.

A similar bill by Rep. Hubert B. Scudder, died in the House Interior Committee last year. Opposition to the plan has increased this year with the addition of more Democratic members to the committee.

Opponents, led by Sen. Clair Engle (D-Calif.), have announced that they plan to go directly to the appropriations committees to seek funds for federal construction of Trinity power plants.

But Gubser said he and Utt still were convinced the partnership plan is the best.

"In this year of a tight budget, when we need millions of dollars for missiles and research, federal airports and new irrigation projects," Gubser said, "I believe we should save the $60 million dollars which federal Trinity power would cost."

Farmers Hear Talk On Liberty

J. R. Nelson, regional field secretary of the California Farm Bureau Federation, Tuesday night addressed members of the Novato Farm Bureau Center on "What is liberty worth to you?"

Also speaking briefly at the meeting were high school seniors Donald McIsaac Jr. of Olema and Rebecca McClelland of Novato, who related their experiences as delegates to a youth conference last month in Asilomar.

Little League Baseball Should 'Keep House Clean'

Little League baseball season is just around the corner.

Baseball for youngsters of nine to 12 ought to be wholly innocuous. It ought to be good clean sport contributing to the healthy growth of mind and body of tomorrow's teen-agers.

A person ought to be able to say something good about Little League baseball without "having his head taken off" by a bitter critic.

A person should be able to offer constructive criticism without being "snowed under" by an avalanche of verbiage from fanatics on the other side.

But there seems to be little middle ground in connection with Little League baseball. And herein lies a fault that needs correcting.

The hard-working volunteers who give so generously of their time and effort to the cause of Little League have a responsibility to "keep their house clean."

They should get rid of managers who put winning above health and sportsmanship. (They first must accept the fact that there are some who have done this in the past.)

They should get rid of managers who, by their example, tend to teach profanity and unsportsmanlike conduct.

They should get rid of managers who condemn and deride and sometimes abuse youngsters for "kid" mistakes.

Conversely, managers who by example teach gentlemanly and sportsmanlike conduct should be singled out for special recognition — even when their teams win few if any games.

Maybe what Little League could use most is fewer trophies for winning and more for sportsmanship and "giving one's best."

In intent and purpose, Little League is great for many youngsters. Critics don't deserve to be heard unless they have something constructive to offer and unless they support the worthy goal of attempting to contribute to the healthy growth of mind and body.

Time To Kill Oak Pests

We received a card in the mail last week reminding us the time is close at hand when the oak tree must be sprayed again. It is a young California Live Oak and we cherish it.

The California Live Oak is one of our most handsome native trees. They are evergreen and have small, holly-like leaves. Their gracefully rounded contours add beauty to our Marin hills and dales.

Unfortunately, in recent years these lovely trees have been faced with a struggle for survival against various insect pests, prominent among which is the California Oak Leaf Moth. Our California Live Oaks have become pampered pets of their DDT conscious owners.

Never mind! They are far too precious a part of our botanical heritage to be permitted to perish. Remarkably, we are told the acorns of this particular oak are often delicious eating, not requiring the elaborate processing which the local aborigines usually gave other acorns to make them edible.

BUILD, DON'T DESTROY

An innocent man was killed when a woman leapt to her death from the seventh floor of a Los Angeles department store recently.

The man, a deaf mute, was selling flowers on the sidewalk when he was struck and fatally injured by the falling body.

Those bent on self-destruction little realize the harm they cause to complete strangers. Harmful actions are like evil ideas—once put into motion they often touch, defile and even destroy the innocent.

The opposite is true too. One who deliberately tries to put good ideas into circulation can help countless individuals whom he may never meet in this life.

To serve others for the sake of Christ and supply what is lacking in their lives, even means to build, not destroy.

when it involves personal inconvenience,

You will never become despondent if you seek in every way possible to bring peace and joy into as many lives as you can reach during a lifetime.

"With all humility and mildness, with patience, supporting one another in charity." (Ephesians 4:1,2)

Allow me, O divine Savior, to be an instrument of Your faith, hope and charity.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

It's Self-Made Man Who's Most Adept At Spoiling His Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Socrates, reputed the wisest man of antiquity, was given a hemlock cup for corrupting the youth of Athens.

Yet all he did was ask them questions designed to help them think for themselves.

In every period of history someone is accused of leading the young folks astray by giving them false ideas. Who today should be handed the lethal cup of hemlock?

Who is spoiling the present younger generation? That is, if we go along with the always popular generalization that the current crop of youngsters is the brattiest, the most irresponsible bunch of smart alecs ever to sorrow and sully a hopeful time.

If anything is spoiling the younger generation today it is the generation that preceded it — our own. If anything is setting them a bad example, it is us. If they are lax, it is because we have been lax with them.

The biggest culprits are probably middle-class parents, by far the largest class in America. The poor don't have the money to spoil their young; the rich, by and large, can afford to — but usually don't. Children born to wealth generally learn its value young.

It's the self-made man who started from nothing and struggled his way up to a $10,000-to-$15,000 a year salary who sometimes seems most adept at spoiling his own children.

Recently we dined at the home of such a man. During the meal he reminisced about how much tougher life was when he was a boy.

"YEAH, POPSY," jeered his 18-year-old son. "Tell us again how you used to have to swim three miles each way to school every day."

Later, when we were alone, the father remarked rather wryly on his son's lack of appreciation.

"I had to quit college after two years to help out my family," he said. "But my son has never had to work a day in his life. I give him a good allowance, he has his own car. I couldn't afford to join a fraternity. He belongs to the best one on his campus.

"BUT WITH all his advantages, he isn't paying any attention to his studies. I'm afraid he's going to flunk out. And that'll break his mother's heart."

Asked why he didn't make his son earn at least part of his way, he said: "Well, I want life for him to be easier than it was for me. I think I missed a lot by having to work too hard, too young."

Make Speed Limit Lower

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I would like to express my view on the newly proposed speed limit of 65 miles per hour. To me it seems that you can not open your newspaper or any other without a bloody headline telling of another's misfortunate death.

If our speed limit exceeds 55 miles per hour, teen-agers will not need dragstrips. We will be inviting tragic deaths and encouraging teen-agers to race their cars if we do not take it upon ourselves to lower the limit.

San Rafael Needs Swimming Pool

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Many times during the warm summer days, our family has wished to go swimming or upon a picnic, but didn't wish to travel outside the San Rafael area.

At the present time there is available to the residents only the San Rafael High School swimming pool.

Although the price is low, the pool is always overcrowded and it's almost always impossible to swim more than two strokes without bumping into someone. Also there are no picnic grounds available.

It seems to me that it would be a very worthwhile project to build for the city a recreation area including a public swimming pool perhaps somewhere near Alberts Field. A small fee could be charged. This fee would provide the money to maintain the pool and the grounds.

Although this would appear to be an expensive project, the City of San Rafael would benefit in many ways. People would remain in the city rather than going elsewhere for recreation and spend their money in San Rafael. Also San Rafael would be more attractive to people who are looking for a place to live in Marin County.

About The Woman With Broken Hip

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In the past three or four weeks there has been discussion regarding a patient at Ross General Hospital and implications that the County of Marin or the county physician per se has not taken care of a patient and she was allowed to remain in the hospital for seven days with no one taking care of her.

Twice this has been explained and aired before the Board of Supervisors and the article written up in the Independent-Journal with an implication that the county was derelict of its duty. In the sake of fairness I would like to reiterate the basic facts involved in this case.

The patient was admitted to Ross Hospital by a private doctor; 24 hours after admission, the private doctor called questioning the Welfare Department as to how he might get paid for taking care of this patient. When he found there was no way he might be paid, he called up the county physician's office saying he was turning the case over to the county.

He was informed by the county physician that the county had no liability in this case as the patient had sufficient insurance to pay for her hospitalization. This patient remained in Ross Hospital and on three or four different occasions the private doctor was told that the county had not entered into the case. He was told by the county physician's office, he was told by the Welfare Department, he was also told by the county physician who took care of the patients at Ross Hospital.

About seven days after the patient had been in the hospital, the son-in-law phoned me after he was requested to do so by the supervisor in his district. The situation was explained to the son-in-law and he was advised that if he would release the private doctor from the case, I would send an orthopedist down to the hospital to meet with the family.

This was done, the son-in-law released the private doctor, a local orthopedist who was not in the employ of the county was sent to Ross Hospital and met with the family and was asked to nail the broken hip of the patient.

This specialists' report said in this particular instance the fact that the patient had remained in the hospital five to seven days prior to surgery was of advantage to her rather than a disadvantage, because of her age and seriousness of condition. The hip was nailed by the private orthopedist and the patient was discharged from the hospital about seven days later.

The articles have always implied that the patient died. This is true, the patient did die, but she died two or three months later in the same hospital after readmission for a ruptured appendix. The death had nothing to do with the initial broken hip.

An opinion from the county counsel states the county physician has no liability until such time as the patient is accepted by the county doctor or the county physician's office. The private doctor is liable for the case until such time as he has been discharged or turned it over to another physician.

The outcome is the county has been criticized in a case where they were not actually involved with the patient at all and I hope this letter will help clarify the misquotes that appeared in the Independent-Journal twice.

China Reports Were Enlightening

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The articles on China by Dr. Chansekhar recently published in the Independent-Journal surely were enlightening. Never in the short story of our little globe, with its rising and falling of nations, have such multitudes been on such a unified march.

In this Christian country we may sing: Onward Christian Soldier — Like a mighty army moves — H—'s foundations quiver — We are not divided, one body are we — Satan's host does flee.

What can we say concerning these utterances?

In the Nation of February 25th, 1957 we read: "The dragon is awake. The dragon is awake! Awake! He breathes fire. Will he be unmanageable? He is dangerously vital, vigorous, energetic, bursting out at the seams."

Will there be room for all of us? Or who will do away with whom?

Can we learn to live together?

Toll Takers Have Problems Too; Be Sure To Sell Your Car's Pink Slip

Plenty of motorists crossing the Richmond - San Rafael Bridge have been known to mutter unkind words about the 75 cent tool. But consider the plight of the toll collectors.

One day last week a rather delapidated car stood at the toll station while the toll collector in his glassed-in box appeared to be busily doing something.

The line of cars lengthened and people began to wonder if this was a hold-up or some other dire event. The old car finally sputtered up the incline to Richmond.

Explanation of the delay? The toll collector was counting one dime and 65 pennies. This could never happen on a bridge with a 25-cent toll.

SPEAKING OF cars, it came as a sad shock to Robert W. Edison to learn that there is a sheet of paper called a "pink slip" involved in owning a car. Edison is a 30-year-old Sausalito artist.

Although he transferred his car and the monthly payments on it to another person, he never went to the loan company (legal owner of the car) to get the registered ownership changed from his name.

Edison went blithely off to Mexico on a trip and his car meanwhile began collecting parking tickets in San Francisco.

The fines totalled $145 but Edison, much wiser in the ways of buying cars after a session in San Francisco Traffic Court, got off with a reduced fine of $40.

A SEARCH of anti-loitering ordinances in Marin's nine incorporated towns turned up the most archaic one in the town of Ross.

Police Chief Joseph Regoni said the town's curfew ordinance dates back to the days when a bell was rung at 9 o'clock and all the children were supposed to be in bed.

For all practical purposes, the ordinance is archaic and unenforceable. But it sounds delightfully typical of Ross.

ROSS SCHOOL'S benevolent P-TA this Spring for the first time will give out block letters for outstanding scholars. A small torch attached to a white "R" and mounted on a blue background will show that the letter is for an honor roll pupil.

The school will still have athletic awards, a poetry contest, art awards, and a dictionary for the top scholar, all donated by the proud P-TA.

NIXON IS CHAIRMAN

Job Discrimination Unit Blacks Out News

WASHINGTON (CQ) — A federal antidiscrimination committee headed by Vice President Richard M. Nixon has refused to make public the size of its budget or the results of its surveys on the extent of job discrimination by government contractors.

The news blackout came amid reports of increasing Southern opposition to the President's recent proposal that Congress give the committee, which now operates under executive order, legislative authority to continue and broaden its activities.

A Congressional Quarterly reporter asked about the budget of the President's Committee of government contracts and the results of its so-called "compliance surveys" during interviews with members of its professional staff.

THEIR DECISION to refuse the information was appealed to Nixon's office, and it was confirmed there.

Nixon has been chairman of the committee since it was set up by executive order in August, 1953. Its job is to get government contractors to uphold the clause in their contracts forbidding job discrimination.

Actually, the committee has no direct power to enforce the antidiscrimination clause. It carries on a campaign of education and persuasion with employers, unions and workers.

It also receives complaints of violations of the antidiscrimination clause and passes them on to the government contracting agency. The committee later reviews the action of the government agency on the complaint and may suggest other steps to remedy the situation.

NIXON'S GROUP in 1957 asked government agencies to start annual surveys of the employment practices of a carefully-selected list of 500 plants owned by big Government contractors in cities with heavy Negro populations.

The survey was not limited to plants where job discrimination complaints had been filed, because the committee wanted to get a fair cross-section of industrial employment practices as a measure of the year-to-year progress of its own campaign against discrimination.

A scattering of results from the first survey was published in the committee's 1958 report to the President. But committee officials and Nixon's office refused to let Congressional Quarterly see the full results of the 1957 and 1958 surveys.

A spokesman said the committee regarded the survey findings as "matters for the internal use of the committee and not for publication."

AS FOR THE SIZE of its budget, the spokesman said it had not been made public in the past and "no useful purpose would be served by reversing that precedent."

The executive order under which the committee is now operating says its budget should be drawn from funds appropriated to the regular agencies — like the Defense Department — whose contract officers get help from the committee on handling discrimination matters.

The President last month asked Congress, as part of his civil rights program, to provide legislative authority for the work of the committee. That would give it a direct appropriation each year.

The bill recommended by the President would also broaden the committee's authority to handle complaints, make surveys and conduct hearings on job discrimination But power to enforce the anti-discrimination clause in government contracts would still remain with the department of government that signed the contract.

MAIL OR BRING ENTIRE SHEET TO INDEPENDENT-JOURNAL — San Rafael

I-J EDITORS want to know what features readers like best. We want YOUR opinion, and as an inducement to you to spend a little time answering our questions, we offer you a free chance on a $100 cash prize. Another benefit: Your opinion can help us improve the paper, which we are constantly striving to do.

CONTEST RULES

1. Study the questions below, and the comic strips and cartoons illustrated. Indicate what you read or do not read by checking the proper square for each feature. Answers have no bearing whatever on the prize award, but every feature must be checked in order to qualify your entry in the prize contest.

2. When you have checked your reading habit for each feature, then fill in your estimate of what the total paid circulation of the daily Independent-Journal will be on Wednesday, March 11, 1959. This figure varies from day to day—nobody knows what it will be, even at the I-J. Nearly 100% of the 25,000-plus I-J circulation is home delivered, but sales are also made daily at newsstands, stores, and from street stands.

3. The estimate nearest to the correct figure will be the winner. If more than one person sends in the winning number, the $100 prize will be divided equally. Only one award given per family.

4. Members of the I-J staff, employees of this newspaper, and their families are not eligible for the cash prize.

5. Mail or bring this COMPLETE PAGE to the Independent-Journal. If mailed, entry must be postmarked not later than Monday, March 9, 1959. It may be delivered to the I-J not later than 5:30 p.m. on Monday, March 9, 1959.

6. Announcement of the winner will be made in the Independent-Journal of Saturday, March 14, 1959, or as soon thereafter as possible.

CLUES TO HELP YOU WIN

The I-J's average daily net paid circulation for 3 months ending March 31, 1955, was 18,945. For 1956 this figure was 20,916 . . . in 1957, 22,926; and for 1958 it was 24,680. These were averages, of course—the count varied from day to day.

You can take it from there. Good luck!

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Careless passing is one of the greatest causes of highway accidents.

It is impossible to see beyond a hillcrest or a curve, so you can never safely cross into the other lane at these points.

Naturally, says the Chicago Motor Club, it is irritating to follow slow-moving traffic near the crest of a hill. But the good driver will accept the delay rather than risk an accident. In the illustration, the impatient driver is about to pay for his carelessness.

Meeting Set On Lagunitas School Tax

Reasons why trustees of the Lagunitas Elementary School District have recommended a 25-cent tax increase for next year will be explained at a public meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Lagunitas School, it was announced today by Mrs. John R. Verzi, chairman of the San Geronimo Valley Citizens Committee for Education.

Mrs. Winifred S. Frederick, and possibly other trustees will attend the meeting, she said.

A special tax election has been scheduled for March 31.

If the tax increase to $2 is denied, the present $1.75 rate will automatically revert to the 90-cent maximum set by the State Education Code, said Mrs. Frederick.

"We're operating within a very tight budget. If enrollment should go high enough to require hiring just one more teacher," she said, "we would be unable to operate with even the $2 rate."

San Rafael Employees Ask Insurance Setup

San Rafael city employees are asking the city to give them a group insurance program to protect them on accidental death, injury or illness.

Caught without advance warning Monday night, the city council referred the request back to the employees, asking for more information on such things as cost to the taxpayers.

City Manager Dan E. Andersen presented the proposal to the city council on behalf of the employees association, headed by president Walter Mik.

The city manager presented a list of specifications outlining the insurance benefits sought, and asked the council to call for bids to see how much the insurance program would cost.

Andersen said the specifications were drawn up with the help of a representative from Minto and Wilkie insurance agency.

The proposed specifications indicate an estimated premium of $5.50 per month per employee for $5,000 life insurance. For 100 employees, this alone would cost $6,600 per year. No cost estimates are given for other benefits such as hospitalization, surgery and medical care.

Andersen said the employees hoped for calling of bids immediately so bids could be opened next month and a decision reached by the council before budget time.

But city fathers decided that calling bids would put the city in the position of having approved in principle the group insurance plan. They turned the program back to the employees and told them to call for bids themselves, then present the entire program with cost figures, indicating how much of the cost the city would pay.

The city manager said the employees are thinking in terms of asking the city to pay for the employees' insurance, and the employees themselves would pay for covering their dependents.

Hinting that a request for salary raises may still be coming, the city manager pointed out that the request for group insurance does not guarantee they won't ask for more money.

The first trans-Atlantic broadcast was made in 1925.

Marin May Get More Tidelands

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Marin County would get more tidelands in Richardson Bay than the county had asked for through a bill which has won approval of the Assembly Manufacturing, Mining and Oil Committee.

Marin Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister's bill, which had been held up a week ago pending filing of detailed description of the tidelands involved, won a committee "do pass" recommendation and moves to the Assembly floor.

McCollister said the description approved includes all state tidelands in Richardson Bay, whether filled or unfilled, as well as those reserved for highway purposes. The county had not asked for the latter area. McCollister said with the highway lands in county hands, Marin would have a closer control over their use.

Involved in the measure are virtually all tidelands in Richardson Bay not privately owned except those in Sausalito city limits. Some are within Belvedere's city limits.

An earlier bill granting to Mill Valley the state tidelands in the vicinity of the city's proposed small craft harbor has already been approved by the Assembly and is now in a Senate committee.

Union Sees Time Right For Raises

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The AFL-CIO says that business conditions appear to provide a favorable climate for unions to obtain wage increases this year.

The labor federation said yesterday unions should expect to win wage increases of 11 to 15 cents an hour or more. The estimate was made in the current issue of the collective bargaining report issued by the labor federation's research department.

Dinner Slated Before Audubon Society Session

A get-acquainted dinner will precede the Marin Audubon Society's meeting tomorrow evening when Dr. L. Martin Griffin of Kentfield will show color slides and motion pictures of a 100-mile trip by raft down the Rogue River in Oregon.

The program will begin at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Room 40 of the College of Marin chemistry building in Kentfield. The no-host dinner preceding it at Woodlands Restaurant, Kentfield, will start at 6:30 p.m.

On Saturday the Marin Audubon Society's monthly field trip will begin at 9 a.m. at the entrance to Samuel P. Taylor State Park.

GROUP LEADERS

The group will be led by Stan Picher of Sausalito assisted by Mrs. William Allison of Taylor State Park.

The field trip and Friday night meeting are open to anyone interested.

A coming event of interest to Marin conservationists is the March 17 visit to the Rose Verrall Wild Life Sanctuary by Carl W. Buchheister, president-elect of the National Audubon Society, who will succeed John Baker at the end of 1959.

Audubon members are invited to take along a picnic lunch to be eaten at the Dickey Memorial House during Buchheister's visit on March 17 from 10 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

BIENNIAL CONFERENCE

The Audubon Biennial Conference will meet at Asilomar State Park, March 21-24. Roger Lory Peterson, author, naturalist and photographer, will speak at the dinner meeting of March 22 and show his color film of "Flamingos on Four Continents." Reservations may be made with the National Audubon office at 2426 Bancroft way, Berkeley.

The Audubon Camp of California will hold five two-week sessions from June 21 through Aug. 29. The camp is located at Norden in the High Sierra near Donner Pass and Lake Tahoe.

The camp offers the opportunity to study plants, wildlife, rocks and soils under the leadership of expert naturalists. Application may be made to the Berkeley Audubon office.

Mrs. B. K. Dunshee of Ross, conservation chairman of the Marin Conservation League and of the Marin Audubon Society, plans to provide funds for three camp scholarships. She requests that contributions be sent to her at Box 513, Ross. Fee for a two-week session is $105.

SCIENCE CAN BE FUN — Ten handsome gifts—such as this book on "Mammals of Lake Tahoe"—are presented each week to boys and girls who write in a 25-word sentence about what they learned on the show and who correctly guess the "Mystery Object." Executive producer of the series, Benjamin Draper of Mill Valley, conducts this section of the program.

Good Science Is Fun, Says TV Producer

Thousands of boys and girls try every week to guess the mystery object on KRON-TV's "Explorers of Tomorrow," Sundays at 1 p.m.

Demonstrating that good science is also good fun is the program's executive producer, Benjamin Draper of Mill Valley, who heads the TV department of the California Academy of Sciences.

Every Sunday the show features a mystery object guessing game, an article deriving from some aspect of science. Clues, in jingle form are read.

To enter the contest, the children send letters or postcards giving their names, addresses, ages, grade in school, guess about the mystery object, and add 25 words about what they learned on the show.

It is no mystery to the show's executive producer that good science is good "show biz." Draper has been accoladed by Variety as "one of the country's top producers of quality television." He has won many awards as a producer and a writer. He has been executive producer of "Science in Action" program since its inception in 1950.

Perry Como Signs 'Biggest' TV Contract

NEW YORK (AP)—Perry Como has signed a 25-million-dollar television contract with Kraft Foods, said to be the largest individual deal in TV history, his agent said today.

The announcement came in a telegram from Harry Sobol, personal press representative of Como.

Sobol said the amount involved is for 104 weeks, and includes programming, time and all costs of production, including guest stars.

Those participating in the contract signing, Sobol said, were: Robert Kintner, president of the National Broadcasting Co.; J. C. Loftis, president of Kraft Foods; Larry Kanaga, president of General Artists Corp., Como's booking agency; Jack J. Katz, Como's attorney; and Dan Seymour, vice president of J. Walter Thompson Advertising Agency.

Sobol said all shows, including summer replacements, will be produced by Como's producing firm, Roncom Productions.

Como will continue for his present sponsors until June 6. Roncom will produce the summer replacement for these sponsors and also the summer replacement for Kraft for the Milton Berle show.

Como's premiere for Kraft will be Sept. 30, 1959. The tentative title of the show is "Kraft Music Hall Presents Perry Como."

CLASSROOM TV HAS DRAWBACK, KIDS DECIDE

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Maybe 10-year-old youngsters like those commercials in the middle.

Fifth-grade pupils in a Kansas City school were asked to write their comments on a daily 30-minute educational television program.

The kids loved the TV, but they had this complaint:

"Thirty minutes is too long to sit still."

A school official said the programs may be cut to 15 minutes next year.

Tomales High Band To Enter Contest

Tomales High School's marching band will be entered in the University of California band competition at Davis on April 18, the school announced today.

Four Tomales majorettes will compete in a Bay Area competition Saturday at San Francisco State College. They are Betty and Barbara Horick and Paula Sanderson of Point Reyes Station and Christine Valena of Salmon Creek.

'Martha' Next Offering Of Mill Valley Opera

The opera "Martha" by Friedrich Von Flotow will be the next production of the Mill Valley Light Opera Company, president Cary Smith announced today.

It will be given in a somewhat shortened version that has been translated from the original German into up-to-date English within the last five years.

"This will be the most ambitious and difficult production we have attempted," Smith said, "since there are 12 principal roles and a chorus of 50 in the opera."

Tentative presentation dates of May 21, 22, 23, 29 and 30 and June 5 and 6 have been selected.

Auditions for principal roles and chorus will be held next Monday and Tuesday from 7:30 to 11 p.m. in Olney Hall at College of Marin.

Stage director will be Paul Best of San Rafael, who has studied in Europe and sung and directed with the Municipal Theater in Basel, Switzerland. He has also played many roles in summer stock, musical comedy and light opera and has appeared on Broadway.

David Reed, choir director of the Mill Valley Community Church, will direct the chorus, and Thompson Chesnut of the College of Marin will again conduct the orchestra.

2 Experts Will Discuss Berlin Crisis On KQED

An American news specialist on Germany and a veteran foreign correspondent agree that while "any number of responsible people will tell you that there is a danger of war in the Berlin situation," during the past months there has been "little reflection of this in the news and attitude of the American people."

Clifton Daniel, assistant to the managing editor of the New York Times, adds: "There is a discrepancy somewhere. Perhaps a vital one." Daniel will appear with author and political scientist James P. Warburg on the telecast, "The Press and The People," a weekly review of American journalism, at 9 o'clock tonight on KQED (Channel 9). This week's program marks the first of two devoted to the critical situation in Berlin.

Although official Weather Bureau records date back only 70 years, precipitation figures were recorded near Harvard College as long ago as 1715 and barometric readings were documented in Boston in 1725 and 1726.
